LOS ANGELES, Sept. 2.—One man was killed and fifteen other persons were seriously injured, several of them possibly fatally, when a sightseeing automobile was struck and demolished by a Pacific Electric Railway construction car at Sawtelle, near here today.

The dead:

R. L. WILLIAMS, aged tourist, of Salt Lake City.

Among the seriously wounded were:

THEODORA SCHULZ, 1828 Curtis street, Berkeley.

HELEN STEVENS, Los Angeles, may die.

JAMES STRONG, Los Angeles.

MRS. J. C. BURNETT, Los Angeles.

MRS. ANNA M. OLSON, Los Angeles.

BLANCHE BARKER, Los Angeles.

The injured were taken to the hospital of the National Soldiers' Home at Sawtelle, where physicians said there was little hope of saving the lives of some of them.

Reports received at the offices of the Pacific Electric Railway here stated the automobile was traveling at 25 miles an hour and the construction car at 15 miles.

The car crew declared the automobile crossed the tracks from a roadway obscured by a hedge, and that when it was seen, it was too late to stop the car, although its speed was considerably slackened by the use of air brakes.

The Los Angeles Sightseeing Automobile Company, the owner of the auto, said it contained at least twenty passengers.

Miss Schultz is the daughter of Mrs. M. Schultz of 1828 Curtiss street, Berkeley. She was spending her vacation in Los Angeles, according to her parents, late today.

Johnston Beats Kumagae; Tilden Shows Fine Form

San Francisco Player's Hard Smashes Are Too Much for Japanese.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 2.—William M. Johnston of San Francisco, defeated Ichiya Kumagae of Japan, three straight sets in the first of the Davis Cup challenge matches here this afternoon. The scores were 6-2, 6-4, 6-2.

Johnston completely outclassed Kumagae throughout the entire match, and although he was guilty of some streaky tennis, had no difficulty in winning points when needed. His service driving and placement put Kumagae on the defensive from the very start and although the latter made several determined stands and tried desperately to turn the tide of defeat, his bursts of speed resulted in numerous errors which helped to make Johnston's point winning easier. Ten thousand people saw the match.

Tilden and Shimidzu took the court as soon as the Johnston-Kumagae match was completed.

Shimidzu won the first set, 7-5.

Shimidzu won the second set, 6-4.

Tilden won the third set, 7-5.

Tilden won the fourth set, 6 games to 2.

WIDOW WHO SHOT POSTEL IS ARRAIGNED

Mrs. D'Agostini, Who Confessed to Slaying Alameda Business Man, in Court; Insanity May Be Defense

Accused Spends Time in the Courtroom Looking Into Mirror; Pale and Nervous, She Interrupts the Hearing

Arraigned before Police Judge L. R. Weinmann, in Alameda today, Mrs. Jesusista D'Agostini was formally charged with the murder of Arnold Postel, Alameda business man, politician and Chamber of Commerce member, who, according to her own confession, she shot and killed in the doorway of his furniture store, 1330 Park street, that city, Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. D'Agostini was represented by Ernest B. Spagnoli, a San Francisco attorney, who directed the defense of Edmund "Spud" Murphy during the trial of the Howard street gangsters.

Judge Weinmann temporarily refused a request made by the woman's attorney that she be released on bail. The court declared that due to the fact that no representative of the district attorney's office was at the hearing, he would not be justified in stipulating bail, but that later, if the district attorney had no objection, he would be only too glad to fix bonds for the woman's release.

WOMAN USES MIRROR DURING PROCEEDINGS.

Apparently much more concerned over her personal appearance than the seriousness of the charge against her Mrs. D'Agostini sat through the proceedings continually looking at herself in a little mirror which she carried in her handbag, and prinking her hair. She was dressed in deep mourning. Time after time, until Weinmann found it necessary to complain to her attorney, the accused woman interrupted the proceedings with hysterical outbursts. Whenever the judge, in reading the complaint, used her name, she interrupted, endeavoring to correct his pronunciation of her first name, Jesusista.

Finally Judge Weinmann appealed to Spagnoli to keep his client silent.

When the judge reached the conclusion of the complaint, charging her with murder, Mrs. D'Agostini broke in excitedly:

"One man I killed by accident, the other I killed on purpose," in a flow of mixed English and Spanish.

WORN AND NERVOUS, PALE AND TIRED.

The woman looked pale and very tired when she entered the courtroom for the arraignment. She was seated in a chair near the judge, and when not viewing herself in her small mirror, nervously clenched and unclenched her hands in her lap. At times her shoulders twitched spasmodically, and court officers expected her to break down, but each time she rallied and pulled herself together. Her main worry, it seems, was that some spectator in the courtroom would find something to criticize about her clothing or appearance. She was in charge of Policewoman Angeline Vaughn of Alameda.

Immediately after the arraignment Mrs. D'Agostini was taken to the coroner's request, where she waited in an adjoining room until the proceedings were completed. She did not testify. The inquest was held before Coroner Miller in the parlors of Smiley and Gallagher, deputies, from where the funeral services for Postel were conducted later in the day.

TRAGEDY TOLD BY WITNESSES.

Dr. E. V. Tiffany, autopsy surgeon, stated that death had been caused by a gunshot wound through the heart. The other witnesses who testified to seeing Mrs. D'Agostini rush past and into the Postel building, where the shooting occurred and who heard the shots, were W. R. Calcutt, who is owner of an adjoining hardware store; Walter Seagren, employed by Postel, and Policeman Charles Keyes. Lieutenant George Daly of the police department introduced a transcript of the confession of the murder, which he obtained from the woman immediately following the shooting.

The date for the preliminary examination of the accused woman was set by Judge Weinmann for Thursday, September 13, at 9 o'clock, when it is expected that Mrs. D'Agostini, through her attorney, will enter her plea.

HEARTY MEAL EATEN IN JAIL.

Mrs. D'Agostini left the county jail in Oakland this morning for the hearing at 8:45 o'clock, after a hearty breakfast of boiled eggs, toast and coffee. She told the matron, Hattie White, that she wanted to be strong to face the ordeal. She seemed a good deal calmer than yesterday morning, after she had slept very little the night before, and had a good night's rest.

"This certainly was a good breakfast," she told the matron, as she left her cell for the waiting automobile to take her to Alameda. She appeared much more cheerful than yesterday. "What are we going to have for dinner?"

Assistant District Attorney Frank M. Shay will direct the prosecution of the woman when she is brought to trial in Alameda county superior court, today declared that he was not inclined to put much faith in the sanity theory advanced by Alameda police as the reason for the shooting. Shay said that he did not believe the woman was insane and declared that she is one of the cleverest women ever to come in contact with his office.

"I believe Mrs. D'Agostini was trying to break up the Postel home," said Shay, "and went there on the afternoon of the shooting to ask Postel to accompany her to Mexico. When he refused she shot him in cold blood."

Demonstrations Made at London By Unemployed

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, Sept. 2.—Demonstrations in which many thousands of London's unemployed participated occurred last night and marked the culminating point of the unrest among the idle which has prevailed here during the past fortnight. Several members of the borough council of Poplar, a section of London, were arrested and lodged in Brixton prison for refusing to raise the tax rates in accordance with an order from the London County council. The arrest of the remainder of the council members, some of them of women, was expected today.

The Woolwich Board of Guardians was asked by a deputation of demonstrators to pay 25 shillings a week to each unemployed man and wife, with an additional dole of eight shillings for each child. Demand was also made that rents should not be collected from men out of work.

Several men who had spent Wednesday night in a workhouse in Hackney refused to leave in the morning. They were arrested and later sentenced to a week's imprisonment.

A royal tax commission may be created for the equalization of rates for the relief of the poor.

Uncle Sam Needs Eight Billions to Meet Obligations

Senate Finance Committee Says Another Huge Loan Is Necessary.

BY UNITED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The national debt increased $151,092,658 since August 1, the treasury department announced today. The gross debt now stands at $23,922,329,666, the statement said.

By L. C. MARTIN,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The government shortly will be forced to ask the American people to subscribe to a huge loan of from $7,500,000,000 to $8,000,000,000, members of the Senate finance committee declared today.

This sum will be required by 1923 to pay back to American citizens the money they have already loaned Uncle Sam and for which they hold Victory notes, war saving stamps and short-time certificates of indebtedness. These obligations must be paid in cash and to obtain this huge sum a new loan must be floated.

Appeals probably will be made to these bondholders to exchange their holdings for the new bond.

In other words, according to Senators, the government finds itself unable to pay off any of this debt and must renew it for a further term of years.

"There is absolutely no way around this," said Senator Smoot of Utah today.

When it became apparent that domestic revenues would not provide sinking funds to meet the 1923 debts, officials sought some way of collecting from Europe enough of the $11,000,000,000 owed the United States to help out. The treasury still hopes that it will be possible. It is merely a hope, however.

Two Hundred Miners Killed In Battle in West Virginia; Federal Troops Are on Way

MARTIAL LAW IN MINE ZONE IS POSTPONED

President and Cabinet Take No Action Pending Word of Manner in Which Federal Troops Are Received in Zone

Despatch of Troops Ordered After General Reports All Miners Have Ignored Harding's Command to Disperse

BY UNITED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—An immediate proclamation of martial law in the mine war area of West Virginia will not be made here, Harding's cabinet decided today.

Developments following the arrival of federal troops on the scene of hostilities will be awaited before promulgation of the martial law proclamation, it was indicated today.

Leaving the White House, Secretary of War Weeks said that he wanted to get further details from General Bandholtz about the situation in the coal fields before deciding whether it would be necessary to resort to martial law.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Orders for the immediate entrainment of troops for the West Virginia coal strike zone were issued early today by Major General Harbord, assistant chief of staff.

Action was postponed, however, on the question of declaring martial law, pending conferences between Secretary Weeks and other government officials with President Harding.

The proclamation has been signed and requires only issuance to become effective.

The orders were issued as the result of a telegram from Brigadier General Bandholtz, who was sent by Secretary Weeks to report on the situation and particularly upon whether the strikers would accede to President Harding's command that they disperse. General Bandholtz at midnight last night recommended that troops be sent "at once."

The troops which will move immediately are the Twenty-sixth and Sixteenth infantry at Camp Dix, New Jersey, and the Nineteenth infantry at Camp Sherman, Ohio. Others can be rushed to the scene, if necessary, from Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., and Camp Knox, near Louisville, Ky. General Bandholtz will assume command of the forces upon their arrival. He formerly commanded the Philippine constabulary and was provost marshal general of the A. E. F. in France.

All war department arrangements were said to be complete for promulgating martial law as soon as troops now on the way arrive in the disturbed area. Secretary of War Weeks, arriving early at his office, asked that all communications received during the night be placed before him.

Developments in Mine War Crisis in West Virginia

DEVELOPMENTS in the West Virginia mine war situation today were:

Federal troops were despatched from four camps to the Boone-Logan county line after government observers reported to Secretary of War Weeks that the miners' army had ignored President Harding's order to disperse.

The President and his cabinet in special session considered the advisability of declaring a state of martial law to exist in the war-stricken area. Action was deferred pending the arrival of United States troops on the scene.

The governor of West Virginia issued a proclamation declaring his abdication in favor of the government military forces.

Strife was renewed by the miners along a twenty-mile front. The defenders were holding them in check.

The miners expressed their intention of quitting when the federal troops arrive.

Big War Graft Offenders May Go Scott Free

Statute of Limitations Likely to Save Many From Prosecution.

By W. H. ATKINS,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—War grafters who are alleged to have defrauded the government out of hundreds of millions today had paved the way for a clean getaway. All of the alleged grafters will escape criminal prosecution unless congress quickly acts and raises the statute of limitations from three to six years, it was stated at the department of justice. These include war contract fraud cases.

Today legal experts were sifting the records bearing upon the guilt of some of the biggest offenders, trying to establish that "overt acts" were committed less than three years ago. Those who were to become defendants in criminal actions now have outwitted the government with a plea that their alleged offenses were committed more than three years ago and are not now subject to any actions which the government might bring under the immunity which the government's tardiness has given them.

Attorney General Daugherty's next step will be a special plea for speedy action by congress to pass the bill of Senator New of Indiana, making it impossible for a defendant to escape liability for his acts, within six years after their commission.

Such action by congress, however, will only serve to allow the government to go ahead in those cases now pending which may be affected later on by the statute of limitations. Whatever the action taken, congress cannot make its action retroactive, to cover those cases of defendants who are now virtually freed from criminal prosecution by the government.

The department of justice today did not reveal the number of defendants who have worked this ruse.

Japanese to Fight Crop Lease Ruling

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—An attempt to overturn the recent ruling of Attorney General U. S. Webb that crop contract leasing is in violation of the anti-alien land law will be made by Japanese farmers of California, it was said today by Y. Yahanda, secretary of the Japanese Agricultural Association of California. His statement followed a conference of twenty leading Japanese ranchers at which it was decided to engage counsel and start legal action.

"The Japanese hold that so long as their leases deal with crops and they are not given an option as to what shall be planted on the land for which they contract, they are not violating even the spirit of the alien land act," Yahanda said.

'SOUND-PROOF' HOTEL ROOMS ARE POPULAR

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Soundproof rooms for nervous artists are the latest in New York hotel service. One manager has installed one on the top floor of his hotel for the use of artist guests and the innovation has become so popular that reservations for its use have to be made several days in advance.

Singers, composers and actors and an occasional versifier have found there the noiseless atmosphere so stimulating to the artistic imagination. High C or any other soaring note may be reached for by the singer without fear that a whirring pneumatic riveter next door will break in and spoil the performance.

Not the merest shadow of a sound can sneak in to play the mischief when the creative artist is engaged in cultivating the muse. Nerves jangled by the clamor and strain of city life are soothed by silence and patrons of the soundproof room say they don't see how they ever endured noise before.

There are no windows in the room and the door is of the ice box type. The room is ventilated by means of special devices, which noiselessly let in fresh air and draw out the used air in the same manner.

Heslin. E. J. Emmons, Bakersfield attorney, is expected Sunday, and until that time plans for the defense are being held in abeyance. It is expected that another attempt to secure Hightower's freedom on a writ of habeas corpus will be made, and that a review of the evidence by a higher court will thus be sought.

Hightower now knows all of the evidence against him. He has been allowed to read the papers, and has talked over the case with Attorneys William Herron and Alfred Mansfield.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2. — Mrs. Peggy True Curtis, the "dream girl" of William Hightower's letters, will be arrested on a charge of vagrancy if she does not leave Redwood City. the authorities there stated today. Mrs. Curtis has been in Redwood City for several days and has made repeated attempts to see Hightower.

Honor Is Accorded After Veteran's Death

BERKELEY, Sept. 2. — Honors from the government which he served as a captain of engineers in the world war came too late for Louis Beauman, well known Berkeleyan. On the day of Beauman's funeral this week word came from Washington that he had been appointed commissioner of railroads in Alaska. Beauman lived at 1609 Rose street. He was 52 years old, and for many years was associated with the Southern Pacific Company. His only son, Lieutanant Louis Beauman, died in an aviation accident in the war and in his honor was named Beauman Post, American Legion, in Thousand Oaks.

Woman Is Urged As Assistant Attorney

Mrs. Suzanne Vervin Bolles, attorney of San Francisco, is being urged for the position of assistant United States attorney by friends who are presenting her claims contingent on the refusal of the post by Miss Gail Laughlin. Mrs. Bolles is president of the San Francisco Housewives' League and was a member of the California Federation ratification committee. Miss Laughlin was an aspirant for the place of assistant to Attorney-General Daugherty and it is said by many of her friends that it is doubtful if she would accept the assistant attorneyship in San Francisco. She is at present in Washington.

MEN OF FLEET ARE GUESTS OF HONOR AT CIVIC AFFAIRS

Ball in Auditorium for Sailors and Banquet for Officers Are Given.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—The naval ball and fete in the Civic Center last night was attended by about 20,000 persons, consisting chiefly of sailors from the ships of the Pacific fleet, now in San Francisco bay, and of San Francisco girls. The fete was arranged by officials of the city and county as an official welcome to the fleet. Street dancing was one of the features, as was music by bands inside the Exposition auditorium and in the square opposite the city hall. The guests of honor were Admiral and Mrs. Edward W. Eberle. Among the other guests were: Major General and Mrs. W. M. Wright, commandant of the Ninth Army Corps area; Major General Georget Barnett, United States Marine corps; Captain George W. Bower, commanding officer of the San Francisco naval reserve; Rear Admiral A. S. Halstead, commandant of the Twelfth Naval district, and John A. McGee, commander of C. C. Thomas Post, American Legion, navy post.

LUNCHEON IS GIVEN.

Officers of the fleet were guests of honor at a luncheon given jointly by the Commercial club and the Chamber of Commerce yesterday. President Wallace Alexander of the Chamber of Commerce presided, and the toastmaster was T. T. C. Gregory of the Commercial club. Admiral E. W. Eberle and Congressman Julius Kahn were the speakers.

Admiral Eberle spoke in favor of a large naval base in San Francisco harbor, as battleships are now forced to go up to Bremerton for major repairs. He pointed out, among other things, that unless Sears Rock, at the entrance to the harbor, is blasted away, it would be easy to block the channel. He also said that "the bay charts are covered with no-parking or keep-off-the-grass or forbidden anchorage signs."

PREPAREDNESS PLEA.

Congressman Kahn's talk was in the nature of a preparedness plea. He said that while 52 per cent of Japan's taxes is being spent for war, 92 per cent of every dollar of revenue is being spent by America paying for wars, past and future. He expressed the belief that a dependable fleet would be retained by the navy department.

Formal welcome of the commercial interests of San Francisco was extended by Alexander to the officers and men of the fleet. Following is a list of those present at the speakers' table:

Captain E. L. Bennett, Colonel T. Meyers, Captain R. H. Leigh, W. N. Moore, Captain C. W. Williams, M. H. Esberg, Captain W. H. Standley, Charles R. Bylth, Captain E. H. Campbell, W. H. Crocker, Captain E. T. Pollock, Frank B. Anderson, Major General W. M. Wright, Congressman Julius Kahn, Rear Admiral A. S. Halstead, C. C. Moore, Admiral W. R. Shoemaker, Toastmaster T. T. C. Gregory, Admiral E. W. Eberle, Chairman W. M. Alexander, Admiral B. F. Hutchison, General Hunter Liggett, Admiral J. S. McKean, Major General George Barnett, Captain H. J. Zeigemeier, C. H. Bentley, Captain P. Symington, C. M. Oddie, Captain J. R. P. Pringle, S. C. Irving, Captain E. S. Kellogg, James A. Bacigalupi, Captain George W. Bauer, Colonel Edmund Wittenmyer and Captain Like McNamee.

City Oficials View Auditorium Film Show

Members of the city council, together with the heads of various departments, viewed a preliminary showing of the "Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" at the auditorium theater last night and expressed themselves as satisfied with the performance.

The showing of this film is the first event in the campaign to popularize the auditorium theater, and last night was in the nature of a "house warming party." Commissioner Carter of the public works department expressed the hope that the citizens of Oakland will now make a more regular use of the auditorium and its theater, both for free public events and for commercial amusements.

"The Four Horsemen" is exhibited by private interests as one of the attractions which the city government has induced to go to the auditorium. The city gets a percentage of the receipts.

Plans For Widening Grove Street Ready

BERKELEY, Sept. 2.—A step which pledges the city council toward the widening of Grove street from Berkeley Way to Yolo street, was taken today when Howell Johnson, applicant for permission to build a store on the street was informed that he must erect the structure ten feet from the sidewalk line.

Grove street from Oakland out to Berkeley way is eighty feet wide, and thereafter narrows down to 60 feet. As there are two car tracks and heavy traffic there have been frequent complaints. The city plans to widen the street ten feet on either side, and has the plans all drawn for the work.

L. A. Man Shoots Two, Then Ends His Own Life

Father and Mother of Assailant's Wife Are in Hospital.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 2.—Oscar Scheidemantel, 25, an electrician, is dead; his mother-in-law, Mrs. Nellie Black, is in a hospital in a serious condition, and his father-in-law, Geo. Black, is suffering from a minor wound, as the result of a shooting which occurred in the Hollywood section early this morning, following an altercation between Scheidemantel and Black. According to the police, the trouble arose from the disappearance of Schedemantel's wife a week ago.

Black told the police that his son-in-law, who was driving an automobile truck, forced him to stop his machine on the road. Scheidemantel then demanded that he be told the whereabouts of his wife, who is reported to have left him several days ago. When Black replied that he did not know, Scheidemantel drew a revolver and fired into Black's machine, wounding Black in the arm, the same bullet penetrating Mrs Black above the abdomen.

Scheidemantel then turned the weapon on himself, dying a few minutes later at the receiving hospital.

Mrs. Scheidemantel is reported to be with friends at Lodi.

FEDERAL TROOPS RUSHED TO HALT MINERS' WARFARE

Regiments From Four Camps Are Sent Into West Virginia Fields.

WITH THE MINERS IN THE FIELD, Logan County (by courier to Madison, W Va.) Sept 2.—Messengers arriving at the miners' field headquarters here today with messages that federal troops were on their way were greeted with cheers from the embattled ranks.

Word of the government's action was rushed up to the firing line and spread through the hills from mouth to mouth. Everywhere it was taken as a signal to prepare to stop fighting.

LOGAN, W Va., Sept 2.—Aerial bombs were dropped by Logan defense airplanes early today.

The T N T bombs caused a hasty retreat of miners from the Hewitts Creek concentration camp, but no casualties were caused, according to the observers.

The bombs fell near houses occupied by the "red neck" army. Two planes were in action and four bombs were dropped. It is assumed here that no attempt was made to destroy houses or lives, but that the heavy explosive was used to warn the miners what would occur if they attempted to storm the Logan borders today.

The planes left Logan about daylight with four big bombs swinging underneath. They carried maps giving location of points headquarters desired to bomb for "moral effect."

By ROBT. STARR THORNBURGH, Special Correspondent International News Service.

LOGAN, W Va., Sept. 2.—A night of wildest terror has passed in Logan. The miners, swarming at many points on the 25-mile front, threatened hourly to smash through the lines. The defenders, reinforced by business and professional men from every section of the State, were thrown into the lines. They returned shot for shot with the miners.

The President's proclamation was nothing more than a "scrap of paper."

The miners sullenly rejected it and continued to drive additional men to the border. The Hewitts Creek concentration is the greatest in point of men but at other points on the border the miners are congregated this morning.

Miners working in the Logan field left the mines today to join the army of defense. The mines had been working practically 80 per cent. Only such coal as is necessary here will be produced. The workers have shouldered rifles and are being thrown into the lines to reinforce the exhausted defense army.

WITH MINERS ADDED DEFENSE HAS 3000.

The 1500 miners added to the defense brings the Loganite army to nearly 3000 men. The action of the miners is regarded as highly significant as to the feeling of workers in this field. It is declared at headquarters that there have been no desertions to the "red necks," as the attacking army is known, because of the red bandana handkerchiefs they wear around their arms.

After the miners had volunteered for defense service, Colonel William E. Eubank declared he would be able to hold his positions until the Federal troops arrive.

"I am pleased with the situation this morning," he said. "I have sufficient forces to maintain our positions until the United States troops get to Logan."

One reinforcement party from Welch arrived this morning. They are coal miners, who, headquarters say, receive nothing but food for their services. However, the Welch mine operators are paying the men, the same as though they were working in the mines.

AIRPLANES SENT OUT ON RECONNAISSANCE.

Squadrons of airplanes were despatched on a reconnaissance party at 8 o'clock. It was expected important information would be available on their return.

The word that Federal troops are coming was circulated widely along the Logan front this morning. The information was greeted with cheers.

The defense army stood with renewed determination on the receipt of this message. Everywhere it was declared the positions would be held until the arrival of the troops.

In Logan courthouse an intense feeling of relief followed the Washington despatches.

Casualties are known to have occurred last night and early today, but because of the confusion and darkness it has been impossible to verify any of the reports.

BOYS OF 15 YEARS ARE PRESSED INTO SERVICE.

Logan did not sleep last night. The women were up cooking for the defenders, the men were on the front or in reserve, snatching an hour or two of sleep at the courthouse between reliefs of the guard.

Boys of 15 have been pressed into service. Old men of 80 are shouldering rifles and doing their turn at guard in the front line positions.

Veterans of the Civil War who are in the famous Logan border rangers which fought in the Civil War are said to be under arms again. One of them, a man of 78 years, a drummer boy in 1863, was in an advanced observation post last night.

An effort was made to burn and dynamite the Chesapeake & Ohio bridge on the Guyan Valley division at Big Creek early today. A portion of the bridge was burned and dynamite was discovered by a sentinel, who extinguished the fire.

RAIL COMMUNICATION WOULD HAVE BEEN CUT.

If the bridge had been destroyed the only railroad communication to Logan would have been cut off. This would have prevented the arrival of supplies and caused a big delay in the despatch of United States troops.

The Big Creek bridge is over Guyan river. It is a long span and its replacement would have been difficult.

As a result a heavier guard has been thrown out over the railroad line.

The official communique of Colonel Eubank, commander of the volunteers, this morning said.

"Heavy firing took place at Mill Creek at 5 30 a. m. The miners made a concerted attack, but were thrown back.

FIRING ALL NIGHT AT CROOKED CREEK.

"There was firing at Crooked Creek all night. Reinforcements were despatched to the danger zones. The miners were unable to advance.

"Forty men arrived from Charleston. Other reinforcements arrived from Welch."

No official report of casualties is made public. At Crooked Creek a detachment of fifty men defending a mountain pass was thrown back a half mile by a heavy attack of the miners just after daybreak.

The detachment "dug in" after retiring and was able to hold their position against reported attacks of the miners' army. No counter-attack was attempted, reinforcements being awaited.

The authorities say there were no casualties in this battle.

Where Warring Miners Defy President

Map showing twenty-mile battle line on the boundary between Boone and Logan counties in West Virginia, where warfare is raging between the invading miners and the defenders' army, despite the order of President Harding to the invaders to disband. GIRLS AND WOMEN CAUGHT IN TOILS OF DOPE TRAFFIC

Beautiful girls and women in Oakland and other San Francisco cities are caught by the score in the tentacles of the lawless "dope" traffic and are deliberately sold into slavery by peddlers according to revelations made in the TRIBUNE story "The Slave Traffic in Girl Dope Fiends" appearing this Sunday.

Society women dragged from comfortable homes and thrust into Chinese opium dens by the unseen force of this strange habit, a Judge's daughter made into a dope fiend by an "Iron Footed" aunt, a rich Los Angeles girl caught forging her dead mother's name to morphine prescriptions—these are only a few of the facts described in an article that lays bare the inside workings of a vicious lawless trade in human souls.

ROTARY SPIRIT IS URGED AS AID IN WORLD GOOD WILL

Harold Oliver Tells How Recent Convention Gives Impetus To Idealism.

The spirit of Rotary in its aspect of giving impetus to the idealism of the world, was one of the sentiments reflected in the report of the twelfth annual international convention of Rotary Clubs, held in Edinburgh, Scotland, Last June, made yesterday before the Oakland Rotary club, at the luncheon at the Hotel Oakland, by Harold Oliver, who was a delegate to the international gathering.

Oliver told of the rousing reception he and his fellow delegates received on their arrival in Scotland, when they were escorted from the pier to the music of bagpipes.

Delegates from India, Japan, Egypt, China, Sweden, Denmark, France, Spain, Cuba, Australia, Wales, Ireland, Canada, the United States and many other nations were at the convention. The first four days of the convention was composed exclusively of business sessions.

The order of business included committee reports, discussion and action in the matter of proposed amendments, and discussion as to the need of more rigid attendance requirements.

ROTARY EDUCATION

Rotary education, including premembership education, was another subject taken up at the gathering. Every phase of Rotary work came up for consideration, from Y. M. C. A. work to the aid and treatment of crippled children.

The plan of one of the Eastern Rotary clubs of devoting a page in the daily papers at regular intervals to talks on the principals of Rotary was also mentioned.

Harry Lauder was one of the speakers at the convention. He declared that what the world wants today is understanding based on good will. He also voiced a plea for world peace.

Among the subjects of the important addresses were the "Philosophy of Rotary," "Friendship of Nations" and "A Way Out of Chaos."

Social justice and internationalism, conscious moral efforts on the part of communities of men and harmonious co-operation toward worthy ends, were among the forces named as working toward the ideals and principals of Rotary.

In introducing his report the speaker said: "When the leading business and professional men of a hundred countries are like minded as to their duties and responsibilities as men of affairs and as citizens of their respective communities, they will be drawn together by the law of affinity. Then and then only will come international peace, comity, good will, the fruits of understanding, toleration and mutual esteem and affection among men with high ideals.

"I shall feel that my report has failed to give you a true idea of the spirit of the convention," he continued, "if you do not understand that this is particularly the spirit of friendship and understanding manifest at the convention, between Great Britain and the United States.

The speaker declared that in their welcome of the American delegates it was evident that their desire was to realize the close relationship which should exist between two peoples with a common ancestry, and, until the last 200 years, a common history.

He stated that it would be showing a lack of practical judgment which would not be compatible with the American reputation for common sense, if Americans should close their eyes "to the advantages of a strong and sympathetic alliance with Great Britain."

He expressed the hope that Rotary would prove a powerful factor in bringing about an era of world peace and good will.

At a future meeting of the Rotary club, Oliver will give a talk on the social side of the convention.

Famous stars of the Metropolitan stage who sang with Caruso sobbed through the solemn hymns of the mass.

"ATHLETICS" TO TAKE PLACE OF CHURCH DANCING

CHICAGO, Sept. 2 —"Mutual athletics" but not dancing may find favor in the Methodist church, according to Dr C. H. McCrea, assistant editor of the "Northwestern Christian Advocate" The doctor admitted the young folks ought to have some sort of amusement and entertainment.

Recently the American Dancing Masters offered the Methodists a dance known as the "Wesleyan" It was to be stepped in a stately 4-4 measure and provided less physical contact than a church bazaar grabbag But the elders would not permit it

"Since the dancing masters have given up trying to introduce dancing in the church, now let the Methodist reform dancing by giving some form of mutual athletics that will take its place," said Doctor McCrea.

The doctor was not ready to explain just what he means by "mutual athletics"

FRENCH "BLACK LISTS" SCORED BY SCANDINAVIANS

Firms Object to Being Kept From Doing Business With Old Customers.

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 2.—In Scandinavian circles there is a growing feeling against the keeping up by France of her Black Lists, established by law of February 15, 1917. These lists keep Scandinavian firms from doing legitimate business with their old customers, not only German customers, but firms in Scandinavia, firms of high repute and standing.

Financial and commercial circles in Stockholm and Copenhagen are now attempting to put pressure on the Swedish and Danish governments to move in this matter and demand of France the repeal of this war act.

In some circles there exist even a tendency toward retaliation against France because, it is alleged here, French firms are actually dealing direct with German and blacklisted firms at the same time the French government prevents neutral companies from doing the same.

In insurance circles the feelings may be gauged from the tenor of the following quotation from the official Scandinavian insurance journal: "We consider it a great impertinence that the names of highly respected Scandinavian companies—insurance and otherwise—today, nearly three years after the signing of the armistice, still figure on the French black lists as a punishment for conducting their business on strictly neutral lines. We know that prominent French insurers look eye to eye with us in this matter and feel ashamed that their country is keeping up a measure abandoned long ago by America, England, Italy and her other partners in the great war. The act of February 15 must be repealed and the black lists must go. Even the neutral worm will turn."

U. C. CO-EDS. TAKE ANOTHER SWAT AT MEN'S RIGHTS

BERKELEY, Sept. 2.—Mere men on the University of California campus are being gradually robbed of every one of their exclusive privileges of the past by the co-eds—and the men are prepared to fight.

The latest invasion of male rights was the choice of the "men's joint" by a number of sorority women as a proper place for holding an afternoon bridge game. The co-eds entered the part of the students' store reserved for men and occupied one of the tables for their game.

This usurpation of exclusiveness followed closely upon the demand of the women to be allowed to use the men's swimming pool, and the decision of the co-eds to use senior bench. Both of the places aimed at by the co-eds demands were in the past secred meeting places of the men.

MINERS' STRIKE IN COLORADO TO BE INVESTIGATED

Reports of Walkont Because Of Wage Reductions Denied.

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 2.—The state industrial commission was waiting word today from investigators sent to Walsenburg to investigate a reported walkout of miners in four coal mines of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company.

News despatches and a telephone message to the commission yesterday told of the walkout because of a wage reduction of approximately $2.50 a day. J. F. Welborn, president of the company, denied that there was a walkout or that less than the usual number of mines were being operated. He declared that the wage reduction was voluntary and taken at the request of the workers.

W. I. Reilly, of the industrial commission, said the company had filed notice of a wage reduction thirty days ago, as required by state law, but that the company had declared the reduction was voluntary and consequently no investigation by the commission was deemed necessary. As a result of yesterday's report, an investigation was determined upon immediately, he said.

TONGA IS HAPPY WITHOUT ARMY, NAVY AND DEBT

Existence on Last Remaining Native Kingdom in the Pacific Is Ideal.

SYDNEY, N S W Sept 2—A country without an army, without a navy, without a national debt, and without an income tax, where the romance of the South Seas still lives, and where every male reaching the age of 16 years must own eight and one-quarter acres of land to sustain his own family—a statute obligation which is fulfilled by a magnanimous government granting him the land gratis

Such is Tonga, the last remaining native kingdom in the Pacific ocean, according to the description furnished by Tui Vakanoa, premier of the island, who was here recently

Premier Vakanoa said that the people of Tonga are very contented They have their own monarch, ministry, flag, and parliament of seven members elected by the people and an equal number chosen by the nobles or hereditary chiefs

At the end of last March Permier Vanakoa said the kingdom had a surplus of more than £100 000 revenue over its expenditure after paying for all public works

Males reaching the age of 16 are granted their land and must plant enough cocoanuts, yams and other food to sustain their families and to pay their educational tax, which practically completes their civic duties he said

Short Skirts and Hidden Ears Old as Pyramids

CHICAGO, Sept 2—Bobbed hair concealed ears, short skirts and all the other fads and foibles associated with modern women's styles are as old as the pyramids, according to the mute story told by the mummies of both Egypt and Peru in the Field Museum.

Wrapped in their pitched shrouds and encased in sarcophagi covered with curious paintings and hieroglyphics in colors still bright after three thousand years and more these mummies all that was mortal of a human being of ages ago, today link the present to a civilization long since dead

The daily center of thousands of curious eyes for the mummies seem to hold a strange fascination for every visitor to the museum, they are silent spectators of the passing throngs, but the paintings which adorn their resting places tell more plainly than words of styles, customs and manners of a forgotten age

JUST LIKE TODAY.

"Why, ma they're dressed just like the girls we see on Michigan boulevard," exclaimed an aged visitor to his wife as he gazed at the strange figures adorning the sarcophagi

"It appears like they did not wear a bit more then than they do now," the woman answered as the pair moved away

It is a far cry from the Nile of Cleopatra's day to the Pacific coast of Peru in South America, but mummies from both regions lying almost within reach of each other now but in life ignorant of each other's existence bear graphic evidence of the greatest similarity and proficiency in many arts at a time when the Norsemen were ravaging all of Southern Europe and the old world had almost sunk into barbarism Dr J Alden Mason, assistant curator of Mexican and South American anthology at the museum, has prepared an outline of the known history of the Peruvian mummies

Both wove cloths in every weave known to the modern textile artist and made in some cases finer than are duplicated today by the best mechanical means and the most skilled artisans Their pottery is unsurpassed even today in its type and their work in gold and copper challenges the modern craftsman Unlike the Egyptians the Peruvians used no process of embalming, but so dry were the sands of certain of their deserts that the dry bodies with their wrappings around them have been perserved perfectly to this day with the objects placed around them

Near the town of Ancon on the coast of Peru was found the greatest cemetery of these people A great desert waste no evidence of occupation is seen on the surface Even when the first Spanish conquerer passed this way in 1533 every vestige of human occupation had entirely disappeared and the location of the town was quite forgotten It was not until about 70 years ago that the first graves were discovered and for half a century they have yielded fortunes to treasure seekers who despoiled them to recover the golden ornaments left beside the bodies

And now the mummies of both of these peoples tell of strange similarities in style adornment manners and industries to those of the present generation

MEXICANS SPURN TREATY GRANTING AMERICA FAVORS

Obregon Cheered By Congress As He Says Pact Is Not Necessary.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2. — The United States will take no action in regard to changing its policy in attempting to conclude a treaty of commerce and amity with Mexico until the full text of the recent Mexican supreme court decision on the retroactivity of article 27 has been received here and studied, it was stated officially today.

MEXICO CITY, Sept 2.—(By the Associated Press).—The signing of a treaty with the United States is "neither possible, convenient nor necessary, and is contrary to Mexican constitutional precepts, in that it creates special privileges for Americans," according to that portion of President Obregon's message to Congress dealing with foreign relations, which was read in the House tonight.

Prolonged applause from the members of the Congress and the spectators greeted President Obregon's declaration that it was impossible to sign a treaty with the United States.

There was a demonstration also when the list of nations which had recognized Mexico was read.

President Obregon opened the irregular session of Congress with presentation of his message, embracing reports of all the governmental departments since he assumed power last December.

REVOLTS PUT DOWN.

The Senate and Chamber of Deputies met in joint session to hear this report and immediately declared themselves convened.

The report of the department of interior related to gubernatorial conflicts in the States of Michoacan, Tabasco, Pueblo and Morelos, in which the executive has intervened and appointed a governor, who is now functioning, with the exception of Morelos, which is declared to be "still outside constitutional order."

Up to July 30, 123,384 Mexicans had been repatriated at a federal cost of more than 3,000,000 pesos, and more than 42,000 pesos were spent by the government in aiding unemployed in the oil field.

Secretary of War Estrada reported a 30,000 reduction in the army, with a decrease in the budget of his department of more than 26,000,000 pesos since President Obregon assumed power.

The report of the Treasury department was uniformly optimistic regarding the nation's finances. It referred to numerous economies practiced looking toward the eventual stabilization of the budget, despite the increased cost of running the government. The decree increasing the export tax on petroleum was described as a measure designed to "protect our petroleum wealth against excessive exploitation and inadequate remuneration." Fourteen hundred and forty claims for damages have been filed against the government, representing 221,331,891 pesos, of which 93,965,045 pesos are by foreigners. Secretary de la Huerta added that the President had asked the nations affected to join in an international claims commission.

Fall Opening On, Shows New Fashions

Featuring the Paris-sponsored "black," in its many youthful applications, the annual formal fall opening of Manheim & Mazor's is in progress today. The opening includes twenty-six specialty shops and displays the trend of new fashions and newest fall models.

The ready-to-wear shop is featuring the Paris-sponsored "black" smart frocks for afternoon wear, coats of soft piled fabric with high fur collars, and hats with their coque feather or plumage decoration.

Manheim, who has just returned from a trip East, declared that in this year's opening he particularly considers the young growing girl and college woman. The children's and misses' shop displays numerous frocks, hats and coats, designed by New York modistes. They are mostly developed of taffeta, serge, satins and rich velvets, with the simplest youthful effects, owing their smartness to a twist of cord, an embroidered motif and a touch of brilliant color.

Girl Tries Suicide; Is Held as Drunk

Despondent because she quarreled with Ed Daniels, Miss May Webber, 23 years, a cafe entertainer, attempted to end her life by taking poison in front of the door of his room in the Adams hotel, according to the police.

Miss Webber told Police Inspectors Edward O'Donnell and Louis Kersch that she and Daniels had been on a party earlier in the evening and when they returned to the hotel, where they both reside, they quarreled.

She says she left him in front of his room and then went into her own room, where she took the poison. She was taken to the hospital by Daniels and his room mate, A. Tallman. Her condition is not serious.

Miss Webber is being held for investigation by the police. Captain of Inspectors Richard McSorley says she will be charged with being drunk.

What's Happening in the Motor World

by Jim Houlihan

A Chandler Despatch, driven by E. W. Baker, carrying four passengers weighing approximately 610 pounds, has established a new record for Marin avenue, Berkeley, by climbing the famous hill in second gear all the way, in 1 minute and 53 seconds, clipping 1 1-5 seconds from the mark previously held by the Lexington.

The car made the record on the fourth attempt, under observance from an official TRIBUNE timer, and seemingly did so without trouble.

Baker had never tried the hill before early Thursday afternoon and had trouble in making the turn around the fountain at the bottom. As soon as he mastered this trick he went over the top in record time.

The fact that the Chandler was the first car to climb the entire hill in second gear is remarkable because no other machine carrying four people has ever been able to go up the last steep pitch in anything but low gear.

This series of eleven hills is one of the toughest climbs anywhere about the bay. There is absolutely no chance to get a run at the base of the climb, because there is a fountain in the middle of the road, around which the cars must drive. Then, too, if the car hits the foot of the hill too fast it loses momentum and much time is wasted.

The second gear feat of the Chandler on Marin hill is a worthy accomplishment. The car is the same model that climbed the Skyline boulevard with eight persons and is a second-hand machine.

FORD CUTS PRICES AGAIN.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 2.—Another reduction in the price of Ford cars and Ford trucks, averaging $70 under former prices and bringing the Ford car and truck to the lowest prices ever offered was announced today by the Ford Motor Car Company.

The following table shows old and new prices:

	New price.	Amount of Reduction.
Chassis	$295	$ 50
Runabouts	325	45
Touring cars	355	60
Trucks	445	60
Coupe	595	100
Sedan	660	100

A statement issued says in part:

"We are taking advantage of every known economy in the manufacture of our products in order that we may give them to the public at the lowest possible price, and by doing that we feel that we are doing the one big thing that will help this country into more prosperous times.

"The production of Ford cars and trucks for August again broke all previous high records, with the total reaching 117,696. This is the fourth consecutive month in which our output has gone over the hundred thousand mark, the total for the four months being 463,074, which has gone a long way in making possible the present reductions.

"No reduction has been made in the price of the Fordson tractor and none is contemplated."

The touring model, fitted with starter and rims, will sell in Oakland for approximately $585.

Professor Invents Silk Moth Tests

NANKING, Sept. 2.—Prof. C. L. Chien of the College of Agriculture and Forestry, University of Nanking, has invented a new egg-laying box for the silk moth which it is believed may supplant existing methods of testing for Pebrine disease in the silk worm.

There have been two methods heretofore of making this test, one Japanese and the other known as the European method, and it is said that serious drawbacks of both of these have been overcome by Professor Chien's invention.

MAJ.-GEN. WOOD WILL QUIT ARMY FOR PHILIPPINES

Announces Acceptance of Post of Governor-General Of Islands.

MANILA, Sept. 2.—(By the Associated Press)—Major General Leonard Wood today announced his acceptance of the post of governor-general of the Philippines, tendered to him by President Harding.

General Wood said he probably would not ask retirement from the army until his appointment as governor-general of the Philippines had been confirmed by the Senate.

General Wood gave out the following statement today in connection with his acceptance:

"I desire to accept the governorship because I believe the seriousness of the situation rises superior to my personal wishes. I feel that it is my patriotic duty to accept and I will undertake to assume the duties of the office as soon as possible."

According to plans decided upon today, the Wood-Forbes mission will leave Manila for China on September 10, then go to Japan, and return here about October 10. W. Cameron Forbes, who, with General Wood has just completed a tour of investigation of the islands, probably will continue to the United States after leaving Japan.

REPORT TO HARDING.

A synopsis of the mission's report on conditions in the Philippines will be cabled to President Harding, it is expected before the mission departs from China. A complete detailed report will be made to President Harding by General Wood after his return to Manila.

General Wood has requested Secretary of War Weeks to detail Colonels Frank R. McCoy, Gordon Johnson, Major Edward Bowditch and Lieutenant Norman R. Wood to act as assistants to the governor-general. With the exception of Lieutenant Wood, all these officers, who are members of the mission, saw service in the Philippines and are familiar with island conditions, especially in Mindano and Sulu, where the Moros are threatening serious trouble.

According to plans discussed, Colonels McCoy, Johnson and Major Bowditch will be assigned to duty in various departments of the insular government, while Lieutenant Wood will be aide to the governor-general. Army officers are forbidden to hold civil offices, but the governor-general may assign them to duty as assistants in the various departments.

WEEKS IS PLEASED.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—Acceptance by Major General Leonard Wood of the post of Governor-General of the Philippines will necessitate his retirement from active service in the army after thirty-five years spent with the military establishment.

Legislation proposed by the administration, which would have enabled General Wood to accept the Philippine governorship and yet remain on the active list was killed last month in the House, the military committee of which, by an almost unanimous vote, agreeing to table the bill. The committee was understood to have felt that it would be unwise to permit army officers to accept civilian posts without resigning their commissions.

Secretary Weeks, on learning of General Wood's decision, expressed himself as "highly gratified." The secretary said he had not been advised officially of General Wood's action.

ARCTIC OWLS ARE RARE VISITORS TO REGION ABOUT BAY

Bird Is Four Times as Large as Native Variety and Has Heavy Plumage.

Owls, not the human variety that stay out until the wee small hours, earning the title of "fly-by-night," but the feathered type that can stay up all night without attracting unfavorable criticism, furnishes the main query topic for today's Information Bureau of the TRIBUNE.

This note came into the Information Bureau today:

"A large white owl appeared in Santa Clara County about twenty years ago and recently another one was seen. Do these owls only appear once in twenty years, and what are they called?"

There was an invasion of Snowy Owls from the Arctic regions twenty years ago, but there is no established time for the recurrence of such invasions. The Snowy Owl is about four times as heavy as the barn owl of California. The barn owl of this State has naked legs, while the Snowy Owl has a thick covering of feathers, not unlike the "chaps" that cowboys wear in the movies. This protects the owl from the cold of the Arctic regions.

Another reader sent in the following query:

Is Sanford Bennett, author of the book, "How Never To Grow Old," still living?"

Sanford Bennett died in New York about three years ago.

The TRIBUNE Information Bureau will answer all questions of a general nature except school or legal problems, debates, trade and firm names and queries as to the time of day.

The Bureau is open every day except Sunday, from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m.

If answers are desired by mail, stamps must be enclosed. Quickest results can be obtained by telephoning to the bureau. If you have any problems of a general nature to solve ask The TRIBUNE Information Bureau, Lakeside 6000.

San Franciscans Back From Europe

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—Accompanied by their 13-year-old son, Prentiss Cobb Hale Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Prentiss Cobb Hale arrived home yesterday from a tour of Europe that consumed seven months' time. A delegation representing veterans of the late war and the Red Cross met them at the Oakland mole. Mrs. Hale made a tour of inspection of the graves of the American boys in France, as a delegate of the American Legion and the Disabled Veterans.

Further Showers Coming; Little Crop Damage Done

Unsettled weather conditions for tonight and tomorrow, probably varied with showers, under moderate southwesterly winds, are predicted for Oakland and vicinity as a succession to yesterday's light rains, by District Forecaster G. H. Willson.

For other parts of the state and the Pacific slope, the forecast is as follows:

The three valleys: Tonight and tomorrow unsettled, probably showers, gentle southwesterly winds.

Nevada and Idaho: Tonight and Saturday probably showers.

Washington and Oregon: Tonight and tomorrow probably showers, moderate southwesterly winds.

Forecaster Willson explains the rains that fell yesterday in this region and throughout the state, and which are not unusual at this time of the year, by stating that "a small depression over the plateau is causing cloudy and threatening weather over the entire Pacific slope. Light rain has fallen in Western Washington and thunderstorms and light showers have occurred in Central California, Nevada and Southeastern Idaho."

Light rains began falling late yesterday afternoon and during the evening in the bay region. The precipitation was slight. Light showers were reported from different points in the Sacramento, San Joaquin and Santa Clara valleys.

NOT BADLY DAMAGED.

Reports from the fruit growing districts are to the effect that the rain has not materially damaged the fruit crops.

The grapes might be somewhat injured in case the weather would suddenly turn warm, but will not suffer under a continuance of the present cool weather, it is reported from Stockton. Optimistic reports are also received from Fresno.

Slight damage to the Santa Clara valley's prune crop is reported from San Jose. Here the light rains sent such growers as had "taken a chance" in the face of impending rain, scurrying through their dry yards in order to stack the trays of prunes which have been drying for the past few days. In the majority of cases the crops were not affected, timely warnings from the weather men being responsible for the saving of the great majority of the prune crop.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

At Cupertino, nine miles west of San Jose, Carl Bauberg, 18, was killed by lightning shortly before 8 o'clock last night, as he was picking prunes in an orchard.

Electrical storms are rare in Santa Clara county, and this is the first death by lightning ever recorded in the valley.

Among beneficial results of the rains, is the effect reported from Santa Barbara, where the slight precipitation proved sufficient to give the upperhand to the crews fighting the forest fire on the Santa Ynez range. The fire is now reported to be under control.

The following state precipitations are reported by weather bureaus: .20 inch of rain at Fresno, .12 at San Luis Obispo, .14 at Paso Robles, .06 at San Jose, .01 at Independence, and traces at Red Bluff, San Francisco and San Bernardino.

Precipitations reported by other National Bureaus are: Abilene .04, Des Moines .52, Eagle .10, Grand Junction .01, Huron .02, Independence .10; Kansas City 94, Minneapolis .04, Seattle .12, Tatoosh Island .10, Tonopah .24.

IN ADJOINING DISTRICTS.

The following reports were received today from the agricultural districts adjoining the outskirts of the city of Oakland:

Livermore, a light rain began falling yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Little, if any, damage was done. The sugar has not sufficiently developed in the grapes to make them liable to harm and practically all dry crops are under cover.

Pleasanton, no damage has been reported from rain which fell lightly yesterday afternoon and last night. Crops are all housed, with the exception of a small quantity of wheat hay, and the grape crops are not far enough advanced to suffer injury.

Dublin, the first rain of the season fell here yesterday afternoon. It was light and no damage is reported. Practically all crops are in.

Danville, no damage is reported due to a light rain that began falling yesterday afternoon. The precipitation was not measurable.

Zion City Signs Burned, 8 Jailed

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Eight members of independent churches of Zion City were locked up yesterday on a charge of having made a bonfire of the huge signboards erected by Overseer Wilbur Glenn Voliva. A month ago Voliva started a war against a rival congregation which had sprung up in the community. He had an immense signboard erected, on which was displayed admonitions to the unorthodox couched in the most vivid phraseology. The independents were advised through the medium of the sign board that Zion was no place for "religious bums." It has been hinted also, with more vigor than tact, they should go elsewhere.

Marry in S. F.; Get Divorce There, Too

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—Figures have been compiled by L. J. Welch, chief deputy in the county clerk's office, showing that of the 321 divorces and annulments sought in the local superior court in August, 151 were sought by couples that had been married in San Francisco. The reports also show that 227 of the couples who are now having difficulties adjusted here, were married in California.

Reunion To Be Held At Mosswood Park

The sixth annual reunion of Nevada county residents will be held at Mosswood Park, Oakland, on Friday, September 9. A good program has been prepared, it is announced. William R. Twamley, formerly of North San Juan, will deliver the address of the day. Songs and stories will be other features of the celebration. Tables will be reserved for those who bring lunches. San Franciscans are instructed to take Piedmont train, Key System, get off at Fortieth street and walk two blocks south on Broadway. All who have ever lived in Nevada county are urged to be present.

Canada May Vote On Tariff Policy

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 2.—Dissolution of the Canadian parliament at an early date and an election before the end of the year to settle the dominion's tariff policy was the program enunciated last night by Premier Meighen. Difficulties over the tariff have sprung up since the war through the growth of a strong farmers' party, which demands free trade. The premier declared he was certain this policy was wrong.

Salvage From Liner San Jose Recovered

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 2.—Bringing a quantity of fittings, linen, tanks and other gear salvaged from the wrecked Pacific Mail liner San Jose, the American fishing schooner Nachi arrived from San Roque island, off the Lower California coast, yesterday. Captain G. H. Silva of the schooner reported that the San Jose, which struck on the island the night of August 8, was broken in two just aft of the pilot house and that the craft, impaled on a jagged rock, swung to and fro like a pendulum with the surge of the seas.

More than 7,000 bags of Guatemalan coffee, which were stored in the forwards holds and which the wrecking steamer Homer was unable to salvage, have been washed overboard and now strewn along the beach, in some places to a depth of two feet.

Captain Silva said the San Jose would be pounded into driftwood in a short time.

HEYWOOD BOOSTS HIS GARBAGE PLAN

BERKELEY, Sept. 2.—The municipal garbage collection plan will eventually net a profit of $1000 per month, according to Councilman Charles D. Heywood in a report to Mayor Bartlett.

Heywood says:

"The expense of the first month's experience must necessarily be large and very consoling to the individuals who would be glad to see this municipal venture fail, but from figures that we now have, I can assure you and the people that this system will be brought down to a paying basis. At the present time we have had ten motor trucks working about eleven or twelve hours per day, in order to remove the accumulation of garbage which we inherited from the former collectors.

"It is safe to say that the city garbage can be collected for the following expenditure: Eight units (truck and crew) for eight hours, at an expense of $25 per day, $5000 per month. The overhead expense of the system should not exceed $1000, making a total cost of $6000 per month.

"From information now in our possession we estimate the income from the householders to be at least $7000 per month. If these figures are found to be in error, we are sure it will be too conservative."

Special Legislature Session Improbable

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 2.—State Senator E. S. Eastbay Leaders Aid Plans of Mothers

By EDNA B. KINARD.

The Eastbay is contributing generously of its leaders in carrying out the large program which has been adopted by Second District California Congress of Mothers. In the person of Mrs. W. H. Marston, Berkeley has sent to the executive office a woman who is a veteran in the movement which is sweeping the state and county in the interests of the child in all its relation to life. Hers was the dominant voice in naming the directors of the departments of work which contribute to the congress' unit. Oakland has claimed seven chairmen, Berkeley four and Alameda one in the district organization which embraces the associations in Alameda, Contra Costa, San Francisco, San Mateo, Marin, Napa and Sonoma counties.

Important tasks have placed responsibility upon Oakland mothers in the following appointments: Finance, Mrs. L. C. Grasser; home, Mrs. S. F. Emery; legislation, Mrs. A. E. Thurston; child hygiene, Mrs. F. S. Burchalter; founders' day, Mrs. C. Gardiner; printing, Mrs. O. P. Cole; publicity, Mrs. George E. Miller.

Berkeley will look out after the direction of the following chairs: Child labor, Mrs. G. E. Skilling; patriotism, Mrs. T. E. Warren; reciprocity, Mrs. William Morgan; scholarship, Mrs. F. W. Durgin.

Mrs. E. O. Shetter of Alameda is chairman of extension, filling an important place on the board of directors.

Miss Eva Powell, who surprised her friends during the war period in deliberately giving up leadership in clubdom to prepare herself for active participation in carrying out the purposes of the National Young Women's Christian Association, will lend inspiration to a 4 o'clock tea at which the board of directors of the local association will receive on Wednesday.

Miss Powell was a former president of the Oakland "Y" and of Ebell. Following a course in association work in New York she was given an important post as secretary in Colorado. She has been spending the summer in Berkeley with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Powell. Miss Powell is a sister of Dr. Alvin Powell, director of Alameda County Health Center.

Oakland Club will open its year with an enlarged program of section work under the direction of Mrs. Nellie Nelson. Study groups in parliamentary law, public speaking and current events, book reviews, drama, music and California history and landmarks are announced on the September calendar. The meetings will be held simultaneously on the third Wednesday of the month. Leaders are announced as follows:

Parliamentary law, Mrs. O. P. Cole; public speaking, Mrs. Franklin Johnson; book review, Mrs. E. G. Spare; drama, Miss Mary Lambert; music, Mrs. Waldo Rucker; landmarks, Mrs. F. W. Kimball.

Once again Oakland chapter, American Red Cross, is inviting the women of the city to equip themselves to meet emergencies by enrolling in a first aid course which it will sponsor at the Oakland Technical High school on Tuesday and Thursday evenings. The chapter itself has taken over the expenses of the work, offering the tuition free to those who will enroll. Mothers with little ones who may be victims of accidents, playground workers, teachers and those who are responsible for the well being of others engaged in industry, are particularly urged to take advantage of the lectures and demonstrations which are designed to meet the necessities of everyday living. The course gives knowledge of how to meet emergencies and give relief and comfort, mayhap even save a life until the physician with his more scientific knowledge arrives.

The classes will be held in room 228, Technical High school, Tuesdays and Thursdays at 7:15 p. m. Applications should be made immediately in the class or the headquarters in the City Hall.

War mothers of Oakland, under the leadership of Mrs. C. J. Waterhouse, president, have arranged an interesting meeting for next Thursday afternoon in Memorial Hall, which will combine business with the compliment of an informal tea to Mrs. Clement, national secretary, who will come down from Sacramento for the occasion. Although the war mothers have not ceased during the summer in their kindly efforts in behalf of the boys who served in the World War on land or sea, the beginning of the fall season will witness the putting over the larger program of work.

The deepest sympathy has been extended to Mrs. Charles Haines, director and chairman of the hospital committee, whose husband died following a fall this week.

Fathers in Manzanita school district have put the seal of approval upon the efforts of the parent-teacher association and tonight will play host at a banquet and dance which will boost the school fund. The school auditorium will lend the accommodations to the unique neighborhood affair which will be followed by an informal dance.

With the beginning of the 1921 season, Manzanita fathers are demonstrating that they will share with mothers in their interest in school welfare.

There are no active volcanoes in Australia.

TWO WOUNDED IN BATTLE TO JAIL ROBBER SUSPECT

Detective Shot Through Leg, Deputy Has Thumb Broken.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 2.—C. T. Roul, investigator for a private detective agency, was shot through the leg and Deputy Sheriff R. L. Couts had his thumb broken early today when they arrested a man in connection with the recent robbery of the Huntington Park branch of the Los Angeles Trust and Savings bank.

The suspect it was alleged, had assaulted two persons who gave the sheriff's office information about the robbery. He was jailed on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder. The sheriff's office withheld his name.

Manuel McKnight, who last Monday confessed complicity in the robbery after he had been shot while resisting arrest, died from his wounds this morning in the Los Angeles county hospital.

Bar Flays Judge Landis For Taking Private Money

CINCINNATI, Sept. 2.—The action of Judge K. M. Landis of Chicago, national commissioner of baseball, in accepting "private employment and private emolument" while active on the federal bench was declared to meet with the "unqualified condemnation of the American Bar association, in a resolution adopted last night.

The resolution was adopted after a stormy debate, in which former Senator James Hamilton Lewis counseled against hasty action and moved that the matter be referred to a committee for investigation. He declared that Judge Landis should be accorded a proper hearing.

The resolution was drawn late today by the executive committee of the association and was presented by Hampton L. Carson of Philadelphia, former president of the organization.

ATTITUDE UNDIGNIFIED.

The resolution reads:

"Resolved, That the conduct of Kenesaw M. Landis in engaging in private employment and accepting private emolument while holding the position of a federal judge and receiving a salary from the federal government meets with our unqualified condemnation as conduct unworthy of the office of judge, derogatory to the dignity of the bench and undermining public confidence in the independence of the judiciary."

"In upholding the honor of the profession of the law," Carson said in presenting the resolution, "of what use is it to prescribe canons of ethics if we know that the man on whom the judicial ermine rests has soiled that ermine by yielding to the temptation of avarice and private gain?

YIELDS TO COMMERCE.

"Here is a federal judge who receives $7500 a year yielding to the solicitation of commercial interest, sapping his judicial strength by taking $42,500 a year from baseball players.

"It is simply dragging the ermine in the mire. It may be that impeachment cannot reach him, but one thing cannot escape us, that is, that from every judicial circuit and every bar rises the withering scorn of protest against the man who would stain their honor."

In defending Judge Landis as a man convicted by the resolution without trial, former Senator Lewis declared it did not become the dignity of the association to take hasty action.

"I know Judge Landis," he said, "and I have differed with him, but I cannot permit an attack upon his character or his probity as a man who can be allured by money.

CONDEMNED UNTRIED.

"While this man is on trial it does not become this body to pass a resolution which condemns him without a hearing. You have read in the public press that he has accepted this baseball position and has accepted this salary. It may be that these things are true, but whether true of not, we should not present to the world a resolution which violates fairness.

"I move you, sir, that the matter be referred to a committee and give him opportunity for reply. Let justice be done, though the heavens fall."

John M. Harlan of Chicago declared the American Bar association was on trial and counseled publication of the association's opinion on Judge Landis' dual position before condemning him.

"There is no practical doubt that Judge Landis is the national commissioner of baseball," he said. "There may be some doubt about the salary he receives, but the American Bar association owes it to itself to tell the American public whether the association thinks it right for a judge to receive a salary for service off the bench.

JUDGES WANT RULING.

"Judge Landis is not the only judge with ability. Many judges pressed by the high cost of living and with meager salaries would be glad to accept outside employment. If the association thinks it is all right, they would be glad to know about it."

R. D. Robinson of Galesburg, Ill., voiced his approval of the resolution by declaring that "if a man in Judge Landis' court had violated the ethics of the court as Judge Landis has done he would be sent to jail for ninety days without trial by jury."

Stormy debate ensued, interrupted frequently by outbursts of applause as speakers in all parts of the convention hall arose to support or denounce the resolution. Senator Sutherland of Utah, chairman of the meeting, finally proposed the motion of Mr. Lewis to refer the resolution to a committee. It lost.

The original resolution then was passed by viva voce vote.

A motion was adopted that a certified copy of the resolutions be sent to Vice President Coolidge for presentation to the Senate and another copy to the speaker of the House.

LANDIS IS SILENT.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Judge Landis declined last night to comment on the action of the American Bar association in adopting a resolution condemning his action in accepting emolument for private work as a baseball arbiter.

"I have nothing to say," he declared.

Judge Landis was appointed commissioned of baseball on January 12 at an annual salary of $42,500. The contract was to extend for seven years.

For years Judge Landis has been one of the best known judges of the country. He was appointed United States district judge for the northern district of Illinois in 1905. He has attracted wide attention in many famous cases, probably the best known being the $29,400,000 fine he assessed against the Standard Oil company of Indiana on a charge of rebating. His decision in the oil case was later overruled.

Electrician Killed and Power Shut Off

All electric power in Oakland from the Pacific Gas and Electric company was shut off for fourteen minutes yesterday afternoon when John S. Costa, an electrician employed in the main plant, fell across a live "bus" and was instantly killed. The live bus, on which he fell, is at the location of the main switches, and it was necessary to shut down the plant from 2:08 o'clock until 2:22 in order to remove the body.

Costa fell as the result of an accident, and landed on the bus after rebounding from a piece of projecting machinery. What caused him to fall has not as yet been learned by company officials, who are investigating the accident. Costa had been in the employ of the company for several years and was a reliable and careful workman, according to those in charge of the department in which he worked.

Costa was 24 years old and leaves a widow and one child, who are visiting in the east. The widow was notified yesterday of the tragedy.

Love Chart Figures In Divorce Trial

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 2.—Literature on sex determination and a "love chart," by means of which a person is supposed to be able to select a true mate, figured in the divorce suit of Mrs. Abbie A. Corbin against Charles M. Corbin, railroad employee, here today.

The "love chart" is called "the key of life," and is said to have been used by Corbin in the practice of what he termed "regeneration." Other literature purports to explain how the sex of children can be determined before birth.

'LOST' MAN PUTS BLAME ON BOOZE, MEMORY MISSING

Lieutenant of Marines Who Disappeared Year Ago Reports at Vallejo.

Officials of the United States Marine Corps are today checking up on the story told by Lieutenant Edward Walker Franklin, U. S. M. C., who appeared Wednesday before Colonel J. L. Treadwell at Mare Island after having been given up as dead. Lieutenant Franklin has been missing since September, 1920, when he disappeared from the Raleigh hotel in Washington, D. C.

Before appearing before Colonel Treadwell, Franklin communicated with his wife in Oakland to notify her of his arrival from the east. He had previously wired her that he was alive, after learning of her whereabouts, he said.

Franklin is being held in officers' row on Mare Island awaiting instructions from Washington. So complicated are the circumstances surrounding the disappearance that officers at Mare Island are puzzled as to what steps to take. Secretary of War Weeks has been notified and Franklin will be held awaiting the secretary's instructions.

MOTHER-IN-LAW VISITED.

It was learned last night that Franklin spent two days at the home of his wife's mother in Elmhurst before reporting to the military authorities.

A short time before Franklin dropped out of sight Major Frank H. Scandland of the army disappeared from Washington. His mutilated body was found in a clump of woods two weeks later near Alexandria, on the road to Quantico, Va. It was concluded by military authorities that Franklin had been with him and had met the same fate.

Franklin told Colonel Treadwell that he was transferred from Haiti to Quantico, Va., in charge of the quartermaster depot. It was near this place that Major Scandland's body was found. He said that in September, 1920, he was given a week's leave of absence and went to Washington.

BLANK AFTER BOOTLEG.

The rest of his story is as follows:

"While at the Raleigh hotel in Washington I went out with some friends and we bought several drinks of bootleg brandy. I had not tasted liquor for nine years. After taking the drinks my mind became a blank. I have a recollection of being in an automobile with a naval officer. I was put out of the automobile, but have no recollection of the time or place. When I recovered my memory I was working as a day laborer in a lumber camp in Virginia.

"After remaining in the lumber camp for three months I went to Philadelphia, and from there tried to get into communication with my wife. A cousin told me last July that she had received a letter from my wife mailed in Oakland. I asked my cousin to send me the letter to general delivery, Philadelphia. As soon as I received the letter I telegraphed my wife that I was alive and would start west immediately."

Ancient Tragedy Is Turned Up By Laborer's Shovel

SALINAS, Aug. 31.—An unrecorded tragedy of the early days is thought to have come to light here, when the picks and shovels of John Ericksen and Hans Jensen, excavating for a building basement, revealed the skeletons of two human beings in a good state of preservation. The find was made on a four-acre tract, located on the westerly side of the Castroville road, a short distance from Salinas.

It is a matter of speculation as to whether the bones belong to Indians who went to the happy hunting ground in a natural way, or whether they are the bones of bandit victims. When found, they were standing in an upright position. The spot of their burial is a former channel of the San Jon slough, and the soil covering the bodies was a soft loam, made up mostly of decayed tules and other vegetable matter, totally unlike the surround hard adobe.

Indians had a habit of burying their dead standing up, while bandits who roamed this country in the early days, often silenced their victims with a knife blade thrust into a vital spot. These facts lead many to believe that they are either Indians, burried naturally, or knife victims of bandits, thrown into the channel and left to decay.

They will be reinterred at another place.

St. Helena All Dolled Up For Big Vintage Festival

ST. HELENA, Sept. 2.—Chairman-director W. F. Bornhorst of the St. Helena Vintage Festival celebration and his committee report that everything is in readiness for the opening day of the celebration, on Saturday September 3, when, with simple but appropriate ceremonies, His Excellency, William D. Stephens, governor of the state of California, will present Miss Mildred Fealey with the key of the city, and crown her queen of the vintage time. All good wishes for godspeed and a happy and joyous reign, filled with revelry, merriment and content, will be then extended Queen Mildred.

The good news that the governor would be present at the opening of the festival to personally crown Miss Fealey queen of the vintage time, was received during the early part of the week. The news soon spread and the populace is very much elated over this coming event. St. Helena has good reasons to be so jubilant, as this is the first time in the history of the Vintage Festival that the governor has so honored this city by his presence. This city was also rejoicing over the popular election of Miss Mildred Fealey, who was popularly chosen queen of the festival by a large majority of votes.

The business streets of St. Helena are gayly decorated with bunting, banners and flags, and many business houses have also decorated their store windows in keeping with the occasion, so that everything is in holiday attire.

Arrangement for the big Labor Day parade are now complete, and the details have been announced. There will be three distinct sections in the parade, each headed with a band. This event promises to start promptly at 10:30 a. m. on Monday, September 5, and the line of march will be through the principal streets of the city and finally disbanding at the Southern Pacific grounds.

Various other activities of interest that have been planned for the festival include the vintage show, a snappy two-hour entertainment full of the spirit of jazz, and richly and riotously presented in song, dance, farce, comedy and pretty girls. This event will be given every afternoon and evening, in the mammoth tent adjoining the exhibit hall. In conjunction there will be the exhibits of vineyard, orchard and farm product elaborately displayed, showing to good advantage the resources of Napa country.

Many are already planning attending the queen's grand ball, Saturday evening, to be held at N. S. G. W. pavilion, and will no doubt be the social event of the season. Besides, there will be dancing every afternoon and evening, music being provided by the celebrated Hyne's band of San Francisco. Concerts will also be given daily, and on Sunday, September 4, the League of the Cross Cadets will entertain with fancy drills and their band. In addition, the Groff Greater Shows will provide street attractions and amusements for the festival, and will hold forth on the A. N. Bell lot, on Main street. A street dance and confetti battle will terminate the three big festival days.

Special attention will be given the motorists—parking space having been provided at the Grammar School grounds and the Graff lot on Main street. Those wishing to camp will have the use of the municipal camp grounds, just south of town. Mr. C. E. Brown, manager of the S. F. N. and C. R. R. Co., has provided a special train service on Saturday and Monday nights. Plenty of cars will also be provided on the regular runs.

Bought Fake Teeth; Couldn't Pay Alimony

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—Mrs. Margaret F. Jacobson, of Oakland, was before Superior Judge Troutt today endeavoring to collect back alimony from John Jacobson, ship's carpenter. He had pleaded poverty, but her counsel showed that he had been working in June and several weeks had earned $60. He avered that he had topur chase a set of false teeth, which cost him more than $60 and had nothing to pay her. The couple were married in 1919 and divorced a year later. They were arrested on July 12 on the complaint of Mrs. Abbie L. Valley, 3710 McClellan street. In the complaint she states that she loaned the two men $400 on a lot in East Oakland. She claims that the lot she loaned the money was not owned by either of the men.

TEACHERS LET GO AT SECRET MEET OF SCHOOL BOARD

San Ramon Trustees Refuse To Give Reasons For Their Action; New Staff Hired.

DANVILLE, Sept. 2. — Secrecy surrounds the meeting of the trustees of the San Ramon Valley Union High school, held last Monday night, the result of which was the discharge of all of the teaching staff of the school.

Trustees E. H. Baldwin, William Meese, W. E. Stewart, J. Boucher and August Humburg have refused to disclose the reasons for their action, preferring to settle the matter by saying "We thought it best."

Both Stewart and Meese were in the bay cities today consulting teachers who it is proposed to appoint. Trustees Baldwin stated that the staff would be complete by Monday when the new term opens.

"We have decided on the staff," said Baldwin, "but Mr. Stewart has the names and they will be given out as soon as we are assured that they will accept."

The action of the board came as a distinct surprise not only to the teaching staff, but to the citizens of the school district.

ONE STUDENT AT U. C. FAILS IN PHYSICAL TEST

BERKELEY, Sept. 2.—Only one man out of nearly a thousand examined at the University of California infirmary was advised to defer registration because of physical defects. This is the statement issued today by Dr. R. T. Legge.

Dr. Legge says that each year the general health of the students entering the university has improved, until this semester the highest point has been reached. From the thousand men who applied for examination only 109 were found to have physical defects, and only one of these was told to defer his registration. This one man was the only member of the group of more than 2000 applying for admission who was turned down for physical reasons.

Dr. Legge attributes the improved physical conditions among the students to the physical training now being offered in lower schools.

Youth Found Slain In Melon Patch

SANTA ANA, Sept. 2.—The body of Chester Ebbert, nineteen-year-old oil worker, was found yesterday in the watermelon patch of Hugo Wetcel, an orange grower of Placentia, near here. Wetcel, in the county jail here while a warrant charging manslaughter was being prepared, said he had seen somebody in his watermelon patch and had fired a revolver in that direction, but thought the weapon was pointed over the intruder's head.

WIFE OF BROKER ADMITS IN COURT SHE HUGGED MAN

Mrs. Georgiana McKenzie Says Act Was Done When No One Was Looking.

Admission that Walter Brill, accused by her husband in their recent divorce case, had recently "hugged and kissed her when no one was looking" was made by Mrs. Georgiana McKenzie, former wife of William H. McKenzie, broker, on the witness stand before Superior Judge A. F. St. Sure today.

McKenzie secured a divorce several months ago, naming Brill. The case was up today on a motion by Mrs. McKenzie to take the custody of the children from McKenzie and a counter motion by him to deprive the mother of the privilege of seeing them.

"Isn't it true," asked McKenzie's attorney, "that you have hugged and kissed Walter Brill?"

"No," was the reply.

"Are you sure?"

"Well, if I did no one saw me."

"Do you mean," pursued the attorney, "that you did it when no one was looking?"

"Well, yes," was the almost whispered answer.

Mrs. McKenzie charged in her affidavit that McKenzie belittled her to the children, telling them their mother lived with a man.

"Have you tried to remedy this by not living with him?" asked the attorney.

"I don't live with him," she replied.

"He lives in your house, doesn't he?"

"No, in my mother's house. That charge isn't true and it is pretty hard to save the children's mind poisoned."

The hearing was not concluded.

YOUNGER CO-EDS NOW SEEMS RULE AT UNIVERSITY

BERKELEY, Sept. 2.—Are entering co-eds at the University of California getting younger each year, or are they merely growing older less rapidly? This query is puzzling authorities at the college, for the figures compiled by the recorder show a change in the average ages of entering women from those of years past.

Freshman women have averaged in age all the way from twenty years to eighteen and six months, says the university recorder in comparing past figures, but this year a new low mark has been hit in the ages of the co-eds. Eighteen years and two months is the average of ages, and this figure is gained from admitted ages from sixteen to thirty-five, according to the recorder.

KING MICHAEL OF MOOREA TO PRODUCE PEARLS

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—King Michael I of the Moorea Island, represented by his royal counsel, was before Superior Judge John J. Van Nostrand today in connection with defaulting in payments to the amount of $390 for the support of his daughter Bernice. He pleaded that he had nothing with which to pay but was ordered to produce valuable pearls which he is reputed to have brought from his kingdom. He said he had only fifteen of them left and was directed to bring them into court next week.

His majesty was formerly Michael Fogel, divorced husband of Mrs. Sarah Lezzeni of San Anselmo and when he went to the Moorea Island he wedded the queen Taata Mata and became the royal ruler of the realm.

Divorce Case Takes Trips Across Bay

About five months ago, Roland C. Greeninger, whose place of business and residence is in San Francisco, brought suit for divorce against Mrs. Greeninger, alleging desertion. The case was brought for trial before Superior Judge Shortall, in San Francisco county. Mrs. Greeninger, whose home is at 915 Peralta street, Berkeley, demanded and was granted a change of venue to Alameda county. When the case was called for trial here Greeninger dismissed his suit.

A week ago Mrs. Greeninger brought suit against her husband, charging cruelty. When the case was called for trial before Superior Judge A. F. St. Sure today, Greeninger demanded, and was granted, a change of venue to San Francisco county. So the case is right back where it started five months ago.

DOPE SUSPECT ARRESTED.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—Yee Ming, Oriental drayman, employed by the China Draying Company, was arrested today by immigration authorities on a charge of smuggling dope. Fifteen ounces of cocaine were reported found in his clothing.

Admission Day Significance Will Be Told

NEVER was there such a joyful celebration as that staged in San Francisco when California at last became one of the sisterhood of states. It was a greater celebration than that of Armistice Day.

"The Day California Celebrates" will be the subject of a page feature in the SUNDAY TRIBUNE, by May S. Corcoran, in which the heroic days will be reviewed. Admission Day is near. Not only every school boy and girl, but every grown-up, will want to refresh his knowledge of the beginnings of state history. Do you know that there is still standing in the Presidio grounds the famous old Arguello home, built in 1776, the day of American Independence? This is one of the interesting points brought out by Miss Corcoran, who incidentally reviews the discovery of gold, the first report of the placer fields and the great days when men deserted their ships, banks, stores and even newspapers to hurry to the gold fields.

Little Limerick Lad Finds No Daddy Waiting

SAN JOSE, Sept. 2.—The unusual story of a little Irish lad, who was sent from Ireland by his mother, in order that his father in the New Country might care for him until Ireland is settled, was told yesterday in the county probation office by Mrs. C. F. Brattan, probation officer.

The little lad set out, many weeks ago, from Limerick, a kiss from his mother on his lips and a tag on his coat, telling of his destination—"San Jose, California, America."

The purser of the steamer Apus, which was going direct to San Francisco, volunteered to look out for the lad and showed him such good times that the boy's Irish blue eyes brightened daily and he had never a moment for home-sickness.

Finally the big ship reached San Francisco and then Danny Junior, for that was the child's name, was happy, for he thought daddy was near. As soon as the ship docked the purser sent a letter to Daniel Moran, general delivery, San Jose. But no Dan Senior appeared and little Danny was left homeless.

The Apus will return to Ireland soon and the purser has solicited the aid of Mrs. Brattan and local officers in locating the father. Meanwhile the lad is here and has already won his way into hearts of policemen and probation officers. He declares that he will stay here and become a policeman when he grows up.

The officers are making a county-wide search for trace of Daniel Moran, who would, doubtless, be mighty "tickled" to get word of his son.

'Angles' Play Part in McHugh Prosecution

The matter of right angles and "left angles" played a part this morning in the trial of Joseph J. McHugh, Piedmont capitalist, on trial before Superior Judge George Samuels and a jury on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated.

William C. Harper, whose machine was passed by McHugh just before the accident, was asked by Deputy District Attorney Ralph Hoyt, who is conducting the prosecution, whether or not a certain road approached the Tunnel road at right angles. Harper thought a moment.

"Well, no," he replied, "at a slightly left angle."

Harper testified he was traveling at the rate of about 20 miles an hour when McHugh's car passed him going about twice as fast. He said that after the McHugh automobile crashed into another he helped him out of the car and that McHugh was so intoxicated he fell to the sidewalk.

Attorney William R. Geary is appearing for the defendant.

BLANKET STIFFS RIDE SANTA FE; PAY DOLLAR FARE

Hoboes Flock to "Side-Door Pullmans" and Keep All Of Company's Rules.

MARTINEZ, Sept. 2. — Rather than run the risk of fire or destruction of property by hoboes, the Santa Fe has issued an order permitting the men to ride providing they obey certain rules.

The men have taken advantage of it to such an extent that the trains going through the county carry from 50 to 100 knights of the road on each trip.

The men must pay $1 for fare; must eat at established stations and not start fires along the road, and must take berths in "empties."

The order has been in vogue for several weeks and not one violation of the orders has ben recorded. It is said that the blanket brigade has notified travelers while riding with them that no violation will be allowed.

This explains the presence of so many hoboes on the trains in the last few weeks. The men are allowed to travel between any two designated points.

The men sit in the doorway of the "side door Pullmans" and have no fear of the "shacks." Their desire to keep moving is apparent by the fact that there are as many on the westbound freights as on those going east.

Chiropractor Is Held for Trial In Contra Costa

MARTINEZ, Sept. 2. — Doctor D. E. Harvey was held to answer to the Superior Court yesterday on the charge of violating the state medical act and bonds were fixed at $250 by Justice Frank L. Glass.

Harvey was arrested on August 10 by Deputy Sheriff R. A. McNamara after a complaint had been sworn to by Paul Christensen, operative of the State Board of Medical Examiners.

The charge is that Harvey advertised himself as administering a mode of treatment to the sick and afflicted without having a valid certificate from the State Board of Examiners.

The testimony today was given by Christensen, who said he had called for treatment at the doctor's office and was administered to by him.

The physician's arrest is an incident in the campaign being conducted in all parts of the state against chiropractors.

REGAINS HER CHILD.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—Mrs. Clara Chamsky, an Austrian by birth, residing in Oakland, is happy today. She was arrested recently and charged with kidnapping her 12-year-old daughter from an orphanage here. She was traced to Oakland, and the child was returned to the orphanage.

This morning representatives of the orphanage decided the mother was capable of caring for her child. She was permitted to take the girl home with her.

CITY MAY RUN ITS POUND IF ROW IN S.P.C.A. KEEPS ON

Commissioner Colbourn Is Awaiting Outcome of Controversy on Subject.

The administration of the city pound may be taken out of the jurisdiction of the Alameda County Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals if the present controversy between factions, which is termed a "personal row," continues, according to Frank Colbourn, commissioner of public health and safety, under whose department the pound is operated by the society. The society is paid a certain sum annually for expenses.

Colbourn said today that he is sitting back watching developments, and that if the controversy does not subside in a reasonable length of time, and the administration is placed upon a sound basis, he will recommend to the city council that the city take over the pound and operate it.

"We are not anxious to take over this work," said Colbourn. "We are more than willing that the society operate it, providing the officers can work in harmony."

The controversy is over Walter H. Osborne, poundmaster, and threatened to explode at a meeting at the home of Arthur P. Holland, secretary, last Tuesday evening.

POUNDMASTER CRITICIZED.

At the meeting Dr. Thomas Carpenter, executive officer of the society, reiterated charges he had previously made against the poundmaster and criticized the methods used by the society in taking care of the pound on behalf of the city. A committee consisting of Arthur P. Holland, T. C. Judkins, president, and L. R. Alborelli, a director of the society, was appointed to investigate.

There has been friction over the retention of Osborne for some time, Carpenter maintaining that he legally holds the right to appoint the poundmaster. Osborne was appointed and is being maintained in office by Judkins and Holland, who are members of the committee appointed to look into the matter.

Recently Executive Officer Carpenter went to the pound to dismiss Osborne. Osborne refused to be dismissed and showed a pistol, according to Carpenter, and ordered him out of the building. Carpenter returned to his office and, by letter, dismissed Osborne from service, notifying the officers of the society.

As a result of Carpenter's charges, officers of the society today declared that Carpenter had brought the charges against the conduct of the society's affairs in order to disrupt the organization. Carpenter denies this. He said: "I was elected an officer of this society, and because there is an expenditure of a great deal of money contributed annually, I mean to see that it is properly spent.

OPEN MEETINGS DEMANDED.

Carpenter charges that Mrs. J. M. Mathews, a sister-in-law of Holland, and treasurer of the society, should be held responsible for the salary which is being paid Osborne. He alleges that the society is violating its by-laws by meeting at the private homes of its members. He alleges that the president and secretary acted illegally when they dismissed Arthur H. Proctor as poundmaster and appointed Osborne. He also charges that there is no justification for a humane officer to carry firearms on his person.

According to Carpenter the personnel of the board of directors is made up of eleven women and four men, with Holland, his wife, his sister-in-law, and Laura Moore, a clerk employed in a title company operated by Holland, holding official positions and directly under his command.

Labor Day Celebrated in Elmhurst School By Parade of Children in Varied Costumes

"The butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker" and several other trades and occupations were represented in a Labor Day demonstration by children of the eighth grade of the Elmhurst school. In the top picture the pupils and their teacher, MISS SAXER, are shown in parade formation. The bottom picture shows a little comedy sketch presented for the benefit of the camera man by two of the youthful celebrants.

Affair Is Beginning of Plan to Observe All National Holidays By Children.

Thirteen school children, clad in costumes representing varied types of labor, celebrated Labor day today at the Elmhurst school by a parade through the class rooms. They were pupils of the 8-B-2 grade in charge of Miss Lucia Saxer, and the celebration marks the first of a series of similar demonstrations which will be conducted by the class on every national holiday.

Despite the fact that the class consists of 13, the pupils, according to their teacher, have resolved to do away with the popular superstition regarding the number and make it stand for good luck instead of bad luck.

The following pupils took part in the celebratoon: Lynton Bridges, Alice Bement, Peter Celli, Alice Corderio, Laura Corderio, Manual Gomez, Angelina Frietas, Hilda Gonsoldes, Ollie Gobbee, Daniel Lenehan, Adeline Lenehan, Joe Travers and Agnes Lenehan.

LA FORTUNE QUITS LIBRARY BOARD

D. W. La Fortune has resigned from the city library board.

La Fortune gives as his reason for resigning that he was called as a witness to give expert testimony on the valuation of property to be purchased by the city and that his fee of $25 for giving expert testimony was withheld due to his connection with the library board, it being specified in the charter that no one man can hold two separate positions with the city.

"As a member of the library board I served without compensation," said La Fortune. "I regret that I cannot continue to give my services to the board. If my services as an expert appraiser are of more value to the city than the library position, I prefer to have it so."

Leon Gray, acting city attorney, said that La Fortune was an expert appraiser on property and was familiar with valuations.

"Since he cannot hold both positions, I personally prefer to have him serve in the position of appraiser for the city as an unbiased party in estimating valuations than on the library board."

CHECK PASSING CHARGED.

J. E. Sweeney, 21 years old, was arraigned this morning before Police Judge Ralph Richmond on a charge of passing a fictitious check for $6.50. The check was passed on H. Webb, a grocer at 606 Jones street. He was arrested last night by Police Inspectors William Kyle and Joe Robinson.

"China Is Human Ocean;" Rowell Tells of Orient

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2. — A picture of China as it is today was given by Chester Rowell in an address at the Commonwealth luncheon at noon.

"The only thing there is enough of in China," he said, "is men. Everything else has to be economized but human muscle is used with deliberate extravagance. All work is done in the hardest and most inefficient way just to make more jobs. What machines and animals do in America men do in China. The coolie is almost the only beast of burden. But though ignorant and superstitious, the coolie is not stupid and there are 400,000,000 of them. In a city like Canton where 2,000,000 are crowded in a space the size of Fresno, without a sewer and with the only garbage collection carried on by women in open baskets there are naturally numerous unphotographical sensations.

CHINA HUMAN OCEAN.

"China is a human ocean. No matter how much you pump out of the ocean, the level is unchanged. Similarly no possible emigration from China could decrease its population. The law of subtraction fails when crossed by the law of multiplication. The birth rate of China consists of all the child bearing power of all of its women during all of their child bearing years. Most of the children die in infancy and most of the rest die young. These swarming millions are the remainder. Export any number and those to take their places would not even have to wait to be born. They are born already: they would merely not die. With the ocean outside it is not a question how far, or on what terms the dikes may be opened. The only possible policy for California as the dike keepers of the racial frontier, is 'no leakage.'

JAPAN IS ATTRACTIVE.

"Japan is superficially a very attractive country. Nature made it beautiful and everything man has done to it has made it more so. The only ugly things in Japan are European houses and European clothes. Every native thing, even the humblest, like a woodpile, or a straw stack, makes unconscious art. The holidays commemorate usually not the anniversary of events, but the blossoming of flowers or the pilgrimages to the famous beauty spots. The same artistic sense illumines the manners and life of the Japanese. They are graceful, attractive people who have adorned a beautiful country. It is no wonder impressionable travelers bring back a poetized conception of Japan.

"Californians are acutely conscious that there is another side and no one who observes Japanese conditions can avoid being struck by the analogy between the present organization and situation of Japan and that of pre-war Germany. Just as there were plenty of Germans with sound views before 1914, so are there plenty of anti-militarists and liberalism in Japan now, but Germany was so organized that only the forces which were driving the world toward war could make themselves effective in government. The safety is that the world, including Japan, has had Germany's warning. Forewarned is forearmed, or better still, forestalled. Long before things come to an impasse, the good sense of both countries should be able to avert a foreseen calamity.

OPEN DIPLOMACY.

"If the international experts who assemble in Washington in November, to play on the check board of diplomacy, will but show a little more character, a little more sense, and a great deal more imagination than their predecessors at Versailles, they may demonstrate that the human race is at least/morally fit to be trusted with the forces which its intelligence has discovered."

Nightingale Enters Not Guilty Plea

Charles Nightingale, policeman, charged with killing Joseph Suppo several weeks ago, was arraigned before Superior Judge Lincoln S. Church today and pleaded not guilty to the indictment. He was represented by John H. Collier, Peter Crosby and Henry Skinner. Deputy District Attorney Frank Shay appeared for the state.

Nightingale, it is charged in the indictment, shot Joseph Suppo in the course of a fight that resulted from Nightingale's attempt to arrest Suppo and another man for a statutory crime. Nightingale declares Suppo attacked him and he drew his revolver and shot Suppo in self-defense. Evidence was introduced at Nightingale's preliminary earing to show that Suppo was shot in the back.

BAR PRESIDENT CHOSEN.

CONCINNATI, Sept. 2.—C. A. Severance, of St. Paul, Minn., was elected president of the American Bar association today. Frederick E. Wadhams of Albany, N. Y., and W. Thomas Kemp of Baltimore, Mr., were elected treasurer and secretary, respectively.

ACCUSED BY PATIENT.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2.—Patrick Berryessa, steward at the emergency hospital, was arrested today and charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor child. The child is a patient at the city hospital undergoing treatment for tonsilitis.

INDUSTRIES WEEK GETS SUPPORT OF MANY MERCHANTS

Local Dealers Pledged to Aid in Making Success of Annual Exhibition

The announced purpose of Eastbay Industries Week, October 1 to 9, to familiarize the public with the great diversity of products manufactured in the Eastbay cities, with the ultimate purpose of bringing about increased production and sales, is said already to bid fair far to exceed original expectations along this line. Backed by the associated manufacturers of the Eastbay cities, this, the first annual manufacturers' exhibition, will, it is said, be followed yearly by a similar exhibition, and will prove an active factor in the industrial and political life of Alameda and Contra Costa counties.

The plan as defined by its originators, is to have an exposition confined exclusively to the products made by local manufacturers. It will be located in the Stadium at Idora Park and its opening on Saturday, October 1, will be marked by a parade through the bay cities. The exhibition will close the Saturday night following with a carnival which will be held in the park.

NO PROFIT SOUGHT.

It is announced that the exposition will not be run for purposes of profit. It is stated that the rental charges for space will be only enough to cover actual expenses. It will be open to the public and no admission will be charged.

Further announcement is made to the effect that the co-operation of local merchants is assured by their having agreed to display local products in their windows, on their counters and to feature in their literature the phrase "Made in Eastbay Cities" during the Exposition week and the week immediately preceding it.

A committee of prominent Eastbay manufacturers is back of the project and the members of the committee state as their aim that of giving to the public an exposition that will do credit not only to local industry but to the entire community as well.

MUCH OF SPACE GONE.

It is stated that half of the available space had already been spoken for up to September 1 and, there being more than 1400 manufacturing industries in the Eastbay cities, it is anticipated that the exposition will be one of the most beneficial events in local annals.

Contracts for space may be negotiated through J. S. Martin, Exposition manager, Merchants' Exchange Building, Thirteenth and Franklin streets, Oakland; phone Oakland 5263.

George Hammer is chairman of the executive committee and A. J. Mount is trustee. Hammer announces that the annual exposition will be made one of the feature events of the industrial year.

The list of men prominent in various industries who are taking part in the preparations for the exposition includes George A. Dew, Alameda; Major E. A. Hey, Hayward; Curtis Wright, Berkeley; Roland J. Oliver, Richmond; A. H. Irving, Berkeley; Glover E. Ruckstell, Berkeley; Geo. A. Armes, J. R. Millar, Oliver S. Yorrick, J. W. Phillips, L. F. Abadie and others.

Tent Tabernacle Hot-dog Ballyho Jerked Into Jail

SAN JOSE, Sept. 2.—From hot-dog ballyhoo for an evangelistic tent to a Long Beach cell on a felony charge is only a step, Fred Pillsbury is going to learn, declare San Jose police.

Yesterday he was jerked from his ballyhoo platform, before the big tent, and transported to the city police station. There he was charged with felony embezzlement and will be sent south to Long Beach to face that charge. Maude Pillsbury, his wife, is also "wanted" in the south, but was absent when Pillsbury was taken up. A search is being made for her.

Pillsbury has created a considerable name for himself during his ministrations. "Now you've got you're religion, get a hot dawg" has been his cry to the great crowds coming from the healing services.

The concessions have been patronized heavily by persons who came two or three hours early in order to be in time for the meetings. It is claimed that the hot dogs do not bring in any profit, at ten cents a throw, being provided merely for the convenience of the persons seeking health or salvation.

Woman Sued for Breaking Contract

After G. B. Zunino had expended $410.45 in bringing Miss Albino Ferrari from Italy to Oakland to act as his housekeeper she refused to become his housekeeper or render any service for him whatever, but instead proceeded to wed another.

This is the burden of Zunino's plaint in a suit filed with County Clerk George E. Gross to recover the $410.45.

Zunino says Miss Ferrari agreed to come here from Bedonia, province of Parma, Italy, nearly two years ago to enter his employ in his household if he would pay her fare and provide her with all of the clothing and money she wished. He says he spent $262.95 for her ticket, $102.50 for clothing and $45 incidental expenses. She failed to fulfill her agreement, he charges.

Pigeons Fly 190 Miles in Two Hours

MARTINEZ, Sept. 2. — Twelve homer pigeons from the loft of Frank Prosser completed the 190 miles from Lake Tahoe yesterday in two hours, which is said to be a record.

The pigeons were taken to the lake by Dr. G. H. Henderson, who released them promptly at 10:30 a. m. A small crowd of Prosser's friends were on watch.

The first bird appeared about 12:15 just east of Benicia. Two others followed this one, and then the remaining nine came in a flock.

Nowhere is found greater longevity than in England.

Hundreds of Dahlia Blooms To Be Seen at Flower Show

MISS FLORA BENNETT in an Oakland dahlia garden, the rarest blooms of which will be shown at the third annual exhibit of the Alameda County Floral Society, opening at Hotel Oakland Sunday.

Largest Specimens in World to Be Entered at Hotel Oakland Exhibition

Hundreds of dahlia blooms representing thousands of dollars' worth of stock will mark the third annual exhibition of the Alameda County Floral Society opening in the ivory ballroom of Hotel Oakland Sunday afternoon. Growers of the brilliant flowers from all the bay cities, including not only Alameda county but San Rafael and San Francisco, are cherishing their rarest blossoms to be shown for three days in Oakland.

The largest dahlias of the world will have a place of honor among the riot of color and mass of extraordinary beauty which will again depict San Francisco bay district as the land of flowers. Growers have attempted to perfect new strains and achieve unusual results to be offered at the floral fair. Among the exhibitors whose gardens have become famous and who will make entries are: Mrs. Jessie Seal, Bessie Boston, F. C. Burns, of San Rafael, John Davie of San Francisco, Carl Salbach and many others.

Cups will be awarded by a board of judges on the opening day. Edwhrd Hume is among those who are offering the trophies for dahlia perfection.

The annual exhibit will be open during the afternoons and evenings of September 4, 5 and 6.

L. A. THIEVES DIG TUNNEL, SPIRIT AWAY IRON SAFE

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 2.—Bandits, who operated with unusual daring, tunneled their way into A. Sam Seelig company grocery in Hollywood early today and escaped with a safe containing more than $300.

The thieves made a large hole in the brick wall with picks, shovels and crowbars, then, with block and tackle, pulled the heavy safe to the opening and loaded it into a waiting automobile.

Police believe the same band later lowered themselves through a skylight into the jewelry store of E. E. Crane on South Hill street. Crane reported to the police that jewelry worth several thousand dollars was stolen.

TWO HURT IN COLLISION.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—Fritz Olsen, shipowner of San Francisco and a resident of Menlo Park, was slightly injured today and Romeo Domenconi, 44 Bernard street, butcher wagon driver, was severely injured when Olsen's car crashed into the wagon driven by the boy at Post and Webster street.

Golden Gate Departs With U.S. Ambassador

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—The Pacific Mail steamer Golden Gate, which was scheduled to sail Wednesday for Hongkong, got away early today. After pulling out from her dock it was found that her "blower" was out of commission. She had to remain in the stream for 36 hours until the necessary repairs could be effected. Charles B. Warren, new ambassador to Japan, is one of the passengers on the vessel.

EXPERT ADMITS BIGAMY; 'WIFE' CONTRADICTS HIM

Dwight Thompson Makes Peculiar Confession in Contest for Child's Custody.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—The admission of bigamy on the part of Dwight Thompson, valuation expert of the Interstate Commerce Commission, before Judge Van Nostrand today, coupled with repudiation of him by the woman who he had confessed was his bigamous wife, were developments in the case of Mrs. Ethel Wallace, who is seeking the custody of her child, Ethyl Marion La Verne.

The child, whom Mrs. Wallace was originally accused of kidnapping, was in court today, but in custody of the San Mateo county officials. Thompson, in open court, declared that he was married to Mrs. Wallace's step-mother, and that without having obtained any divorce from her, wedded the daughter. This was in 1912, he declared, and it was not until 1914 that he obtained a divorce from the step-mother.

His marriage with Mrs. Wallace, he asserted, was under the name of La Verne. Then Mrs. Wallace just as positively asserted that Thompson was not La Verne, and was not the man whom she had married, and who is the father of her child. She declared she had married Thompson in 1917, because she was afraid of him, and that she had been afraid of him all her life, but that that was the first wedding with him, and that he was not and never had been La Verne.

In view of these remarkable developments, Judge Van Nostrand continued the case for two weeks, meantime sending the child back to the custody of the juvenile court, at Redwood.

Street Car Patron Cleared of Assault

Judge Ralph Richmond, sitting for Judge Harry W. Pulcifer, today dismissed the charge of assault with a deadly weapon against Hobart Pollard, colored, accused of stabbing Alex. Smith, motorman for the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways. The dismissal was on motion of Deputy District Attorney Wade Snook.

Pollard was accused of attacking Smith after a dispute over the fact that Pollard had been carried beyond his corner in Emeryville. Smith, who swore to the warrant, testified that following the argument Pollard called him an objectionable name and he attacked Pollard with his controller bar, after which Pollard made the assault with the knife.

Snook said, after hearing Smith's testimony, it was evident from the complaining witness' own testimony that Pollard's action was in self-defense and promptly moved for a dismissal.

Mother Produces Son's Will in Court

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—Mrs. Betty Arnstein did not appear before Superior Judge Graham today in connection with the litigation in which she is involved with her daughter-in-law, Ruth Meyers, but she did send the will of her son, who died last year, and which Mrs. Meyers has been endeavoring to get hold of. The will showed that in 1916 Meyers had bequeathed all his property to Ruth Cohn who subsequently became his wife and is now Ruth Meyers. The latter has procured a warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Arnstein on charges of extortion.

RESERVE AND PATIENCE.

President Harding, in addressing the graduates of the military college at West Point, reminded the new army officers that he could place no reliance in the hope that there would ever come a time when the use of military force for the defense of the nation could be avoided. There was a prospect, he said, of an international understanding for the limitation of naval and military armaments, but this is quite different from abolition.

Confidence among nations must be the basis for reduction or limitation of military and naval forces, and President Harding is ready to build as largely as possible on this foundation. But he is not depending upon it entirely, and he warns the country that such dependence is unsafe.

This is a rational view to take concerning the proposed conference on armaments. If understanding and confidence among the nations can be established all will be well, or better than at present. In the past naval building has been provoked by dangers and fears. Remove these fears and expensive competition in battleships will not be necessary.

But the country should be mindful of the fact that only comparable and relative success is possible at the proposed conference. Perhaps no immediate results will be possible at all; that the best obtainable will be an agreement of the nations represented to study the question. Unless this conservative view is taken the country is apt to be bitterly disappointed.

If the demands of Senator Borah and others to throw the conference open to the public and press are served, it will resolve itself into a talk-fest, with all the official representatives afraid to talk, and nothing of a substantial character will be achieved. And there may be other influences calculated to wreck or impair the conference.

WAR IN WEST VIRGINIA.

It is a sorry spectacle in West Virginia, where a state of civil war actually exists with former workers in the coal mines of the Mingo district on one side and law officers and mine guards on the other. Casualties already have been heavy and the end of the fighting is not in sight.

President Harding has been impressed with the seriousness of the situation and has issued a proclamation warning the people of West Virginia that it may devolve upon the federal government to declare martial law in that State and to put the regular army in charge of the maintenance of order. This would mean acknowledgment of the failure of the State authorities to perform their duty.

But inasmuch as it was apparent some weeks back that the local authorities were not disposed or adequate for safeguarding lives and property, it would have been much more profitable if martial law was established before so many citizens have been killed or injured.

It is always the policy of the government—and very properly so—to delay sending military force to disturbed districts, but in the case of Mingo due warning was given. There was an actual organization of some 4000 men marching on towns with the announced purpose to capture and hold them. General Bandholtz of the army, who went to make a personal investigation of the situation, was deceived into believing there was no danger, for he reported that the danger of trouble had passed.

But procrastination and evasion again has earned a penalty and now the government must act, after fighting and bloodshed that should have been prevented.

ADMIRAL McKEAN'S NEW POST.

Assignment of Rear Admiral McKean to the command of the naval station at Mare Island brings another distinguished naval officer to an important post on the Pacific Coast. At the same time, Mare Island Navy Yard is placed in charge of an officer of higher rank than it heretofore has known as commandant.

Admiral McKean was a member of the special board appointed by former Secretary of the Navy Daniels to go over the findings of the Helm commission, which previously had investigated the situation on this coast as to the establishment of a new naval base and other naval accommodations. The McKean board approved the Helm report wherein it recommended Alameda as the site of the new naval base.

Thus the new commandant at Mare Island is thoroughly acquainted with the deficiencies in accommodations for the Pacific Fleet and with the opportunities to make them good. Moreover, he is a distinguished expert in naval administration who at once should become as popular at Mare Island as he is elsewhere throughout the country.

DISILLUSIONMENT.

Alexander Schwarz is a Russian who came to this country and married an American woman. He was a revolutionist under the regime of Czarism and his wife was a Socialist of the American brand.

When the soviet chiefs gained control in Russia and inaugurated their communist and bolshevist utopia Mr. and Mrs. Schwarz went to Russia to enjoy it. Their experience was disheartening as well as disillusioning. Their eyes were opened. They were thrown into a bolshevik prison, where Mrs. Schwarz died.

The husband was finally released and returned to this country to write a book in which were included some of his experiences. That book has much to say about the failures of Bolshevism, as was to be expected of one who had gone to Russia for a first hand experiment. But that may be passed over for a pathetic little lesson of another sort. Mr. Schwarz is in Moscow, telling his wife, disappointed and amazed at what she has seen, of how different Moscow was in other days:

"So I told her how clean the streets used to be kept; of the troikas that used to race through the boulevards in winter with their silver bells; of the porter at the door of every house, who used to wash the pavements with water every morning, standing in the doorway with a white apron for the rest of the day; of the order that reigned everywhere; the gorgeous shops where everything in the world could be bought; the restaurants with their gypsy orchestras; the great crowds and marvelous music in the churches; of the festivities in the parks—of everything that came to mind, as part of the brilliant despotic civilization that one recalled now as a distant and faint memory of something beautiful that is gone forever. I told her that the air rang with the sound of bells from the churches in the Kremlin and from every part of the city on Sundays and sacred days. . . .

"'But that was bad, Mitri,' she said, "'and the poor man suffered to produce all that wealth and beauty."

"'Yes, I said, 'It was bad, and I fought against it."

One would have to be very hard-hearted not to be impressed with the pathos of this little interchange of simple sentiment between the pair of socialist pilgrims, says the New York Weekly Review. "But unless one is soft-headed, one must recognize the fatal intellectual error that lies behind the naive sentiment. The things that happen in this world as the result of a given organization of society are not, like the characters in a child's tale, to be classified as good or bad, but as better or worse."

There are things of wealth and beauty in every civilized country and everywhere there are persons to lament them because, in their opinion, some one suffered to produce them. They do not trouble to enquire of the worker whether he suffered. They decide that his suffering was a matter of course, because there is created wealth and beauty.

It is fruitless to try to say how much truth is in the Socialists verdict on this point. But it is timely to note that there has been less suffering—much less—than now is endured under the Socialistic system in Russia. There the suffering has been tragic, ghastly, futile, with no contribution to wealth and beauty, to art, letters and science; to political or economic advance.

ADVICE FOR CHAIRMAN LASKER.

Chairman Lasker of the Shipping Board welcomes good advice, and he certainly receives some from Charles H. Potter, president of the United States Ship Operators' Association. He has sent the chairman a timely letter. There is a deserved rebuke in Mr. Potter's protest against the tendency in administration and Congressional circles to confuse those operators who have abused the allocation tonnage privilege with those who have given the government a square deal and been true to their trust. Mr. Potter is not enthusiastic about the "bare boat" charter. He thinks that it would put most of the ships in the hands of a few influential operators and thus tend to reduce competition; also, that it might tempt a certain type of charterer to gamble on future conditions. He fears, too, that under present trade conditions the bare boat charter would not greatly diminish the number of ships tied up. But what form of contract is to take the place of it with promise of relieving the Shipping Board? The latter cannot subsidize the operators.

Mr. Potter offers some suggestions to Chairman Lasker, who admits he has much to learn about shipping. The number of owners, and, of course, operators, must be widely distributed. There must be no monopolistic control. The ultimate market for government tonnage should be developed. Private operators must not be expected to assume a certain loss. The government should share it. Unnecessary trade routes should be eliminated. Competition between government owned and privately owned vessels it were well to avoid. Only honest and energetic operators should be considered by the board. Great Britain has flourished by promoting the tramp ship service. Her example should be followed. Government overhead expenses should be cut. And the climax is this: All laws and regulations hampering American shipping must be modified or done away with.

In the saying, all this is so easy. What Shipping Board chairman has not entertained all these ideas and turned them over in his mind? On paper the program is excellent. But Mr. Potter does not help the harassed new chairman. In what way are hampering laws to be amended and how is Congress to be influenced to change them for the better? The key to success is legislation, but until industrial conditions improve in the trading countries the lawmakers will be slow to move.—New York Times.

NOTES and COMMENT

The Federal shipping board is enjoying much press attention for its achievement in selling 205 new ships for $2100 apiece. But really it may have been wise salesmanship. Though the vessels cost $200,000,000, it was better to realize $420,000 on them than to invest a further sum in having them towed out in the ocean and sunk. After reiterating that the transactions of the war-time board were wierd, about all that remains is to let it go at that.

Everything was going nicely in the machine of Sidney Maudlin until the bee attempted to cross the road ahead of the machine. FOOD FOR THOUGHT, ALSO.

OUR WEATHER GOES NORTH

A period of drought and heat seldom equaled during the lifetime of the oldest amateur weather observer has "the world" in its grip, according to statements that have appeared over and over again during the last few months; and scores of theories have been advanced to account for this "worldwide" condition. That the altered weather situation is not so general as has been assumed and that it is less a case of undersupply than under-distribution—to use marketing phrases—is brought out in the following bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

"Because we are most familiar with North America and Europe and receive the vast majority of our telegraphic despatches from places on those two continents, we more or less naturally fall into the error of considering American and European conditions to be typical of world conditions," says the bulletin. "This is true of the abnormally warm and dry weather that has been experienced during the past two or three months, probably over the middle latitudes of the entire northern hemisphere, but which we certainly know to have been prevalent only in a part of that region.

"The United States Weather Bureau receives reports from localities spread over as great an area as that covered by any other meteorological agency, yet its operations are confined almost entirely to the northern hemisphere. And since the outbreak of the World War the Bureau's reports do not cover either European Russia or Siberia, which together make up nearly a half of the continental land rim about the North Pole. We definitely know, however, that the present summer has been somewhat warmer than usual in Alaska; that the heat and dryness in the United States east of the Rockies and north of the Southern States has been more pronounced than usual; and that the same factors have raised the average temperature in Canada and ripened the crops earlier than usual. Because of heat, and possibly thinner ice, bergs have been more numerous than usual in the North Atlantic; England has suffered from a drought which has made dangerous inroads into the London water supply; and the heat has been oppressive in many parts of Europe, the mercury even rising much higher than usual in parts of Switzerland. Doubtless the famine in southeastern Russia is also in part due to an abnormal period of heat and drought.

"The immediate cause of the warmer and dryer weather in the parts of the northern hemisphere with which we are most familiar is a temporary shifting of the belts of high and low barometric pressure northward from their usual locations. It can hardly be said that the northern hemisphere as a whole is experiencing any different weather than usual. Rather, it might be said that we are getting the weather that belongs to the south of us, while our own normal weather has gone to minister to the Eskimos.

"These areas of high and low pressure play an all-important part in furnishing the world with its weather. Ordinarily their locations, if they are relatively stationary, and their paths, if they move, are pretty well known. The 'highs,' roughly, mean stagnation; they mark the 'horse latitudes' of the mariners—regions of calms and light, shifting, undependable winds. The 'lows,' on the other hand, may be considered the great ladles with which Nature stirs her weather brew.

"Usually in the summer a succession of 'lows' forms over interior Alaska, drifts down east of the Rockies, traverses the northern portion of the United States and passes from the continent down the St. Lawrence valley. In their paths these 'lows' usually leave changes in wind direction, lower temperature and perhaps rain. They are disturbers of the status quo. The 'highs,' more nearly stationary, usually stand like sentinels off the middle Pacific and Atlantic shores, and herd the drifting 'lows' to the northward at arm's length.

"This summer the North Atlantic 'high' has spread out in all directions to a much greater extent than usual and covers a greatly increased area, even encroaching on the North American and European continents. The result is that the path of the 'lows' has been pushed farther north. In America the disturbances that are counted upon to stir up the weather periodically in the northern States recently have not drifted as far south as the Canadian border, and when they have advanced so far have seemed to bounce off as though a weather wall had been set up along the boundary. On the other side of the Atlantic the disturbances which usually crossed England and southern and central Europe have been shifted off to the north of Norway. Doubtless the rains which should have watered our northern States and the 'Tight Little Isle' have fallen in the muskegs about Hudson Bay, on Greenland's icy mountains, and on the frozen wastes north of Europe and Siberia where the midnight sun is shining.

"What has caused the northward shifting of the pressure belts that has given us our abnormal summer is a question about which scientists, in the absence of full data, can only conjecture. Possibly the secret lies in the southern hemisphere from which practically no meteorological reports are available. It will be only when the cables assemble reports daily from practically all sections of the earth that this and other abstruse weather problems can be fully solved."

About YOUR HEALTH

Why Arthritis May Come From Many Varying Causes

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
Commissioner of Health, New York City.

Like other parts of our bodies, our joints are liable to disease. Inflammation of a joint is called "arthritis."

Injuries may cause arthritis but almost always this disease is secondary to some other condition. Usually the producing disease is characterized by the formation of pus.

Among the pus-forming conditions which may be followed by inflammation of the joints are abscesses at the root of the teeth and "pyorrhoea."

Pyorrhoea is a disease of the gums around the teeth. In advanced cases pus forms and gradually this is absorbed by the system. After a while, as a result, a joint here and there may become inflamed.

Diseased tonsils, where they become pus infected, may result in arthritis. So also the nasal sinuses may be centers of pus production and be the cause of disease of the joints.

If elimination of the bodily wastes or poisons is interfered with the joints may be affected. Failure of function of the kidneys or intestines may thus become a cause for arthritis.

Some of the general diseases, like tuberculosis, typhoid fever, scarlet fever, the social diseases and rheumatism may direct part of their attack against the joints.

You see, it is not necessary to have a wound or endure direct injury in order to damage and infect the joints. The germs of disease may be carried through the blood-vessels or the lymph channels.

It is not so common in America, but in some countries gout is a great factor in the production of this disease.

The symptoms of arthritis vary greatly. In some cases the joints—for instance, of the fingers—swell enormously. They become red, hot and exceedingly tender to the touch. All the familiar signs of inflammation are present. The joints may be moved, but it is painful to do it. While the deformity is conspicuous the function of the joint is not lost.

In other cases the deformity is hardly to be noticed, but the joint is stiff at first, and finally entirely incapable of motion.

In arthritis from acute rheumatism there is high fever. In these cases a number of joints may be involved at the same time.

The first indication for treatment in the acute and painful cases of arthritis is rest and quiet. The joint is fixed by splints and bandages, and thus protected against movement.

In the chronic and painless form, fixation in one position is undesirable. It may lead to permanent stiffness and uselessness of the joint. Baking, when the joint is placed in a chamber and exposed to very hot air, is considered a valuable procedure. Massage and careful movement of the joint are helpful. If a baking outfit is not available, hot compresses may be applied at frequent intervals.

If pus forms in the joint it must be drawn off by operation.

Sometimes vaccines are employed in the treatment of arthritis.

Needless to say, the possible effects of this disease are so serious that skilled medical care should be called upon at the earliest possible moment.

WATER RATE RAISE TO BE FOUGHT HERE

City Attorney Gray Will Contend the East Bay Company Should Remove 'Surcharge' Instead of Asking Increase

The announced intention of the East Bay Water Company to apply for permission to increase its rates will be tought before the railroad commission by City Attorney Leon Gray of Oakland. Gray said today that it was his intention to make the first move in the matter, and that this would be an attempt to have the "surcharge" imposed on water users removed.

"This is not the proper time for increases in rates," Gray said, "and we will fight any such move. I cannot see where the capitalization justifies the move, and, accordingly, we will press our application for a reduction in the charges."

The issues, which have been plainly drawn in open statements by Gray and the water company officials, also include the question of what is known as the Class B stock issue. Gray contends that this stock should not draw dividends as it belonged to an old promotion era, and says that if the dividends are paid on it that the increase in rates must follow.

The company position is that the stock B is entitled to the dividends in fairness and in the law.

SEES NO NEED FOR RAISE.

Gray in a statement issued today said:

"A forecast of increased rates has already been published and the statements of water officials bear it out.

"The water company as well as any other concern is entitled to justice; but when dividends must be paid on a lot of this old stock like the Class B, as well as the live securities, it can easily be seen that the water company must make increased earnings. Increased earnings can only mean increased rates.

"I see no reason why the water user should pay more in order that the company may give dividends to the holders of ancient stock certificates which belonged in the old promotion era, and the city attorney's office will certainly take a hand in the matter."

DIVIDENDS CLAIMED.

The following statement regarding the bonds was issued by the water company today:

"The 'B' preferred stock of the East Bay Water Company is entitled to dividends. Because of the limited revenues of the company the 'B' stockholders have enjoyed no dividends for the past five years, but this stock represents real value and money actually invested in this property.

"The total stocks and bonds of this company outstanding at their face or par value are less than the value of this company's property as fixed by the Railroad Commission in 1915, with actual cash invested in the property since, making a total in round figures of over $24,000,000, whereas the total stock and bonds outstanding at their par value amount to $21,000,000 in round figures.

"It is in the interest of consumers that dividends be paid on 'B' preferred stock, because such dividends would immediately increase the market price of both the bonds and 'A' preferred stock of this company, enabling it to obtain money for further improvement of the system at very much less cost than is possible today. Furthermore, in fairness and in law, the 'B' stockholders are entitled to these dividends.

"The purpose of the company in applying for increased rates will be to seek to obtain a fair return on the value of its property, such as is ordinarily accorded to public utilities in the state of California; also to provide the company with sufficient revenue to pay the necessary interest and dividends on bonds and stock to be sold for the purpose of obtaining money to make such improvements to the company's plant as will enable it to give better service in the various communities in the Eastbay region."

Students Are Not 'Prudes,' Says Dress Reform Leader

BERKELEY, Sept. 2.—Leaders in women students' activities at the university are not "prudes." Miss Isabel Woodbury, president of the Woman's Council, wants the world to know this fact.

"Like pretty clothes? Certainly we do," says Miss Woodbury. "But we believe that there is a time and place for everything. In all this talk of dress reform, we are not barring pretty clothes. Beauty we think can be combined with simplicity and it is simplicity that we are after."

Miss Woodbury with other leaders is engaged in work on a "dressing code," which will come before the Woman's Council at its next meeting.

As an example to other college girls, Miss Woodbury appears in a modest but becoming sports attire. A purple jersey coat, white skirt and waist, low-heeled oxfords comprise her favorite costume. Covered ears are not placed under the ban as she sees it for she wears her wavy blond hair in the prevailing mode.

When she's not in classes, Miss Woodbury is engaged in social service work at the University Young Women's Christian Association. She comes from Riverside.

Gingham dresses for summer, one-piece wool frocks for winter, sports attire and neat suits are among the styles of wearing apparel approved by Miss Woodbury.

"If a girl only knew how much prettier she looked in a simple gingham dress than in silk skirts, georgette waists and other fancy attire she'd choose the gingham frock every time," says the co-ed leader.

College Dramatics To Be Reorganized

BERKELEY, Sept. 2.—Reorganization of college dramatics is planned. At present there are several separate organizations and it is the plan to unite them under the associated student body. President Barrows plans to have each group elect representatives to a central dramatic council.

LOONEY? OH, NO; U. C. INITIATION ON, THAT'S ALL

BERKELEY, Sept. 2.—If a young man should rush up to your side while you are in Berkeley within the next few days, and should seize your packages, and march silently beside you, think nothing of it.

If another young man should kneel before you and beg your hand in marriage, ignore him.

This is the advice given today by co-eds at the University of California, for initiation week begins today for many of the fraternities, and strange things are done during initiation week.

During this period, the neophytes, who are to be initiated into the mysteries of the Greek letter societies, must do the bidding of any of the members of the organizations, and the co-eds say that experience has shown these requests to take queer forms.

CHEMISTRY CLUB DANCE.

BERKELEY, Sept. 2.—Attractive features are planned for tonight's dance of the Chemistry Club of the university to be given in Harmon gymnasium. The dance will be open to the public. A jazz orchestra will play from the middle of the gym floor.

MIDNIGHT OIL BURNER HERO, SAYS BARROWS

BERKELEY, Sept. 2.—Burners of the mid-night oil receive as much praise and recognition at the University of California as do the heroes of the football field, says President David P. Barrows.

According to PPresident Barrows, the studious type of collegian receives greater glory in the west, than do the students of similar types at eastern colleges.

In answer to the claim of President Hadley of Yale University, that all of the fame goes to the athletes, and that the students are ignored, President Barrows says.

"In the west studiousness has its rewards as well as athletic prowess. I believe that this is emphasized to a greater degree at California than at any other university."

BOY BICYCLIST HURT.

BERKELEY, Sept. 2.—Giles Hunter, 11 years old, 1900 Parker street, while on his way to school on a bicycle today was struck at University avenue and Oxford street by an auto driven by W. W. Distelhurst. Distelhurst took the boy to the office of Dr. Moffett where he was treated for bruises and contusions. Distelhurst, who is a stranger in Berkeley, said he became confused on turning the corner with his car.

Holding a Husband

The Way Madge and Dicky Made Their Long Journey.

Dicky's prophecy was only too truly fulfilled The train was so late that waiting for it became one long-drawn-out agony of fatigue It was due at Aberdeen at 9 30, yet midnight found us still sitting on the long bench seat which ran around three sides of the room

A number of other travelers shared our vigil, and for awhile I amused myself with watching the manner in which the different people took the long delay One tall, thin woman with a lorgnette which she kept in constant use walked regularly to the ticket window every ten minutes and asked the perspiring ticket agent how late the train was I marveled at the unfailing courtesy with which he answered her, although he had announced shortly after the train was due, that it was delayed, and that he would call out the hour of its arrival in plenty of time for everybody to get their things together

THE LONG WAIT

Another stout middle-aged woman, with a strong, good-humored face, amused me in far different fashion She was accompanied by two attractive-looking children and a lanky West Indian maid, and she was evidently accustomed to making herself comfortable and at home in all sorts of places

She wasted no time in questions After the first announcement of the ticket agent she improvised a couch on the seat out of a steamer rug which rolled tightly in a shawlstrap was one of her bundles, put the two children on it, and covered them with their outer coats and her own heavy English top-coat. Then with a kindly question to the maid as to her comfort, she opened a large suitcase bulging with an assortment of clothing hastily and badly packed, and an immense portfolio like a lawyer's brief case, overflowing with all sorts of papers, and proceeded to sort and repack in as leisurely and unperturbed a fashion as if she were in her own bedroom at home

I guessed that she had prepared for this journey upon very short notice, had been compelled to 'throw things together," and was seizing the first opportunity to arrange them properly I also decided that she was one of those women who have so many irons in the fire that they never get any of them properly tempered, and I was guilty of a Pharisaical gladness as I contrasted my own preparedness of packing with the haste and confusion which her suitcase betrayed

The other travelers ran the gamut between the nervousness of the tall, thin woman and the placid composure of the stout one The men spent their time in traveling back and forth between the station and what in old times had been the barroom of a small hotel across the courtyard from the station

THE JOURNEY'S END

Dicky and Maj Grantland investigated the accommodations of the hotel and ruefully reported that there was no suitable place for a woman to rest They made me as comfortable as possible in a corner of the room, with my feet on a suitcase, a topcoat behind me for a pillow and another spread over my knees In this fashion I read and dozed the time away, except for the intervals when, cramped beyond endurance, I rose and walked up and down the platform.

It was past 3 o clock when—after two or three false alarms which brought everybody out on the platform in readiness to go, and then sent them back to the shelter of the station again—the long-expected train finally screeched its way down the track, and the fatigued and exasperated passengers clambered on as hastily as possible

"Good-bye!' Hugh Grantland held out his hand to Dicky and then to me when we were safely aboard "I do trust you have a pleasant journey"

"Why! Aren't you going north on this train also'" Dicky and I stammered the question in concert

"Unfortunately, no' he answered "I am not going north for two or three days. But I'll try to see you when I do get there"

"Be sure you do, Dicky replied as the officer lifted his hat and jumped from the train just as it was about to pull out.

But I, who understood his every inflection so well, knew that there were no real cordiality in the invitation I knew also, as in his wake I followed a grinning porter down the aisle to the drawing room Major Grantland's thoughtfulness had provided for us, that the fact of the officer's remaining behind had in some curious fashion made him angry

Brrr—— I suppose you know how cold it is in Boston Well, anyhow, it doesn't matter if you don't But it was most as cold as Valley Forge so Snookums thought. But of course, you don't know who that important person is We'll call him Snooky for short because his real name is George Washington Bamborough That is the only thing he inherited

Well, he thought that he might get something to eat at the Boston Jail seeing as he didn't have anywhere else to get it So he was thinking how he was to get into jail

Now, of course, you know that when your stomach feels like an apple barrel that hasn't anything in it—well, you feel kinda desperate Who should he see coming but a girl with her nose in the air as if she was It Snooky thought, "Well, here's where I get some eats I know how screamish girls are and I'm just going to pinch this one" So as the girl came by he pinched her and instead of screaming and calling a policeman she gave our Snooky a hand slap full on the jaw

Failure number one

He said to himself, 'Snooky, see here I'm hungry and I'm going to get something to eat" feeling of his chewing apparatus (his jaw) Well his eyes fell upon the fire alarm box He thought "Gee whiz that ought to work' So up he went and broke the glass, but sorrow of sorrows it didn't ring, but instead the glass fell to the ground with a clatter 'Here, shut up with that racket" came a voice in tones of thunder and as usual after thunder comes rain and a bucket full of boiling soapsuds came down upon our hero

Failure number two

Along the street who should George Washington Bamborough see but an image of himself in little sissified clothes by his mother You see, it was an entirely different personage than Snooky Here's another chance. That "sissified' person's mother stopped to gossip and Snooky grabbed the sissy and gagged him with a handkerchief changed clothes in a nearby alley and stood forth a new person 'Sissified's" mother looked around and finding her son gone yelled to the police A policeman came and grabbed 'Sissified,' who had Snook's clothes on, and said, "Where is Lambert?"

(You see, Lambert is the sissy who had Snook's clothes on) 'I am him" yelled Lambert "You are not—oh, here he is" exclaimed Lambert's mother, indicating Snooks

I am not' exclaimed Snooks A heated argument went on and in the end Snooks confessed But the lady said that they looked so much alike that she'd take them both for her sons, as Snooks had taught both she and her son a lesson

So that is the way that George Washington Bamborough got his square meal

I believe in wireless outfits patent egg beaters, permanent waves, ice cream cones and other modern scientific improvements I believe that since man has to be civilized, it is well to alleviate his lot as much as possible by science—but I want my science in moderation Particularly in regard to bodily ills

This business of going to a doctor with a hangnail and returning with congenital insanity is too much for my patience I realize of course that it's largely our own fault We don't want any hangnail diagnoses We want our money's worth—and we get it Time was when Johnny cut his leg playing hookey all he got was a scrubbing with sheep dip and a licking But now they call in a whole clinic and by the time they get through with Johnny they've taken his blood test, looked up all his ancestry, and put every one of his vital organs in a card file

Human machines are mighty delicate engines, and most of 'em have a few spark plugs or a cylinder missing But what of it? Life must be lived just the same and it won't do you much good to have them rummage through your constituents and prove to you that your great-great-grandfather was hopelessly afflicted with the pip and that therefore you're doomed to a mere 66 1-3 per cent of usefulness If they could really cure your great-great-grandfather's pip, all would be Okey But they've simply provided you with a Boogey Man and a permanent Alibi for Failure

So let grandpa's pip alone, say I Go out and grab Life while the grabbing is good. If you have congenital insanity, forget all about it until you begin to foam at the mouth—and the chances are strong that you'll never foam

No forest fire ever raged a fiercer course than the divorce question is raging through the Jerry column. Every angle of the question is being attacked and every attack, whether for or against divorce seems to bring to light some worth-while point for consideration As previously stated, Jerry is not an active participant in this controversy She is here to welcome all comers and she acts only in the capacity of referee, crying out for tolerance and fairness whatever may be the combat And in no discussion in the world is tolerance and fairness so needed as in the question of divorce People who are just and square in every other issue, often refuse to use any of their "sporting instincts' in discussing divorce and proceed with blind and bitter prejudice Such tactics cannot help any cause If a thing is worth loyalty it will stand open, fair discussion. So if YOU have an opinion on this subject let us hear it Don't mince words—let us know all you think and why you think that way.

Mr T H Hillis has taken an active part in this discussion since its inception He does not approve of divorce and considers all men who obtain divorces scoundrels Mr Hillis has sons with splendid war records He has reared these sons in the highest ideals of honorable manliness Jerry asked him what he would say if one of his sons had married a woman who proved utterly incompatible or even worse and he were forced to leave her This is his reply

Dear Geraldine—You ask what I would say if one of my boys would leave his wife with the excuse that he wanted a change I would use some strong language about it because he had better training and example. In Canada part of the marriage ceremony says—"till death do us part." That is what it means. In California, on the contrary, part of the vows seem to read "until I want a change" and it goes It is a rare thing to have a divorce up there, though things are loosening up a bit, but there are still more divorces in a month in Oakland than in Canada in a year. A short time ago I saw a report that 48 per cent of the marriages in San Francisco ended in divorce. If that is not disgusting some other word should be invented to fit it. What will be the result of such things? It would be a great deal better not to have any such thing as divorce It might be hard on a few who need it but very few After living over fifty years, and having a fairly active life, I never knew but one man who had been divorced. They do not think or talk of such a thing there and could not get one unless for good cause Wives are not treated like a pair of old shoes to be thrown away when a little worn or faded.
J. HILLIS, 2331 27th Ave.

Pardon me, Friend, but I did not ask 'what you would say if one of your boys left his wife with the excuse that he wanted a change" I asked you what you would say if his married life crashed into irretrievable tragedy through no fault of his own, and, perhaps, no fault of the young woman Such things do happen. Would you have all the hope of his fine young manhood imprisoned in the prison of a loveless marriage? Every word you write breathes chivalry to women If you had a daughter and she were unfortunate enough to marry a brute, a rake, a diseased wreck, an irritable tyrant, as so many young girls do marry—would you consider it the greater chivalry to legally compel her to abide in that union? Would you deny her any chance to find joyful service in a new home in a cleaner love or in decent freedom? What is your answer to that?

No intelligent person can deny that the present matrimonial condition is a menace to the nation They feel that something must be done and done speedily The great cry is WHAT SHALL WE DO? Those opposed to divorce maintain that the present ceremony is based upon the Christian religion and, as such, is not amenable to any change Those in favor of divorce say that marriage is essentially a civil institution, and that while it may develop spiritual richness, it should be regarded primarily as one of the national functions and that religion should play no more part in it than it does in any other governmental function Both viewpoints deserve sincere consideration The following letter gives the other side

Dear Geraldine—I have been reading the discussions on divorce with lots of interest, and the more I read the madder I get You would think that most of these writers who hate divorce so were talking about cows or pigs instead of about human beings They never seem to take broken hearts into consideration at all but would herd us into stalls and keep us there

It seems to me that the main trouble is that people insist on mixing up a lot of religion with the divorce question, and that it doesn't belong there Now I believe in religion, Jerry, and I go to church every Sunday morning And I believe, too, that a happy marriage is about the nearest thing to Heaven and God that we can know But I don't believe that getting married is a religious proposition, and I don't think it should be governed by religious laws We don't make folks who become citizens of the United States pass any certain religious examinations or join any church We don't mix up religions with any of the other parts of our government Then why should be make those same citizens later on obey the rules of the Christian church when they want to get married They may not be Christians at all. They may belong to other religious beliefs entirely

I think this nation ought to get to work and make a lot of sensible, strong laws governing everything about marriage and children Those laws should be the same in every state and they should be broad enough to apply to every kind of people that come to us I believe they ought to make it a very great deal harder to get married, and they should give divorce on certain sensible grounds and allow people to remarry. It seems to me the main duty of a nation is to keep its people happy and useful, and that it ought to put a stop to anything that makes them unhappy or useless, because that threatens the whole nation. If bad marriages make people unhappy or useles, what is there noble about staying in them? I believe in churches, but there are a whole lot of things we do without the advice of the churches, government things Then why not do this biggest thing of all?
MRS. H. F——.

You have stated your viewpoint so ably, Pal, that there does not seem to be much that Jerry can add. What do the rest of you think of it?

J. G—Golly, boy, but I got a kick out of your letter. Some little cave man, aren't you? All right, I won't say another word kidding you, but I am terribly serious when I say that little girls shouldn't joke and flirt to the extent of letting married, or single men for that matter, kiss her and hug her. You can tell her that Jerry said so, too, for it is such familiarity that takes the brightness and freshness from youth

AT THE OFFICE WITH DAD

Most fun that I ever had
Was goin' down to work with Dad
Nothing ever pleased me so,
As when he'd smile an' say, "Let's go
To the office, and maybe
You can do some things for me."
Then he'd always act as though
I was big and had to go.

Met the janitor, and he Showed most everything to me;
Met the president, who said
That his little boy was dead,
And my father should be glad
Still to have his little lad,
And he sighed and wiped his eye,
Now I understand just why

Now I'm old and wiser grown,
With a youngster of my own,
And at times that little lad
Begs to go to work with Dad,
Likes to occupy a chair
In the downtown office, where Everything seems strange and new,
And there's such a lot to do

So I take him now an' then
Down among the busy men,
And the boy that is with me
Brings back one who used to be,
With the bright smile and the glow
In the eyes of long ago,
When I was a little lad
Goin' down to work with Dad

Uncle Wiggily Stories

By Howard R. Garis

"Just a moment! I'm detained by something!"

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE CITY RABBIT

Do you remember the country rabbit, about whom I told you last night? How he came to live near Uncle Wiggily, and didn't know how to hoist an umbrella over his head when it rained? Well this is a story about a different kind of bunny

One day, when Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy was sweeping the front porch of Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow, she looked up the woodland path and there she saw a very stylishly dressed rabbit hopping along

He had on a light Palm Beach suit, a white straw hat, a red necktie and he carried a thin little cane, about as big as the straw you get in your ice cream soda

'My good land!' exclaimed Nurse Jane 'I wonder who that is? I hope he isn't coming here, for my tail is still in curl papers!'

But the fancifully dressed rabbit was headed straight for the hollow stump bungalow, and, reaching it, he stopped, stuck one round eyeglass up in his eye and said

'Pardon me But could you tell me where Mr Uncle Wiggily Longears lives?

"I'm him—I mean she lives here—I mean him isn't—Oh I mean Uncle Wiggily lives here," stammered Nurse Jane, all flustered up on account of being spoken to by such a stylish rabbit

"Thank you Tell him I'm here" went on the other as he twiddled his cane and sat down in one of the porch chairs

Oh look out!" cried Nurse Jane

"What's the matter?' asked the other

That chair is dusty," spoke the muskrat lady 'You'll spoil your light suit'

It doesn't matter in the least—positively it doesn't!" drawled the fancy chap "I'll have my city tailor make me another if this one is spoiled Don't excite yourself. Just call Uncle Wiggily"

And when Uncle Wiggily came down he said:

"I'm delighted to see you. The Country Rabbit said you might come out and pay me a visit'

"Yes," slowly said the other. "I'm here My doctor said I needed an adventure or two, and I came to see if you could find one for me"

"Well, I guess I can," spoke Uncle Wiggily, winking one eye at Nurse Jane 'We'll start right out. Just wait until I get my red, white and blue rheumatism crutch"

And when Nurse Jane was helping him hunt for this, Uncle Wiggily told Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy that the fancy rabbit was from the city, a cousin to the country rabbit and very rich.

"He thinks he's stylish," said Mr Longears 'Wait until I get him out in the woods' Just wait!"

So Uncle Wiggily took the fancy dressed city rabbit for a walk in the woods And it wasn't long before the city rabbit called

"I say, old dear! Just a moment! I'm detained by something!"

Uncle Wiggily, who had hopped on ahead, looked back

"Oh, you're just caught on a prickly briar bush,' said Mr Longears. "Pull yourself loose and hop along"

So the city rabbit did, though he tore his Palm Beach suit.

"When shall we have an adventure?' asked the city rabbit, a little later. My doctor said I needed an adventure."

"I'm looking for one," answered Uncle Wiggily, and then, as he peered over the top of a sassafras bush, Mr. Longears suddenly cried

'We'd better run!"

"What for?" asked the city rabbit. 'I never run where I live: not even to catch a taxicab It's considered quite vulgar to run, I believe,' he said, very lazy-like.

Well, spoke Uncle Wiggily, as he took a tight hold of his rheumatism crutch "you don't have to run if you don't want to But if you don't run the Woozie Wolf, who is coming, may nibble your ears!"

"What's that? A wolf? Why didn't you say so?" cried the city rabbit, and, throwing away his thin cane, like a straw in a soda water glass, he began to hop and skip But as he wasn't used to hurrying he couldn't go very fast

"I'll get you! I'll get you!" howled the wolf, coming along behind

"Oh, my dear chap! Please don't be so impolite!' begged the city rabbit, but the wolf only laughed and said

You wanted an adventure and you're getting it all right!"

"Oh Uncle Wiggily! Save me! Save me!' begged the city rabbit, and with that Mr Longears, turned back and threw so many stones at the wolf that he made the bad chap run away The city rabbit was all out of breath and his Palm Beach suit was in shreds and tatters, but he was saved.

'Thank you very much Uncle Wiggily," he said, 'I thought you small town rabbits didn't know much, not being stylish like city chaps, but I see you are good for something after all" And after that the city bunny wasn't quite so foolish.

So if the cake of soap doesn't drop the bathtub sponge out of the window and make it fall squishy squashy on the postman I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the baby duck.

LIGHTNING KILLS SAN JOSE YOUTH; FIRST ON RECORD

Death of Boy By Being Struck By Bolt Unprecedented in Santa Clara County.

SAN JOSE, Sept. 2.—Struck by a bolt of lightning as he was running through his father's orchard for shelter from the rain of yesterday evening, Carl Dauberg, 18, son of a prominent growers of the Cupertino district, was instantly killed about 6:15 last evening. Dauberg was struck at the base of the skull and, was knocked several feet, landing face downward in the plowed ground. His hat and clothing were badly burned and torn, as were his neck and shoulders. His face, however, was not mutilated. Young Dauberg's father saw him fall as he arn between the row of trees. The father carried his son's body to the ranch house.

The death of young Dauberg by lightning is the first on record in Santa Clara county, and one of the few which have occurred in the State. It was stated at the coroner's office that such a case had never even been heard of here.

Nurse Asks Release Of Man She Accused

J. F. Peralta, city marshal of San Leandro, was notified yesterday by Mrs. Etta Campbell of Hayward, nurse in the county hospital, that she will not prosecute Burt Benson, 2234 Ninety-second avenue. Mrs. Campbell alleged that Benson insulted her on Monday as she was returning to the hospital from the depot. She notified the officers and after a sensational chase Benson was wounded in the back by a pistol bullet fired by Harry Lyons, night watchman of San Leandro. Mrs. Campbell said that she believed Benson had had sufficient punishment.

OIL MEN IN COURT.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—Henry M. Beatty filed suit in the superior court today against T. A. Blair, the latter's wife, Vivian, and seven other persons. He declares that he had a one-third interest and Blair a two-third interest in the lease of the 5:30 Oil company at Taft. He declared that it was agreed between them to obtain other persons to contribute an exploitation fund of $35,000. Some of the money was paid in, he asserts, but was not turned over to him by Blair, and he sues for his share, amounting to $3,000.

ASSAULT CHARGED.

Mike Carboine, 20 years old, was arrested last night at is home, 1241 Ninety-fourth avenue, on a warrant charging him with a statutory offense against a 14-year-old girl. The complaint was sworn to September 8, 1920. He will be arraigned tomorrow before Police Judge Edward J. Tyrrell.

New Advisory Committee Is Named by School Board

Refusal of one member of the new public education advisory committee to serve, the announced intention of the other fourteen to accept, and a letter from the former bond advisory committee formally asking that its recent resignation be considered final were to-day's developments in the board of education's search for new advice regarding the expending of bond money and the conduct of the school department.

At a meeting of the board last evening, Chairman Harry Boyle named a new committee of fifteen to have the power "to investigate fully school administration conditions and plans for new facilities and expenditure of bond moneys authorized and from time to time make report of facts found and recommendation of action to meet emergencies indicated thereby."

Following the appointment of the committee it was said that half of the membership is from East Oakland and one lived in Berkeley and this despite the fact that the resolution called for "15 members composed of representative citizens from every section of Oakland."

BOND COMMITTEE BOOSTED.

E. W. Williams of the Tax association is the one who has refused to accept the appointment, and who has residence in Berkeley. In a letter to the board today he said that he could not serve on any committee that would replace the old bond advisory committee which he believed to be the best one possible of appointment.

"I believe that the old committee should have been continued," said Williams, "and I told the board so. The committee should have been kept in without any additions. It was a good committee and its resignation is a distinct loss to the community. Under the conditions I will not serve."

The others named by Chairman Boyle are: J. C. Downey, 2034 Tenth avenue; H. S. Craig, 377 Sixty-third; L. B. Magoon, 1967 Courtland; Fred Shaw, 732 Fifty-third; C. J. Pfrang, 5448 Locksley; C. G. Base, Stanton Lore, 3934 Glenwood; F. F. Porter, 838 Prospect; Mrs. C. E. Wilson, 2305 Fourth avenue; Mrs. O. B. Caldwell, 5800 Adeline; Mrs. Nellie A. Lane, Mrs. F. M. Ball, 582 Walla Vista; Mrs. Bessie Wood Gustafson, 1955 Telegraph; Mrs. Carl Williams, 1839 Ninth avenue.

At the meeting of the board last night the letter from the bond advisory committe making its resignation final has not been received.

BOARD PROCEEDINGS.

The movements creating the new board and naming its members was preceded by a report from Business Manager Lloyd Barzee that he had notified Chairman Fred Kahn of the old committee that the board had decided to reappoint them.

"Are you waiting for an answer from the bond expenditure committee?" asked Mrs. Short.

"We have no bond expenditure committee," said Chairman Boyle.

"I hardly see where you should expect one," said Mrs. Short. "You said you would reinstate them on the basis of the original letter of appointment; then at the last meeting you added two more members. In view of your action I cannot see where you even expect an answer. Chairman Kahn gave me the priviledge of saying that the committee stands on a technical construction of that letter and will not stay unless the board stands behind the committee."

The resolution appointing the new board was then introduced by Director Fred Campbell.

"Is this supposed to supersede the bond expenditure committee?" asked Director George Hatch.

HATCH ASKS QUESTIONS.

"It's simply an advisory committee," said Boyle. "It has no power."

"It seems that we were elected to solve these problems you mention in the resolution," said Hatch. "Why this committee is appointed I do not know."

"They will do nothing except suggest things," said Campbell.

"I see they will have the power to investigate the school department," said Director Short. "Does that mean the superintendent's office?"

"They have as much right as any other citizen," said Campbell.

"If I thought this committee of fifteen was named to watch this board of education and its doings," said Director Short, "I would approve. "It would be a good thing to let the people know what is going on here. We are getting topheavy with officials and boards. We have an efficiency expert to watch the school department, and now we have fifteen more to watch. I think it would be better to add seven new members to this board of education than add fifteen outsiders."

"COMES FROM PEOPLE."

Boyle then read his list of appointees.

"Has this been talked over with the superintendent of schools?" asked Mrs. Short. "Or have we a rubber-stamp superintendent now?"

"This comes directly from the people," said Boyle.

"Oh, I thought it looked like Fred Campbell," retorted Mrs. Short. "You've been noticing press reports of the happenings here lately, and press comments. If you do not listen to the voice of the press you'll soon be listening some other way."

"We'll take a chance," said Boyle.

The board entered into a contract with the Jurgens Company to purchase a plat of land four blocks from Prescott school, paying $2600 cash and pledging $1000 per annum for five years for the $7500 property.

The Great Western Power Company was authorized to supply the Hamilton, Roosevelt, Vocational and University high schools if its lines reach those places.

FUNCTION OF COMMITTEE.

As Monday is a holiday it was decided to hold the next board meeting Tuesday night. The business manager was authorized to dispose of 200 old desks, calling for bids, and then the resolution appointing the new "Advisory Committee" was introduced and the argument began.

The following is the resolution in full:

"Whereas, The cost of public education in Oakland was so greatly increased by the immediate preceding school board that the present board of education finds itself confronted with a very grave condition of public emergency, in which the taxpayers and parents are equally interested that proper remedial measures be taken; and,

"Whereas, The interest of the taxpayers, represented by the city council of Oakland has diminished the appropriation of tax money for school purposes to a point where it is now a necessity to accomplish a large reduction in expense of school administration; and,

ECONOMIC MEASURES.

"Whereas, It is the earnest desire of the present board of education to accomplish this reduction without any reduction in educational service to the children of this city; now, therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the present condition of school affairs constitutes a community problem that requires the aid and serivce of our best citizenship in order that full investigation may be followed by wise action in such an open public way that full publicity may be given of every fact developed and action taken; and be it further

"Resolved, That there is hereby constituted a public education advisory committee of fifteen members, composed of representative citizens from every section of Oakland, to be appointed by the president of this board with the approval of the board, and that the duty of such committee shall be to fully investigate the school administration conditions and the plans for the new facilities and expenditure of bond monies authorized and from time to time make report of facts found and recommendation of action to meet emergencies indicated thereby."

BOND COMMITTEE LETTER.

Following is the letter from the former bond advisory committee:

"Lloyd D. Barzee, Secretary Board of Education: This will acknowledge receipt by the members of the bond expenditure committee of your letter of the 30th ultimo, notifying them of their reappointment on the bond expenditure committee and requesting their acceptance of the same at their convenience. The members of the committee are also cognizant of the fact that the Board of Education, by its resolution adopted August 29, 1921, expressed its desire that each section of the city should be directly represented before the Board of Education in carrying out the building program, and to this end the members of the bond expenditure committee feel that the Board of Education should be permitted, without embarrassment, to appoint a committee, if so advised, which may be so selected that every section of the city will be directly represented before the Board of Education in the building program.

"The bond expenditure committee heretofore in all of its proceedings represented the city as a whole, giving consideration to the needs of every district and section and not favoring the interests of any particular section as against the interests of any other section, and feel now that they do not wish to be involved in fostering section differences or involved in sectional controversies in this matter and consequently request that their resignations heretofore filed be considered as final.

"FORMER BOND EXPENDITURE COMMITTEE.

"By Frederick Kahn, Chairman."

Wife Flees Alleged Threat of Husband

The case of Charles Birimisa, charged with disturbing the peace, was referred to the probation officer this morning by Police Judge Ralph Richmond. He was arrested on complaint of his wife, Mrs. Cornelia Neubert, 3318 Viola street.

He is alleged to have come home yesterday and became angry because he found his wife sick in bed. According to her testimony he threatened to beat her and she was forced to run out of the house.

MAN, DYING IN AGONY, PUZZLE TO S. J. POLICE

Preliminary Autopsy Fails To Show Whether Death Due To Poison or Malady.

SAN JOSE, Sept. 2. — Tom Ellison, dead yesterday, apparently had no friends.

He came to his death in a most peculiar and mysterious manner. At about 3 o'clock yesterday morning he awakened the lodgers of the Tonopah rooming house with cries of pain. He was taken to the emergency hospital by Officers Al. Laederich and Theodore Chargin. There Dr. Paul Sanford eased his agony with a narcotic.

Apparently Ellison was suffering from some form of poisoning. There was no trace of liquor upon his breath and he had apparently been in perfect health upon retiring.

From the emergency hospital he was rushed to the county hospital and there, despite strenuous efforts of the best physicians in the valley, he passed away.

Just what the cause of his death was will probably never be known. A preliminary autopsy had failed to reveal the cause of the extreme pain which led to his demise and whether he took something to put himself out of the world or whether he was overtaken by some obscure malady it is impossible to state.

He formmerly worked upon a ranch near here and was employed by the Greco Canning company. Police have been making efforts to locate his people but to no avail.

Retired Banker Is Dead in Berkeley

BERKELEY, Sept. 2.—Arthur D. Lockwood, 64 years old, a retired banker and former Oakland politician and for more than 44 years a resident of Berkeley, died at his home, 1540 Euclid avenue, here today. His death followed a lengthy illness, caused by typhoid fever.

Lockwood was formerly cashier of the Bank of California in San Francisco. He retired from this position eleven years ago. During the earthquake he held this office and handled practically all of the money used during that emergency. He was a member of the Hillside Club of Berkeley, the Commonwealth Club of San Francisco, and before he came to California served with the famous Seventh Regiment of the New York National Guard. He is survived by his widow, Rebekah Lockwood.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock from the residence. Rev. W. R. Hodgkin of St. Mark's will officiate.

Hotel Man Held for Breach of Food Law

BERKELEY, Sept. 2.—Frank R. Wishon, manager of the Hotel Whitecotton here, was arrested late today for alleged violation of the pure food law.

The complaint upon which the hotel manager was arrested was sworn to by D. W. Gankell, an employee of the city's health department, and R. G. Ray, a state officer, and specifically charges violation of ordinance No. 62.

The complaint alleges that meat and other food which was served to patrons of the hotel's dining room, were kept in receptacles containing decayed matter.

Drug Company Men Freed on Dry Charge

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—Jack Scharlin, William Warner, Chester Tompkins and George Wells of the Druggists' Wholesale Supply company, accused of violating the prohibition laws, had their cases dismissed today by U. S. Judge Morrow. They were accussed of rectifying spirits at 494 Twentieth avenue. The court held that there was not sufficient evidence against them and ordered several thousand dollars worth of intoxicants returned to them.

Daily ALMANAC

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 2.

"Peterkin Papers" will be remembered by more than one of the whiskered readers of the Almanac. They were written by Lucretia Peabody Hale, who was born in 1820. Henry George was born in 1839 and lived for some years before he began to think about single tax. In 1850 Eugene Field, one of the greatest, was born, and we may add that Casper Whitney, Newell Dwight Hillis, Murat Halstead and Willard Parker all claimed this as their birthday.

As the date for the disarmament conference approaches we become more and more interested. Why not disarm all those persons who go about with their heads loaded with statistics? Such a person who sidles up to the unsuspecting to ask (that he may answer himself) how many miles it is to Sacramento, the date of the first steamboat, or how many wienerwursts it would take, tail to tail, to reach from here to Bullrush, Nev., is one who should be forced to lay aside all his confounding facts.

Another person we would disarm is the lady who carries the superfluous dignity. She is the one who steams into a street car like a battleship in a fair sea and anchors off the port knee of the man who is reading a paper. By sheer force of dignified scorn she makes the man give her a seat. We do not begrudge the lady her triumph, but her dignity is overpowering and dangerous.

We would disarm the small boy who uses a six-cylinder car as a weapon of offense.

There are millions of dollars hidden in the stocking legs of the country. You see, then, there are rolls and rolls.

When we were a lad we were Berkeley correspondent for one of the newspapers. In those days it was impossible to get within a mile of the women's gymnasium with a newspaper camera and no co-ed bathing girl was ever photographed. And now the cameras click daily on one-piece suits and the fact remains that times have changed and we were born too soon.

Alameda's pencil factory has turned out its first pencil. Time for someone to write in that it is now ready to make its mark.

Cut Out Coupon Printed Below and It Will Admit You to Idora Park.

School kiddies by the hundreds have accepted the invitation of The TRIBUNE to be guests at the opening of the Oakland and Alameda County Kennel club's sixth annual bench show at Idora Park tomorrow afternoon.

N. L. Benson, district superintendent of the Hayward Grammar schools, reported by telephone today that the children under his charge had accepted the invitation of The TRIBUNE with much glee and will attend the opening of the show in a body. The Hayward group will number more than 300 children.

The children of the Emeryville schools numbering more than 400 also have accepted the invitation of The TRIBUNE to be guests of honor at the debut of the blue-blooded bow-wows to Eastbay society and will attend the show in a body. This was the information to The TRIBUNE office today from D. B. Lacy, superintendent of the Emeryville schools.

Practically every public school in Oakland has sent out similar reports and it is estimated, that a great throng of children will be in the park tomorrow as guests of The TRIBUNE.

TEACHERS AS ESCORTS.

There are parties being made up at all the schools and to see that the kiddies get to the park and home again safely many teachers volunteered to escort their little charges.

It's going to be a regular day at the park for the kiddies and the doggies, too, for there always is true friendship when these groups get together.

The invitation of The TRIBUNE is open to every child in the Eastbay region under 16 years of age.

The TRIBUNE wants its many little friends to see these aristocrats of dogdom and has provided this means of making sure that no child who wants to see the doggies will be passed by.

BOY SCOUTS OFF TO SACRAMENTO FOR STATE MEET

Three-Day Competition Will Be Held Open to All Cities and Their Troops.

Oakland's delegation of Boy Scouts left for the State Fair at Sacramento today, where they are to enter into a three-day competition with scouts from every city in the state.

Six lads, the ranking scouts in the Oakland troops, will make the trip under the supervision of H. J. Bemiss, executive for the Oakland council. They are to be taken to and from the Capitol city in a Studebaker automobile, donated for that purpose by the Weaver Wells company. The six boys who will make the trip are Harold Chastian, Fred Sibley, Herbert Wise, Frank Herbreath, George Vasen and Richard Lawrence.

Of the six, Chastian, Sibley and Wise are Eagle Scouts, the highest rank attainable in scouting. The remaining three are Star scouts, the second highest rank. Chastian is the ranking scout in the state of California, having won a total of 46 merit badges.

In addition to the series of demonstrations which have been planned by the State Fair officials, there will be an older boys' conference under the auspices of the Sacramento council. Chastian and Sibley will be Oakland's representatives in the discussions which will be held.

The boys are to be quartered in a model scout camp, which has been erected on the fair grounds. They will return Monday night.

BERKELEY, Sept. 2.—The following are the Berkeley scouts who will represent their city at the State Fair competition:

Lloyd Moon of Troop 18.
James Gibson of Troop 9.
John McMurray of Troop 24.
Henry Doane of Troop 27.
Tracey Cuttle of Troop 21.
Ralph Seeley of Troop 10.

TROOPS TO BORDER.

NOGALES, Ariz., Sept. 2.—Twenty United States soldiers will leave Camp Stephen D. Little for Ruby, Ariz., as a permanent protection to this little border town against raids of Mexican bandits. Orders from the war department at Washington gave these instructions. Residents of Ruby asked this protection as the result of the latest outrage, killing of Postmaster and Mrs. Frank J. Pearson last Friday, followed by looting of their store.

Long Skirts Get 'O. K.' of Nina Putnam

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—Greetings to the long skirt! Welcome to the woman who can manage a career and a husband at the same time! All hail the theory of letting a "child run wild" and ceasing to worry about its education! Thus does Nina Wilcox Putnam (Mrs. R. J. Sanderson in private life) deliver herself on fashions and things upon arrival in San Francisco last week. Miss Putnam, daughter of Marion Putnam, well-known writer, and god-daughter of William Dean Howells, whose literary career began when she was a child of eleven, is on the coast collecting data for a western story.

"It Pays to Smile," a California story, which recently came from her pen, is being adapted as the vehicle with which May Robson will open the season. Miss Putnam's home is in Madison, Conn.

Frilly, old-fashioned things with long, ruffled skirts—and a train maybe for evening—these are Miss Putnam's ideal for femine wear. Modern tweeds, knickers, heavy rimmed glasses and golf hose are eliminated from her wardrobe—yet the young woman is decidedly smart in appearance.

"Being truly feminine," is Miss Putnam's goal.

"Awfully foolish are some of the ideas about education of children," she pronounces. Also she has a good field for investigation in her own 4-year-old son, the two children of her secretary and the two youngsters of her cook and butler, who make up the democratic juvenile population of the Connecticut home. "Children should educate themselves. Grownups should answer truly and fully every question a child asks. Then it will not waste time in a kindergarten."

"Just silly," she dismisses the idea that a woman cannot have a home and career at the same time. Miss Putnam uses herself as a demonstration.

A transcontinental automobile guide with a chapter given over to California's highways will shortly be published from Miss Putnam's pen.

The public library, a comparatively new addition to most of our towns, was a Roman institution.

New Empire Dream Of Moorish Chieftain

MELLILLA, Morocco, Sept. 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—Abd-El-Krin, leader of the Moorish insurgents, has conceived the idea of forming a new Moroccan empire, which would extend further than mos of the old Moroccan possessions. The correspondent has obtained details of Abd-El-Krin's plans from a native source. Abd-El-Krin has begun to issue paper money in various denominations, bearing his stamp and signature. His far-reaching plan of domination, however, is meeting with opposition from the powerful Moroccan tribes.

Two Are Caught in Police Liquor Raids

Liquor raids conducted last night by Policemen Wallace Canning and E. F. Murphy in the downtown section of the city resulted in three men being arrested on charges of violating the national prohibition act.

The first place to be raided was Charles Veitzen, 822 Broadway. A pint of jackass was seized by the arresting officers.

A bouquet carved out of rye bread was given to the President's wife.

Tights Disappear, Vaudeville Stops

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Bella Golla, who performs a "human pinwheel" stunt in vaudeville when not otherwise employed as plain Isabella Toole, cleaner and dyer, lost a stage engagement at Providence because she lost her "props." They vanished as she stopped her automobile for an errand while en route to the Fall River steamer pier.

The "props" consisted chiefly, she explained in Tombs Court, of a pair of tights. When Miss Toole emerged from the store she caught sight of a man making away with a suit case in which were her tights. She pursued him.

Patrolman Thomas Dwyer caught the man, who said he stole to get money for drugs.

DAIRYMEN TO ASK CONGRESS TO BAR SPURIOUS MILKS

Dealers Fear Market Will Be Flooded With New Manufactured Product.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Unless Congress enacts a bill proposed to put a ban on manufacture of bogus milk, production of milk-substitutes, which have been proved injurious to health, will be forced upon New York and other milk-distributing companies, according to Arthur W. Milburn, president of the Borden Condensed Milk Company.

The milk-substitutes lack vitamines and other ingredients essential to promoting growth in an infant. Last year 87,000,000 pounds of condensed skimmed "milk," in which the butter fat has been replaced by cocoanut oil or other vegetable fats, were sold in the United States. As this sort of product has been on the market for only three years, its growth is considered alarming by manufacturers who believe in retaining butter fat in condensed milk for its nutritive qualities.

Feeding children on milk from which all the butter fat has been extracted may result in pellagra and kindred diseases, Mr. Milburn said.

SUBSTITUTES CONDEMNED.

In a brief filed with the Agricultural Committee of the House, which is holding hearings on the Voigt bill to prohibit substitute milk, the Borden Company, through its attorney, Walter Engels, referred to testimony by Dr. McCullom of Johns Hopkins University, in which he condemned the substitution of vegetable oils and fats for butter fat, on the ground that public health would not permit of the sale of this article.

Retail grocers sell the substitute milk on the same terms as condensed milk containing butter fat and often at the same price, according to Mr. Milburn, although the cost of manufacture is $1.70 a hundred pounds, compared with $4.41 for milk containing butter fat.

"The problem is no imaginary one," said Mr. Milburn. "With cocoanut, peanut and cottonseed oils competing with butter fat, there is bound to be a decided slump in our dairy industry. The milk supply rises and falls with the price obtained for the article. The butter fat replaced by foreign oils and fats creates a surplus to be used in other products, such as full cream butter and cheese, oversupplying the market and reacting in decreased production. Last year 7,000,000 pounds of cocoanut oil replaced a like amount of butter fat in evaporated milk and put 8,000,000 extra pounds of butter on the market that competed with and lowered the price of creamery butter. The public may see in this a benefit, but it is of a very temporary character, since a lower price for milk products has always curtailed production and induced the sale of cows for meat."

HUSBAND SHOOTS RIVAL'S "GHOST"

NEW YORK, Sept. 3. — Michael Buscemi set out from his furnished room home at 84 Jefferson street with a .32-caliber revolver and a frankly announced determination of doing away with his phantom rival by fair means or foul.

Physically actual rivals are bad enough. Buscemi found a ghostly one ten times worse. During his five months of married life it showed up on only two occasions—one time Buscemi was drunk and another time he was sober. When he was drunk he had absolutely no doubt that Mrs. Buscemi's first husband was prowling around the house, and inasmuch as this first spouse had been dead several years, it was more than a little annoying. When he was sober Mrs. Buscemi left him no doubt that though the body of No. 1 lay amould'ring in the grave his spirit was still double-timing about the premises.

Doubly sharper than a serpent's tooth it was to Buscemi, for the dead man had been his closest friend. Two months ago Mrs. Buscemi tired of the rivalry. She packed and left and went to the home of her brother, Joseph Bananno, at 1012 Willoughby ave. But the phantom rival remained with Michael Buscemi.

Strongly influenced by spirits and the spirit he entered Bananno's home about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon and found Mrs. Buscemi alone. He intended, then and there, to settle the rivalry question. He went about it with unique diplomacy, first throwing a rug over Mrs. Buscemi's head and then putting the revolver into play. He fired four shots and hit four objects in the room, none of them being Mrs. Buscemi. Then, that being settled, he left at a gallop.

Detectives Kaufman and Henninger, a block away, heard the shots and ran toward Bananno's house. They arrived in time to see Buscemi come out of the door, pass directly through a passing motorcar, in one door and out the other, and board a street car.

Buscemi fully explained the circumstances, ghostly rival and all, to Magistrate Liota in the Gates avenue court this morning. He was held in $2500 bail on a charge of felonious assault and in $500 bail for carrying a revolver without a permit. He will be examined Thursday.

Kansas Reformers Face Damage Suit

TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 3.—As a result of a "coffin-nail" raid here recently, in which officers searched over thirty stores for cigarettes, the Kansas Anti-Cigarette League faces a suit for $5000 damages.

G. M. Jamison, cafe proprietor, asserts that the raiding squad entered his place of business, caused a big commotion, but didn't find a single "pill."

Several dealers who were found with cigarettes among their wares pleaded guilty and were fined $50.

It is against the state law to sell cigarettes in Kansas, and getting a "deck" of the "ready mades" entails the same exchange of "high signs" as a transaction in bootleg whisky does in other states.

130,000 Children Die in Vienna

VIENNA, Sept. 1.—Although the post-war movement to the cities has crowded all of the European capitals and made the housing question acute, Vienna has one-tenth less inhabitants than in 1910, declares the Vienna Neue Freie Presse.

"The disheartening fact is that of the 190,095 inhabitants we have lost, not less than 130,000 are children. A city with such statistics is not only very sick—it is actually in the process of dying.

RIZE LIST ANNOUNCED FOR TRIBUNE AMATUER BALL LEAGUE

ALIFORNIA STATE CHAMPIONSHIP TENNIS TOURNAMENT WILL OPEN AT BERKELEY TOMORROW

ROFESSIONALS BARRED

Belt Buckles for Winners

MATEURS GET CHANCE

By BOB SHAND.

ne "Broadway Terrors" and the "West Oakland Tigers" are ning as hard as any professional ball players ever trained and fifty other amateur baseball clubs are out every evening get- into trim for the opening of The TRIBUNE League. The gsters are going to have their inning this winter with seven ues taking care of them and a whole trunkful of prizes for the ers. During the past few years professionals and semi-profes- ls have gradually drifted into the local winter leagues, but the ed by-laws of The TRIBUNE League bar those who play the for financial reward and cater to the youngsters who are try- to make a name for themselves on the sand lots and public grounds. In other years coast and major league players crowded little bushers out of the picture and later the semi-profes- ls, the boys who get fifteen and twenty dollars a game, en- the league and deprived the youngsters of their jobs.

OFESSIONALS ARE BARRED

at is all changed now. The TRIBUNE Leagues will be con- d on a strictly amateur basis. Men who have played profes- l baseball will not be eligible for membership in any of the and others who have not played professional ball but who and a specified sum for playing a game will find the bars up st them.

ofessional baseball has its place in the world of sport—and its season. Those who earn their living at the sport have all mer in which to collect fat salaries and get their pictures in the s but, as far as The TRIBUNE organization is concerned, the ers" are going to have the winter season all to themselves.

LUABLE PRIZES OFFERED

nply for the purpose of encouraging the youngsters and foster- lean amateur sport The TRIBUNE yearly offers hundreds of ars' worth of prizes. It would be a rank injustice to the young- to permit experienced players to enter teams and carry off the ies in addition to being paid salaries. It would take the heart of the East Oakland Warriors and the other aggregations of gsters who play the game for the love of the sport and who de more genuine thrills for the fans than the men who seek ake a living out of the game.

e professionals and semi-professionals will no doubt organize own leagues. but The TRIBUNE organization will be strictly he ambitious youngsters who play the game for the game's

th seven divisions of the league ready for action there will be sets of gold and silver belt buckles, suitably engraved ready e winners at the close of the season. The winners of each on will receive silver buckles and the champions of the vari- divisions will be awarded gold buckles. When the regular dule has been played off the winners will meet in a post- on series to decide the championships of the three divisions. buckles will be real artistic affairs with the figure of a ball r in the center, surrounded by the inscription:

Name of Club
Champions TRIBUNE League
Name of Player
Year .... Division ......

e buckles have been ordered and will be waiting for the lucky re the day the season ends.

ATEUR IDEA ENDORSED

Cal Ewing, president of the Oakland baseball club, has do- his big park to The TRIBUNE League and double-headers e played there every Sunday afternoon and Saturday games also be scheduled for the Coast league grounds, if necessary. Tigers and the Warriors and the Terrors can play on the same that "Hack" Miller, Louie Guisto and the other idols of youth- andom hold forth.

R. Alberger. president and general manager of the Key Sys- has donated the grounds at Fortieth and San Pablo avenue to TRIBUNE League and will have a crew with scrapers and and everything at work on the lot in a few days grading it utting the diamond and outfield in shape. Alberger is a keen all enthusiast and a strong supporter of the "bushers."

BUNE HAS RIGHT IDEA

"The TRIBUNE has the right idea." said the traction mag- to the writer yesterday. "The young ball players should be crowded off the diamonds by professionals. Let me w if there is anything else I can do to aid the youngsters."

nk Woodward, local manager of the Great Western Power any and a director of the Coast Tire and Rubber Company, ong for the "bushers."

"Professionals are all right in their place." said Woodward ay, "but the amateurs should be catered to also. I am d to see that The TRIBUNE League will not use profes- nals. Put me down as a booster for the amateur idea."

EWING DONATES PARK

Cal Ewing, the big boss of the Oaks, has not only donated his ds, but is willing to help in any other way.

The park is at the disposal of the amateur ball player," said ing today, "but the gates are closed to the professionals and called semi-professionals. The youngsters deserve the pub- ity the professionals formerly got in the winter season."

er leading baseball and business men have endorsed the ama- plan and many prominent commercial houses will be repre- d in the league.

GOLF

By W.D. McNICOLL

In preparation for the annual State Championship which takes place next week over the Del Monte and Pebble Beach courses many of the players entered are already on the battle ground laying their plans of attack There are others who won't have the opportunity to look over the numerous danger spots that Fowler has been busy inventing for them during the past year. Del Monte is a left hand course, therefore the player who has a tendency to hook his shots will find more trouble than the inveterate slicer Pebble Beach, a right hand course, will be much harder on the slicer but the player with a pull will be less frequently in trouble Amongst amateurs, for every player who hooks, there are probably five that slice It has been a rule in golf course construction to severely penalize a sliced drive. Nature has accomplished this to a wonderful degree at Pebble Beach.

Any tinkering with out of bounds penalty of stroke and distance will spoil the mental hazards at one of the most sporting courses in California The permission granted by the U S G A to minimize the out of bounds penalty to distance only was not intended to be used without discrimination The present tendency of greens committees to revert to the old penalty of distance is nothing less than catering to the club members who blame the course rather than their bad playing for out of bounds penalties A player who slices or hooks a ball outside of the playing area should be more severely penalized than one who plays a shot in bounds but finds an impossible lie or as sometimes happens looses his ball. In the latter case the element of bad luck predominates whereas in the former case the player is at fault

If the out of bound ball is to be penalized by distance only then the lost or unplayable ball will have to be put under the same ruling and finally players will refuse to play a bad lie in the rough when a second shot from the tee would give them probably better distance than their second from the rough More players of the type of Douglas Grant and Dr. Paul Hunter refuse to acknowledge the existence of an unplayable lie. The two-stroke penalty for out of bounds, lost ball and unplayable ball, would cure this Playing a round with a one-stroke penalty advocate is an interesting study of character. He is always looking for an easy shot and if his lie is at all critical he immediately dodges the shot and endeavors to call up some local rule that will enable him to move the ball without penalty or at the very least allow him to drop it in a good lie with one stroke added Just explain to him that he may move his ball to a good lie with two strokes added h then discovers a way of playing what he previously considered an unplayable ball

Players Drawn For National Single Tourney

NEW YORK, Sept. 2—Tennis aces of Japan, England, Australia and the United States are well scattered over the card drawn for the national singles title event, to be held at Philadelphia, beginning September 9

Sixteen players have been selected by the experts as having the best chances to play through to the final. Of these ten are in the upper bracket and six in the lower. William T Tilden, national champion, and William M Johnston, San Francisco, considered his most formidable rival, are in the lower half, with Vincent Richards, Willis E. Davis, Clarence V. Todd of Australia and Zenzo Shimidzu, Japan.

The strongest players in the upper bracket selected by the experts, are R. Morris Williams, Watson M. Washburn, Ichiya Kumagae, R. Lindsey, Murray, Norman Beach, John B. Hawkes and J O Anderson, Australia; Charles S Garland Pittsburgh; Craig Biddle, Philadelphia, and Gordon Lowe, England.

GILBERT DEFAULTS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2—A spirit of sportsmanship was displayed today by John B Gilbert, of the British Davis cup tennis team, when, with one point needed for a victory, he defaulted his match in the metropolitan championship tournament to F. C. Anderson, of Brooklyn Gilbert is scheduled to sail for England Saturday and would have been unable to compete in the semi-final round

Frank T. Anderson, who had advanced to the semi-final round, will be his brother's opponent, while Willis E. Davis and Robert Kinsey, both of San Francisco, will meet in the other half Davis defeated Atherton Richards, New York, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4, and Kinsey outplayed S. Howard Voshell, Brooklyn, 5-7, 7-5, 6-3

TENNIS CHAMPIONS TO APPEAR AT BERKELEY COURTS IN TOURNEY

Miss Helen Wills Will Be Contender For the Women's Singles Championship Honors.

By B. H. LALANDE.

With the largest entry list on record for any tourney ever held on the Pacific Slope the Twenty-first Annual Lawn Tennis Championships of California will start tomorrow on the courts of the Berkeley Tennis Club under the auspices of the California Tennis Association. Three-hundred and six players have sent in their blanks and as all the noted players now in the state, with one or two exceptions, have entered, some of the best tennis played this year should be seen.

The affair includes nine events. Thus every player, no matter how old or young, and irrespective of ability. was priviledged to enter. This is the reason cited by S. G. Hanson, chairman of the arrangement committee, for the record number of entrants. The men's singles event has a list of 100 players entered while the junior singles, at closing time last night, reached sixty. The boys' singles, which takes in all lads under 15 years of age, has forty entrants which is the largest number ever on the rolls for this event. The doubles and the women's events also have shown a marked increase in number.

Though only a few southern players have declared their intention of starting the tourney, other sections of the state are well represented Maury McLoughlin was expected to come, but as he entered the state golf tourney at Del Monte he found it impossible to get to Berkeley. Fred B Alexander former national doubles title holder, who is at the present time in the motion picture business in Los Angeles, is another player of note who was invited to enter but, business pressure also forced him to decline.

Northern Counties Well Represented.

All the northern stars have entered, including Johnny Strachan, former doubles champion, who up to a late hour was uncertain about being able to play Wallace Bates, the University of California star, and present state champion, will also be on deck, as will Ro. Roberts and Carl Gardner

In the women's events the most important of the entrants is Helen Wills, who gained national fame this summer by winning the United States junior championship. In the doubles the Berkeley girl is teamed with Helen Baker who last week lost the bay counties championship to Anna McCune after holding it for several years

According to the dope on performances this year Ro Roberts is figured to win the men's title, though Bates and Strachan will give him a tough fight. Roberts has been displaying a wonderful game this season and it will take some extraordinary playing to keep him from winning the cup Only last Saturday the San Franciscan paired with Strachan, defeated Bates and Edmund Levy on the University of California courts and in this match he displayed some of the best tennis seen on the coast this year.

From the south comes Dick Hinkley and a hitherto unheard of star by the name of Variel Both are highly touted in the Los Angeles district and if the southern experts know anything this pair will give the northern stars not a little trouble

MISSISSIPPI STATE CHAMPS.

CLARKSDALE, Miss., Sept. 2 — Greenwood won the fifth and deciding game from Clarksdale here yesterday, 6 to 1, making a clean sweep of the Mississippi State league post-season championship series

ENTRIES FOR MERRITT RACE MUST BE IN BY TOMORROW NIGHT

J. CAL EWING MAY DISPOSE OF HACK MILLER BUT THE OAKS WILL GET PLAYERS IN EXCHANGE

OUT-OF-TOWN FOLKS SEND IN ENTRIES FOR THE MARATHON

Last-Minute Flood of Entries Pouring in For Race Around Lake Meritt Friday Morning.

By DOUG. MONTELL.

With the entry list for the Ninth Annual TRIBUNE Merritt Marathon closing tomorrow night, entries continued to pour in yesterday for the big classic. Representatives from many organizations, hitherto unheard from, were among those that arrived in yesterday's mail. Not only are the organization entries coming in thick and fast, but the unattached entries are coming in in increasing numbers daily. No estimate can be given as to the exact number that will start in the big Admission Day race, but it is certain that the entry list will be close to a record-breaker in point of numbers.

Among those present now is the Berkeley Y. M. C. A., the entry of Henry A. Stone of the college city "Y" having been received yesterday. It has been known for some little time that Director Pease was busy grooming his best talent for the big TRIBUNE race and the entry of Stone into the contest injects even more interest into the Y. M. C. A. runner to finish. With Berkeley, Oakland and San Francisco entering teams after the special prize in that division it looks like a mighty keen battle.

Veteran Runners Are Sending In Entries.

Many veteran runners of former years, who have been delinquent in sending in their entries, are now getting on the job and slipping the necessary blank into the office daily. Yesterday saw the entries of John Sangenitto and Charles Holmes, two runners of note of previous TRIBUNE Marathons, come into the fold. Both have elected to enter the ninth annual unattached and both will be among the top notcheds when the final count is made. Of course there are a few outstanding favorites, that is, outstanding on account of the great amount of boosting they are receiving from their respective supporters. Such names as Churchill, Hunter, Tommasini, Roach, Farmer, Forward, O'Callaghan, Del Bino and others stand forth prominently in the list of entries that will compete in the big TRIBUNE race for prominent San Francisco organizations.

But equally prominent athletes are competing on this side of the bay. Men like Leonard, Harry Hooker and Percy Gilbert of the Oakland Y. M. C. A. will bear watching and the numerous high school runners of the Oakland and Eastbay high schools will make another big contest within a contest. And it all takes place on just a short week from today. Just one more day left in which to send in the entries and get a place in the list of starters.

Mountain View Will Have Representative.

The entry was received of Jess Regli of Mountain View. Looks as though Mountain View was aiming to give Tracy a battle for the small town supremacy. At any rate, John Regli of Mountain View writes to assert that he will be among those present in the big race. John forgot all about the matter of a P. A. registration number and this little detail must be looked after before his entry can be officially accepted. Hurry it along, John, and we will all be watching the race between the selected representatives of Tracy and Mountain View on Admission Day.

Although the entries for the big race close tomorrow night there are still several days left for the boys to finish up their hard grind of training. The Olympic club athletes have been going over the Lake Merritt course every night for the past two weeks and there have been many other runners trotting around the lake each evening. If you haven't been around the course before, better take an evening off between now and September 9 to run over the actual six and a quarter miles around the lake. Not as a bit of training but to know the ground before the race.

Runners Must Be Registered With the P. A.

Here is a letter from Merrill Andruss, chairman of the registration committee of the P. A. A. It is of great importance to every entrant in The TRIBUNE Marathon race and to those who are holding back their entries:

"San Francisco, Cal.,
"August 31, 1921.

"Sporting Editor, Oakland Tribune.—Will you please be good enough to announce very forcibly through the Columns of your paper that Post Entries in the Lake Merritt Marathon race will not be recognized, and that all entries MUST be in The TRIBUNE office on date set for closing.

"Also, that all entries that are not registered will be thrown out and not allowed to start. It is absolutely essential that a strict interpretation of the rules be lived up to this year. It seems almost impossible to secure sufficient officials for all events, and there will be no one to handle the added duties in connection with post entries and unregistered athletes.

"Please mail all entries to this office, for checking in our files, as soon as possible after closing, that we may have sufficient time to handle same.

"The exceptional amount of athletic activity on this date will congest this office, unless we can get the entries here at the earliest possible moment.

"I would again urge you to keep the matter of post entries and registrations before the people and possible entrants as often as possible.

"With kind regard, Yours, sincerely,

"M. E. ANDRUSS,
"Chairman Registration Committee."

Krause Wins, Alten Loses For the Oaks

Sacramento Fans See Some Fine Hurling When Oaks And Coyotes Meet.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 2.—Sacramento baseball fans saw some of the best pitching dished out here this season when the Oaks and Coyotes split even in a double-header yesterday. In the first game, Harry Krause won over Clinton Prough in a wonderful pitching duel, the score being 3 to 0. Krause allowed only three hits, two of them of the infield variety. The Oaks got but five hits, and four of them counted in the scoring. A double by Guisto and Brubaker's single gave them their first run in the fifth, while in the sixth, Cooper and Krause hit home runs.

Ernie Alten decorated the mound for the Oaks in the second game and was a tough loser, for he allowed only five hits in the nine innings, and Kenneth Penner on the other hand allowed nine. The winning run was not scored until the ninth when Kopp singled and Fred Mollowitz tripled.

The two games were run off in less than three hours, whereas it usually takes four hours for a double header. The scores:

It was a tough game that Ernie Alten lost to the Sacramento Coyotes. The big blonde left-hander had been having trouble with his arm and could not hold any kind of a lead that his teammates gave him, but yesterday he was on the job with a five-hit game, but his teammates were lacking the old punch to get him some runs.

Harry Krause pitched his twentieth win of the season for the local club. Couch and O'Doul of the Seals have each won twenty-one games, but you have not heard of them lately going into the box as a relief hurler such as Harry Krause has been doing. Harry saved a game for the Oaks last Sunday.

The Seattle Indians certainly greeted Johnny Couch at the local ball orchard yesterday afternoon. Lane, Patterson and Murphy, the first three batters to face him, all hit the first pitched ball for singles. There is no telling where the Indians would have stopped had not Patterson tried to go from first to third on Murphy's hit only to be thrown out.

Couch lasted seven and a third innings and the Indians got six runs and twelve hits.

Elmer Jacobs was pitching great ball for the Indians, but a fast drive off O'Connell's bat hit him on the pitching hand in the fourth inning and he quit in favor of Francis.

Bert Ellison, the Seal second sacker, hit his second homer of the season over the left field wall on the Oakland lot. The drive was made off of Francis in the sixth inning and was a regular one. A couple of weeks ago he busted a ball over the same spot in the ninth inning to beat the Angels 1 to 0.

Two home runs a season over the walls of the Oakland lot were the average in former years, but more than a half dozen have cleared them this season. Jimmy O'Connell hit two over the right field wall. Maybe they will also blame that on the lively ball.

Archie Yell, the Seal catcher who has evidently run Sam Agnew out of the first string job, gave the fans something to talk about for a long while, when he raced back to the grandstand to make a one-handed stab of Adams' foul ball. He crashed into the stand while running full speed, but held onto the ball.

The Portland Beavers held the Angels even in another double-header. They lost the first game in eleven innings, 9 to 5, Pitcher Doc Crandall hitting a homer with the bags loaded in the final inning. The Angels got but four hits off Russ Ellison in the second game and went down to a 3 to 1 defeat. Reinhart was the loser for the Angels.

The Salt Lake Bees showed the old fighting spirit. They were trailing on a 7 to 0 score in the seventh, but scored one in that frame, seven more in the eighth and two in the ninth, winning over the Vernon Tigers 10 to 9. Lewis and Lynn hit homers for the winners.

"Sonny" Viani is catching for the Poplar Candy team, and getting by with the job in good fashion. The little fellow is hitting good. His brother Al, is also doing nice work for the candy boys.

ANNUAL INTER-CLASS FOOTBALL GAMES AT CALIFORNIA TOMORROW

By B. H. LALANDE

The stage is all set for tomorrow's interclass games at the University of California and the teams will rest today and lay low in wait for the whistle. The men have gone through two weeks of hard drill, having started on August 23, and indications are that the series this year will present football on a much higher scale than heretofore seen in interclass play.

"Fat" Latham, captain of the Blue and Gold varsity eleven, assisted by Dan McMillan, star guard on last year's team and a member of the Bear crew, and Duke Morrison, the varsity fullback, have been putting the freshmen through their paces. They have left nothing undone and the team which they will place on the field Saturday can be relied upon to give the sophomores, their opponents, a large sized battle.

The second year men appear to be the weakest aggregation of the four teams, but as Fat Clark, the big guard, together with Dick Dunne and Mell of last year's frosh, have been instructing them in the fine points of the game the yearling outfit will have no easy time.

The juniors have one of the best teams and with Jimmy Cline at the helm in the capacity of head coach, aided by Brick Muller and "Muggs" Van Sant, the third year men are figured to hold their own with their older opponents in the preliminaries. On this 1923 outfit there are such men as Tiny Slack, who is conceded a very good chance to make the varsity; Art Best is another big man who is as strong as a power plant and has the old fighting spirit.

Seniors Figured To Carry Off Honors.

The seniors are figured by many to carry off the honors and right now they look fit enough to defeat any of them. "Brodie" Stevens of forward pass fame is their tutor and he has been running them over the green sward both night and morning. He also has shown them some tricky plays which are bound to give the other teams no end of trouble. The afternoon practice period was considered too open by Brodie, so he called his men out every morning at 6:30 to run over the new plays. They have both weight and speed in their back field and their line appeared to be impregnable in a scrimmage last night with the frosh. Stevens has been handling them all alone, and he not only had eleven men to watch over, but there is a full second squad out which surely kept the little end busy.

None of the first string freshmen will be in the game Saturday, but there are several stars who, if they were eligible for intercollegiate competition, would undoubtedly make the first squad. Among them is Malloy, the big red-haired lad from Chico, who at the outset of the practice period was conceded the fullback position, but later when he was found to be ineligible Latham placed him on the intra-mural outfit. He has had more experience than any other frosh, having played five years on prep. teams and two years while in the army. Horrell and Harper, at center and tackle respectively, are two of the best linemen on any of the class teams. While Dunne and Ryder, the 1925 halfs, are line plungers of no mean ability and would, in all probability make nearly any freshmen team in the country except California's, where the backfield talent this year is way above par.

Jimmy Marren At Tackle Looks Good.

Jimmy Marren, at tackle for the sophs, is surely putting all that's in him in his playing this year, and it will take a mighty good frosh to make a hole through his position. The same goes for Tyson at end and Wood at center. Though so much can't be said for the rest of the line. Behind the forwards there is a whole flock of good men; in fact, every member of the 1924 backfield looks good, but they all lack weight, which may handicap the team considerably. Hardy at quarter was for a considerable time last year the first string signal caller, but was put out of the running because of injuries. Naylor and Travis were both members of the freshmen eleven a year ago, but were beaten out in the home stretch by other men. They are playing in the halfback positions. Don Perry, who is heralded by some as the find of the season, has been doing some nice line plunging, but as he is rather slow the second-year men should have no trouble in downing him.

Larkey at end and Witter in the backfield seem to be the best bets of the senior pack, which appears to be a well-balanced outfit, having no outstanding stars on its roster. Eggleston, captain of this year's basketball team, who was figured to play one of the half-back positions, disappointed many of his followers by failing to put in an appearance. Tommy Barrows, son of the institution's president, is the center of the senior eleven, and according to some of his teammates he promises to make his illustrious father proud tomorrow by virtue of his playing.

Walter Christie To Handle the Whistle.

The kick-off of the first game between the underclassmen will take place promptly at 1:30 p. m. and Walter Christie will handle the whistle.

EWING WILL LET HACK MILLER GO IF VEECK WILL GIVE 5 PLAYERS

Three Pitchers, First Sacker and Outfielder and Not Cash Will Be Asked for Miller

By EDDIE MURPHY

William Veeck, president of the Chicago Cubs and a director in the Los Angeles baseball club, said Wednesday that he would almost knock Cal Ewing, president of the Oakland ball club stiff with the offer he would make to have Hack Miller, the slugging Oakland outfielder become a member of the Cubs. But after hearing Cal Ewing speak last evening, it would not be a surprise to see William Veeck do some tumbling or hair scratching when J. Calvin tells just he wants for Hack Miller. If Veeck can promise to give Ewing just what he wants for Mr. Miller. If Veeck can promise to give Ewing just what he asks for, then the player will be told to report to the Chicago Cubs just as soon as possible. Five ball players, amounting to thousands of dollars, is the first thing that Ewing will request for the release of the big Oak. Cal is not after the cash.

The ball players must be all first-class men, a first sacker, three pitchers and an outfielder. One may think that Cal is asking a whole lot, but after stopping to think of the big amount of cash and numbers of men who have been offered for other ball players in the league, there is no reason why Miller should not bring something big to the Oaks. Reports of some ridiculous offers for Willie Kamm, Jimmy Caveney, Jimmy O'Connell and other ball players in the league have been made. So nobody can blame Ewing for trying to get all he can.

Miller Would Return To Oaks If He Fails To Stick.

If any players were to be turned over to the Oaks immediately upon the transfer of Miller, they would have to be men that have some years af baseball left in them, and who are known to be real ball players. The names of all probable Oaks would have to be submitted to Ewing and Howard. If all players cannot be delivered immediately, then Ewing will specify a date for them to be turned over.

Now for Ewing's way of preventing the Cubs securing Miller and then turning him over to the Angels. He will have it understood that Miller will stay with the Chicago Cubs or some other major league club, and not be turned over to any club in the Pacific Coast league other than Oakland, should he fail to stick next season. There are Seals and Indians who suspect that it is the plan of Veeck to get Miller and then turn him over to the Angels to complete the season. But it will never happen as long as Cal Ewing has something to say about whether Miller goes to the Cubs or not.

Hack Would Be Real Slugger At Chicago National Park.

Miller is one of the greatest sluggers to ever show in the Coast or any other minor league. He is just the type of a player who would prove a sensation in the majors, thinks Howard. If with the Cubs, he would give the Windy City fans plenty to shout about. Ewing says that playing in the Chicago National park is just like being in Recreation park in San Francisco. The fences are just a bit farther from the plate at Chicago than they are in San Francisco, and Ewing looks for Miller to prove a regular fence buster back there. It is because of the big fellows' possibility drawing card in Chicago, that Ewing to be a fence buster and a great figures Miller worth the five ball players. It is not the money that Ewing is after, but the ball players. He would like to get them to go through the rest of this season, but if he cannot, then he wants to have them lined up for the start of next year's race.

It may be real funny about Ewing wanting a first sacker, but the Cleveland club owners have acted so queer in the past about letting the Oaks have Louie Guisto that Ewing fears to take a chance of the Indians turning the big first sacker back again next season. Guisto was not tickled to play in the majors this season, but he has said he will go back next season with full intention of sticking the season out. So one cannot blame Cal for going out in search of a good first sacker. It is the early bird who catches the worm, and Cal is willing to be classed as one of them.

HOUSES FOR SALE

Are You Handy with Tools?

I built 3 houses, each house on a one-acre place at Hayward, not far from S. P. depot. They're plain but substantial, plastered inside, warm and weatherproof. I intended to put in chicken coops, well, plumbing, etc., and sell them with one acre for $4000. Am forced to change plans and now have these houses on my hands. Buyer will have to finish them by putting in plumbing and building his own coops, fences, etc. I will put in the well for about $175 if desired, on terms of $20 down and $5 a month. I will sell the houses with one acre each for $2750, not including the well, on terms of $300 down and $40 a month. If you are handy with tools here's a chance for a bargain. Must do something by Sept. 1, so write me at once if interested. Hayward is the best poultry district in the state. F. H. Welling, P. O. Box 396, Oakland.

Rent Down a Rat Hole

I know what it is to pay rent. I've been cleaned by a landlord on the first day of the month for years and believe me, paying rent is no joke. I'm a carpenter by trade and about a year ago I overthrew the landlord's yoke and plunged in for myself; I bought a lot for $10 down and $8 a month and built myself a little house; it wasn't very swell but it was all my own. Now, then, anyone with $10 can do as I did and here is the way to work it—I have arranged with the owner of about 50 lots, right around my place, to allow 50 families to buy these lots for $10 down with the privilege of building temporary houses the same as I did. The owner is a fine gentleman anxious to help the people. The lots are close to two car lines, school in the center, stores adjoining, in the Upper Fruitvale section, finest fog-free climate in Oakland, nursery soil, water and sewers, gas and electricity, phones, all built up with nice homes. You'll like it. All he asks is $10 down and he only wants people of the white race. Friends, this is really worth investigating. Come on out and look around.

My little home and office is at 38th ave. and Hopkins st., Oakland. Take the 38th ave. car to the end of line—R. F. HOOD, Anti-Profiteer. Phone Fruitvale 1256. SE corner 38th ave. and Hopkins st. Always home.

HEWITT DEATH HEAVY BLOW TO SCIENCE CAUSE

Grandson of Peter Cooper Saw New Day Dawing For World.

By HOLLAND.
Exclusive to The TRIBUNE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2—When Lord Kelvin paid his last visit to this country he was received by Dr. Peter Cooper Hewitt in Hewitt's laboratory in the tower of the Madison Avenue Garden. Lord Kelvin was especially interested in a demonstration of Hewitt's mercury electric lamp. One feature engrossed Lord Kelvin for some minutes after which he revealed himself as a master in science. The thing was a peculiarity Dr. Hewitt had observed but for which he could find no explanation, a bubble like formation which moved around with velocity in the bed of mercury as though attracted by some mystic force.

"If only Helmhotz were here to study that peculiar formation. In it is certainly hidden a law not now known but if discovered may be followed by results now undreamt of," declared the writer.

Dr. Hewitt died from pneumonia which followed an operation performed a few days ago in a Paris hospital. His body will be brought to the United States and buried beside that of his distinguished father, Abram Hewitt and his equally distinguished grandfather, Peter Cooper. He died without having mastered the strange problem which the appearance of that bubble in the mercury tube had caused. But he was satisfied that if he were permitted to live would have succeeded.

Dr. Hewitt's death at this time puts an end to important investigations. In his perfectly fitted laboratory in the Madison Square Garden tower he had been experimenting for a year or two hoping that these experiments would be followed by discoveries which would not be only of scientific but also of commercial value.

In conversation Dr. Hewitt frequently spoke of the new era of science now opening and the wonders which await the world after science has demonstrated its capacity to penetrate some of the mysteries of nature. He was inclined to think that science might be of greater value in making war impossible than any political or diplomatic understandings. He thought he foresaw such triumphs of science as would be sure to relegate powder and ball to the warfare scrap heap, because science would provide the means by which armies could be absolutely exterminated, and if extermination were certain no armies could be obtained.

He believed that science ultimately would show the way by which telephonic conversations could be carried on any where at any time by means of a small apparatus perhaps not larger than a watch, which could be carried in the waist coat pocket.

Dr. Hewitt's study of the application of electricity, both to long distance telephoning and to wireless operations, resulted in an invention whose value has not yet been fully recognized. Its use in every long distance telephoning, now perfectly achieved, supplemented in an important manner other inventions, notably that of Carty making it possible to talk between New York and San Francisco with the clearness of enunciation which is the feature of modern short distance telephoning.

Dr. Hewitt inherited wealth and it would have been easy for him to have lived in gentle and scholarly retirement. But he always looked upon his wealth as an aid in the lifework. He was a true grandson intellectually of Peter Cooper. Sometimes he spoke with pride of the fact that Peter Cooper was the first American to construct a locomotive engine. Sometimes he pointed to the modern elevator saying that his grandfather foresaw the perfecting of an elevator system and for that reason caused to be built in Cooper Institute building shafts which some day he said would be sufficient for elevator purposes and which now are thus used.

Columbia University, of which Dr. Hewitt was a graduate, conferred upon him the degree of Doctor of Science and he stood hooded with the symbolic evidence of that degree beside Lord Kelvin and others who were the guests of Columbia at that time. This degree was given to him chiefly because he had discovered and invented the vaporized mercury electric lamp. It was an entirely original discovery and invention of great service, particularly in factory lighting.

LATEST NEWS OF INDUSTRY, TRADE AND FINANCE

FOREIGN TRADE BODY LAUNCHED THROUGH C. OF C.

Luncheon at Hotel Oakland Organization Occasion; Wolf Speaks.

Permanent organization of the Foreign Trade Committee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce was effected at a luncheon in the Hotel Oakland today, following a talk by N. C. Wolf, a San Francisco export expert, of experience in the East Indies.

All the principal manufacturers were represented.

R. C. Force, chairman of the committee, presented the report of the sub-committee on organization, which recommended the appointment by the president of the Chamber of Commerce of an executive committee of five, representative of the leading manufactures of the mainland. The committee also proposed co-operation with the foreign trade department of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce and the Foreign Trade Club of that city to avoid duplicated effort and to obtain harmony in developing the foreign trade of the port.

WOLF'S ADDRESS.

Wolf, who discussed "how to Handle the Export Problems," said American manufacturers had complained about bad results. Others appeared afraid to enter the foreign field.

"I found that they had used, or rather misused, the foreign markets as dumping grounds for their excess production," he said. Some exported articles below standard for local consumption.

"Foreign trade has to have the same attention as local trade, and if properly worked the export part will come in nicely as a stabilizer for those who make articles subject to seasonal demand since as the seasons abroad are not the same as here. For manufacturers who make an article of constant consumption it is advisable to work up a foreign market which will enable them to handle unfavorable conditions when stagnancy is reached in local sales.

TRADEMARK VALUABLE.

"Establish your trademark or your name, and be very careful that your label is suitable for the market to which you intend to export. I could cite you dozens of examples in which an article was not sold owing to unsuitable label.

"Advertising as a business getter of foreign business is just as essential as for the local market, and the manufacturer cannot be too careful in selecting his medium.

Charles S. Greene, city librarian, announced to the committee that the public library had collected a large amount of data for use in investigating foreign markets and that the library would provide any other information needful.

WASHINGTON, Sept 2. — Railroad rates on grain and hay and related products can be reduced 25 per cent if railroad wages in the middle west territory are reduced Clifford Thorne, representing middlewestern shippers, told the interstate commerce commission today. He said the railroads now are considering the proposal and may ask the railroad labor board to make the wage reduction, which would cut their expenses $60,-000,000 after promising to agree to a rate reduction.

BUSINESS and FINANCE

Oakland's building permits in August met expectations. On the report of the city building inspector today they shot up practically $700.000 over the July total and increased 160 in number. Simultaneously the final week of the month ran ahead of the preceding week by some $350,000, plainly influenced by the better situation in the labor conditions.

A table of comparisons shows:

Week Aug. 24	153	$231,911
Week Aug. 31	138	584,660
August total	652	1,852,609
July total	492	1,162,628
Increase	160	$689,981

Review of the month shows that 161 new dwellings were started not including several flats and apartments of multiple dwellings.

The largest permit of the week of August 31 was $430,000 for the new Regillus apartments at Nineteenth and Jackson streets for which bonds have just been sold after being underwritten by Straus & Co.

Simultaneously bank clearings for August, on report of the clearing house to the chamber of commerce, showed an increase of $3,028,120 over July and of $2,216,645 over August, 1920

The following table discloses the trend of clearings for the month:

GENERAL PETROLEUM CALM OVER REPORT.

It was without marked market change aside from a fractional reaction that General Petroleum today faced the publication of its annual report which, while apparently showing the largest business in the company's history, still left some significant points to account to the sharp reactions on the stock.

Quoted at 76 bid, 76½ asked at the close of the morning session, the issue had marked a high of 77¼ in the trading. About 125 shares had changed hands at fractional variations between this point and 76¼ as low.

Opinion was divided over the report which gave ground for reflection in that it did not include the latest heavy contraction due to oil price declines, although very heavy depletion figures were included. This latest oil price decline, figured as a 20 per cent contraction on the basis of the $6,357,000 storage oil valuation of the report might be considered to cause a shrinkage of about $1,270,000.

Against a gross income of $14,280,-260 the company's report rendered by President John Barneson shows income charges footing $7,963,204 for depletion, loss in abandoned leases and other items, but including interest and depreciation. The net income is figured as $4,185,540.

The statement shows oil production of 5,327,327 barrels, an increase of 1,064,862. Included is 313,490 barrels, the company's Mexican production.

Recapitulation follows:
Gross profit—$14,280,260.

Total		4,473,436.28
Profit and loss surplus, June 30, 1921		$5,717,510.01

In rendering the report President Barneson says in part:

After the payment of dividends at 12 per cent on common and 7 per cent on preferred stock, $2,933,997, there was added to profit and loss surplus during the year of $1,251,-348. In determining these earnings there has been deducted $925,-857 for shrinkage in value of oil in storage, $3,351,814 to cover abandoned properties, including areas in the northern fields of Mexico which have gone to water, $2,767,378 for depreciation and depletion, and $1,218,849.94 for labor and incidental expenses in drilling. These and other miscellaneous deductions aggregate slightly over $10,000,000. Neither do these earnings include $3,560,997.28 from the United States on the adjustment of the controversy over land titles. This item is necessarily omitted on account of the uncertainties still existing as to the method of accounting for this sum in the income tax returns.

STRONG FISCAL REPORT MADE BY PACIFIC GAS.

Gross earnings of Pacific Gas and Electric in the first seven months of the year exceeded the entire revenue of any single year the company has had previous to 1918 and was $2,702,-319 larger than for the same period last year, it is shown in a statement today. The full 5 per cent dividend paid by the company for the year was earned in the 7 months. The gross fo rthe period was $21,654,527.

In issuing the statement President Hockenbeamer points out that of the advance over the same period last year $1,245,066, or approximately one-half, was absorbed by increased operating expenses

"The constant addition of new capital required by additions and extensions to the company's system incidental to its uninterrupted growth is reflected by the increase of $256,863 in bond interest and of $196,186 in preferred stock dividends," says a statement.

"After taking care of these additional charges, however, there remained a balance after the payment of preferred stock dividends of $1,637,711, or $177,400 more than during the same period of 1920. The company's Plants and Properties account at July 31, 1921, stood at $171,-691,171, an increase since January 1, 1920, of $20,836,567, representing cash cost of additions, betterments and improvements during the period covered by the above comparison.

The report for the seven months to July 31 shows.

	1921	Increase
Gross earng's	$21,654,527	$2,702,319
Maintenance and operating exp. includ. Federal taxes, reserves and collectible accounts	11,021,057	1,342,066

Depreciation	1,983,333	359,217
Pfd dividends	1,215,103	196,186
Com dividends	991,785
Balance	$1,645,926	$ 477,400

A statement of the company for July alone including operations of the Mt Shasta Power Corporation shows $2,987,311 gross or a decrease of $37,233. The balance for the month, however, $179,799, was at an increase of $41,692. The decrease in gross is the net result of the recent reduction of 9 per cent in electric rates coupled with a smaller seasonal demand for electric energy for irrigation purposes as compared with July, 1920. A significant feature of the July statement was a reduction of $193,220 in operating expenses, resulting in a gain of $156,987 in net income during the month.

WESTERN PACIFIC'S JULY UNDER LAST YEAR.

Operating revenues of the Western Pacific reported for July today were $1,018,000 as against $1,433,000 last year. Operating expenses, however, were cut from $254,000 to $856,000, so that the net operating revenue stood $162,277 for the month. For the month the road carried to surplus only $1649 as against $318,000 in the same month last year.

MAIL ORDER ISSUES SHOW INCREASES.

Sears, Roebuck advanced 3 points on the Chicago market today on improvement of August sales over July. Montgomery, Ward also reflected the improvement in the mail order business.

NEW YORK OPINIONS

By E. F. HUTTON & CO. WIRE.

Summary—The Federal Reserve Board's weekly statement shows the reserve bank's ratio advanced from 66.5 to 66.8 per cent. Federal Reserve Bank of New York ratio advanced from 74.6 to 75.5 per cent.

Trunk lines file lower rates on products from Pittsburg to Pacific points averaging 40 per cent.

President Seger, of United States Rubber succeeds late Calonel Colt as chairman of the board. Will remain as president.

International Paper Company and Canadian Export Company cut news print prices to 4 cents a pound, reduction of ⅝c from prices in third quarter.

New York Fnancial News—With a deficit of $310,000 reported in the first seven months of the current year, the latest advance in Pittsburg and West Virginia is looked upon skeptically in brokerage circles, where it is pointed out that preferred stock earned only $4.76 last year. It is noteworthy, howeevr, that the government has settled with the road regarding war claims, with payment pending of $1,800,000.

New York Sun—A sharp rally in prices on the stock exchange today lifted many stocks one to three points and completed a week of discomfiture for the bear party, which had things so much its own way during the first three weeks of August. At today's best prices many industrial stocks were up six to twelve points from their lows of a week ago, this recovery being the most substantial and best held of any since last spring. And has been the case all along, there was very little in the day's news to explain the bidding for stocks.

Stocks reached their best prices in the last hour in more animated trading than has been witnessed in many weeks. The advance in cotton was continued, the market still being under the influence of yesterday bad condition report.

WOOL MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 2—Wool, quiet. Domestic fleece, XX Ohio, 23@38c; pulled scoured basis 18@67c; Texas, scoured basis, 40@85c, territory staple, scoured, 55@85c.

STRONG UPTURN FELT IN OILS ON N. Y. EXCHANGE

Shorts Cover Elsewhere on List for Three-Day Holiday.

NEW YORK, Sept 2—On indication of a deadlock in the conference now under way in Mexico City, Mexican Petroleum recorded an early loss of 3¼. Panama fell one point and the "B" stock two points. Other foreign oils were strong General Asphalt gained 2¼ and Royal Dutch one point.

Mexican Petroleum recovered all but a fraction of its loss before noon on the further rise of European oils and asphalt, the latter extending its gain to 3 points. Elsewhere shorts evidently deemed it expedient to reduce their commitments over the coming holidays. Covering of such contracts in steels, equipments, motors and their accessories, tobaccos, sugars and chemicals effected advances of one to four points. Rails and shippings shared in the rally, especially the Pacifics, St Paul preferred and Mercantile Marine preferred. Call money opened at 5 per cent, that rate also applying to loans extending into next week.

Trading broadened at midday and the further rally lifted Mexican Petroleum slightly over yesterday's final price. Baldwin Locomotive, Harvester, Vanadium, Kelly Springfield, Virginia-Carolina Chemical, United Drug and Famous Players showed gains of 1½ to 2½ points.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Trading in wheat was much broader on the Board of Trade today, prices opening ½c off to ¾c higher. Active selling forced a break of ⅜c of from yesterday's finish but early offerings were readily absorbed by the pit element and prices advanced sharply 1¾c over the early low. Wheat opened at $1.25¼ to $1.25½ for September, $1.27 for December and $1.30¼ to $1.31 for May. Selling continued, however, and another setback was recorded and at the end of the first hour the prices were back to about the opening figures.

Active selling, combined with profit taking sales, made for a weaker and lower market, after a fair advance early. When December went around to $1.28 there was heavy selling by houses with northwestern connections and the market reacted 2¼@2½c from the early high. The close was 1c to 1¾c under the opening, with September at $1.24, December at $1.25¼ to $1.25½ and May at $1.29¾.

Corn displayed some firmness, opening 1-8c off to 1-8c higher than yesterday's finish, but showing an advanced first hour. September opened at 55; December at 54⅝c, and May at 58¼c. The market followed wheat, however, in breaking sharply and at the end of the first hour was back to opening figures after being up 3-8 to ½c.

Oats opened a shade to 1c higher with September at 35½c; December at 38 5-8 to 38¾c and May at 42 5-8c.

Provisions were stronger on the unusually large decrease in stocks of lard for the month and reports of large export sales.

Corn, No 2, mixed, 55¼@56¼c; No. 2, yellow, 55½@57c.
Rye, No 2, $1.05.
Barley, 55@68c.
Timothy Seed, $4@5.
Clover Seed, $13@19.
The close:
Wheat, September, $1.24; December, $1.25¼.
Corn, September, 53¾; December, 53½c.
Oats, September, 34⅞c; December 38c.
Pork, September, $17.50
Lard, September $11.90; October, $12
Ribs, September, $9; October, $9.15

COAST TO COAST FREIGHT RATES TO GET SHARP SLASH

Reductions of From 20 to 100 Per Cent Promised; West To Gain Advantage.

Many new reductions of 20 to 100 per cent in transcontinental freight rates soon will be effective on all railroads. Most of them apply to westbound traffic. The reductions, said by traffic agents of the trunk lines here to be voluntary, follow as applying to all units of 100 pounds:

The present import rate on green coffee from Pacific coast ports to eastern destinations, will be reduced from $1.06½ to 90 cents a 100 pounds, in carload lots, the minimum weight also to be reduced from 80,000 pounds to 40,000 pounds, and a special rate of 80 cents will also be published to Chicago and points west, with the higher minimum of 80,000 pounds. Before publishing the 90-cent rate, the concurrence of lines operating east of Chicago must be obtained.

Metal bottles, insulated or jacketed, less carload lots, will be given the same rating as glass insulated bottles, the rate on which ranges for $7.25½ from New York and Atlantic seaboard to $5.35½ from Chicago, and $4.69 from Denver, and will mean reduction of $6.07½ from New York, $5.87½ from Chicago and $3.44 from Denver.

The present minimum weight of 46,000 pounds on carload shipments of leather from Chicago and points west to Pacific coast ports for export, is being reduced to 30,000 pounds.

Effective October 3, the following reductions in westbound trans-continental rates will be made:

Poultry feeders, waterers and poultry house scrapers will be reduced to $2.58½ from Atlantic seaboard, $2.25½ from Chicago, $2.00 from Kansas City and $1.87½ from Denver, on carload shipments. Gummed paper will be permitted shipment in mixed carloads with paper bags and wrapping paper, and rate will be reduced on carload lot to $2.08½ from Atlantic seaboard, $1.75½ from Chicago, $1.66½ from Kansas City and $1.56½ from Denver. Strip steel will be reduced to $3 less carload and $1.83½ carload from Atlantic seaboard, $2.50 L. C. L, and $1.50 C. L., from Chicago, $2.50 L. C. L. and $1.25½ C. L. from Kansas City, $1.95½ L. C. L. and $1.17½ C. L. from Denver.

Rosin sizing, in barrels, carload lots, will be reduced to $1.60½ per cwt. from Atlantic seaboard; $1.50 from Pittsburgh district, $1.42 from Detroit district. Rate on shipments in tank cars will be $1.08½ higher per hundred pounds than these rates.

New carload rates on furniture subject to certain valuation restrictions will be published as follows:

Bedroom furniture, $3.89½ from Atlantic seaboard, $3.55½ from Chicago, $3.33½ from Kansas City and $2.74 from Denver. Dining room furniture, $3.57½ from Atlantic seaboard, $3.46 from Chicago, $3.05½ from Kansas City and $2.50 from Denver. Kitchen cabinets $3.33½ from Atlantic seaboard, $2.92 from Chicago, $2.66½ from Kansas City and $2.50 from Denver.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 2. — The cotton market had another big opening today and showed an advance of 26 to 40 points on first sales. This was followed by further sharp upturns after the call on heavy continental and Liverpool buying, to which was added commission house buying on a big scale. All months but October were above the 18-cent level this morning. Trade buying was also in evidence at the start, while Liverpool cables showed pronounced strength. The selling was mostly from the south and from longs taking profits over the holiday. At the end of the first fifteen minutes the market was active and still strong at about 5 to 7 points net higher on December contracts.

A strong buying movement developed late in the afternoon, on which prices broke into new high grounds for the season. The close was strong at a net advance of 52 to 68 points.

BRISK TRADING IN FRUIT, PRODUCE FEATURES MARKET

Melons and Green Corn Show Signs of Weakness, Other Products Strong.

The Oakland market experienced brisk trading in produce and fruit lines today, all houses making active turnovers on good deliveries. The week has shown a tendency toward improvement, and hope is expressed that the period of late summer dullness is ended.

The weakest spot in the market continued in Melons, where the supply is steadily outrunning demand, notwithstanding declarations of shippers that they could not continue at prevailing low quotations. In produce the only weakening of consequence was on sweet corn, which sold at about $2.50 a sack.

Fancy peaches, which arrived from river areas, sold actively. A shipment of 1100 boxes nearly two carloads, came by boat from the river orchards of L. W. Meyers at Grand Island. These peaches, all firsts, was probably the largest No. 1 offering of the year. Lugs continue to bring up to $2.25. Canneries throughout this area are operating heavily in peaches, one of the largest Oakland plants devoting almost its whole time to the crop at present.

Active operations have been started by the new Turlock Sweet Potato Growers' Association, which has priced its offerings, claimed to represent four-fifths of the crop, at an advance of 25 cents a hundred. Shipments are being started at once at $2.75. The operations of the association will not greatly affect the local market for sweets, which are selling at a prevailing quotation of 3½ cents.

Ripening of tomatoes continues to be slow, retarding cannery plans and sustaining about an even price locally. Market judges believe that it will be another week before tomatoes hit a stronger delivery stride.

Limited quantities of prunes are being offered now. The market has been fairly active, one firm disposing of 30 boxes yesterday. French prunes are bringing from $1.75 to $2, while German prunes, which are more sought after, are commanding from 15 to 25 cents better than that range.

BUSINESS REVIVAL PREDICTION BORNE OUT BY ACTIVITY

Bond Houses in Chicago Now Down To Low Level; Many Cities Reported On.

By A. D. WELTON.
BY CONSOLIDATED PRESS.
Special to The Oakland TRIBUNE.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—The prediction that revival from the recent period of business depression would bring an accumulation of capital for investment is being realized. Never have investment houses in Chicago been so bare of offerings. One concern which usually has twenty million in bond issues in process of sale, is down to six millions in offerings and new bonds are being snapped up by investors.

Business energy in this section now is directed to the selling of more goods and the reducing of prices to a point where sales can be increased. Reduction of prices without serious loss of profits involves reduction of production costs and in this the wage rate of labor is only one item.

Liquidation of debts by farmers is making some progress but these obligations were incurred when price levels were higher and money from this year's crop will not cover all this indebtedness. Canned goods are moving slowly despite short supply, but drygoods jobbers report better buying and more inquiries.

NEW ORLEANS

By I. V. SHANNON.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 2.—The fear of cheap cotton has been lifted from the South. Although it is predicted that the government will estimate the yield in the neighborhood of 7,000,000 bales Setpember 1, a shrinkage of 1,000,000 bales within a month's time, this is viewed with satisfaction because it is felt that the price of cotton is assured for the next two years by the shortage of production.

Cotton shortage, increased by weather conditions and weevil, has brought a price advance of $15 a bale.

Business conditions continue to grow better. Some wholesalers report that they have done the best business during the buyers' convention in progress this week, since the boom days of the war period. Retail trade has fallen off in the neighborhood of 18 per cent this month, but this is due to the unusually hot weather.

PHILADELPHIA

By FRANK D. McLAIN.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2.—The industrial situation in this section is improving, as is shown by gradual reduction of unemployment. In this city there are now only about 65,000 unemployed, or about 22 per cent of the normal working force in leading industries. Local rug and carpet manufacturers are again operating their plants after months of idleness. At the Harlan yard of the Bethlehem Steel Company full time will be resumed next week. The Baldwin Locomotive Works have $8,000,000 in unfilled orders.

Resumption of private building operations is very slow. A strike of 5000 garment workers against a cut of 25 per cent in wages is threatened.

Three hundred sloops and schooners are being put in readiness in southern New Jersey for the opening of the oyster season September 1. New Jersey farmers now are shipping splendid crops of melons to nearby markets.

COMMODITY NEWS

OIL.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The twenty-one Standard Oil tankers which have been lying idle in the Hudson river will be moved to Chesapeake bay, but this move, officials state, has not been decided on in expectation of the immediate adjustment of Mexican oil tax disputes.

SEATTLE, Sept. 2.—All the ocean transportation companies in the Pacific Northwest are figuring on the movement of 11,000,000 feet of railway ties for the new government railroad in China.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Leather hand bags and traveling bags are reported to be in excellent demand among retailers.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 2.—Herman Schmidt, American representative of the Deutsche Bank, declared that Germany, through the Hugo Stinnes interests, has sold 1,000,000 tons of steel in this country.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Sept. 2.—The Boston & Albany repair shops, which have been closed since June 15, have put 300 men at work on motive power equipment.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Need of advertising was stressed in a recent report to the Sterling Silverwear Manufacturers' Association in order to create an increased demand.

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 2.—The non-ferrous metal trades in New England continued lethargic this week. Many plants are closed.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—There is very little consumer interest manifested in the copper market, but the price is so low now that many dealers believe it would require only a small buying movement to strengthen prices.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 2.—Wholesale dry goods dealers report that merchants are stocking for winter on a liberal scale, because no further price reductions are expected.

ALONG the WATERFRONT

The steamer Edna has finished unloading her large cargo of railroad ties at the Western Pacific mole and proceeded to sea again. She will go to Gray's Harbor for a lumber cargo. The Edna is a steel craft of 950 tons register, and carries a cargo of 1,250,000 feet of lumber. She is owned by Sudden & Christensen.

The tanker Lubrico recently completed at the Moore's shipyard, Oakland, has been towed to East Oakland where she will remain until chartered. She was built for the United States Shipping Board, and was launched June 15.

The British steamer Chancellor, which has been loading grain at Albers Mill, West Oakland, has completed her cargo there and was taken to the other side of the bay, where she will take on some other cargo and leave for Liverpool. She arrived here August 28, having among other articles in her cargo 600 tons of raw coffee, which was unloaded at this port.

With five thousand tons of coal, the Japanese steamer docked at the King Coal Company's bunkers, Oakland, yesterday, and began to unload this morning. She arrived in port on August 30, from the Orient, and is the fourth Japanese steamer to bring coal here from the Orient during the past few weeks. After unloading her coal here, she will proceed to Portland where she will load a cargo of lumber for Japan. Almost twenty-eight thousand tons of Japanese coal has been brought to Oakland Harbor by these four steamers, and several other Japanese steamers are on their way here with similar cargoes.

The steamer Solano, which left Callao on August 20 arrived at Balboa for repairs. She was reported damaged and will go on the drydock for a survey.

Another large consignment of lumber reached here today from the north amounting to over three million feet of lumber and 14,000 railroad ties. There are over 6,000,000 feet of lumber besides laths and shingles en route to this port, which will arrive before the week ends.

Change of masters registered at the United States Custom House:

Captain N. A. Nielsen, steamer Wilmington; Captain F. O. Parker, steamer Celestial; Captain Peter Larsen, steamer F. S. Loop, Captain H. Ehlers, tanker Santa Paula; Captain G. W. Gove, steam tug Sea Lion; Captain Neils Nielsen, ship Moshulu.

NEWS OF STYLES

BY CONSOLIDATED PRESS.
Special to THE TRIBUNE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Somber tones in women's costumes for fall are lacking, designers who have just returned from the Paris openings, say. In the brightest season since the beginning of the war, Egyptian, Japanese, Chinese and Spanish motifs have been utilized for materials and trimmings. Evening frocks are being made in red velvet, silver cloth and copper, lavishly decorated with beaded crystals which have a mirror back arrangement to add to the luster. These trimmings are supplemented by appliques in self and contrasting material, ribbons and skunk and monkey furs.

Petticoats are more popular than in a design for wear in the boudoir as part of a neglige costume. Solid colors in both petticoats and pantalettes, among them black, navy, brown, taupe and dark green, are favored for years with street gowns. The pantalettes are made in both ankle and knee lengths and one manufacturer asserts that where he once made a thousand different styles of petticoats now he makes a thousand pantalettes compared with 300 petticoats.

The new polo coats in London are the smartest of the new wraps for travel, motoring or sports wear. They are made of brushed wool and combine a coat and cape in a loose fitting coatee which reaches to the knees. They are trimmed with enormous patch pockets and a long roll collar and are produced in any number of shades from bright yellow to a dark blue and grays.

When it comes to blouse sleeves it is difficult to say either where they begin or where they leave off. This is especially true of the models designed to be worn indoors and without outer covering. The development of sleeve width has now extended from the slightly widened armhole to one that in some cases seems to grow out of the waist line or even below it. There is also an increased amount of drooped shoulder effect and some sleeves droop far below the hand in streamers or floating draperies.

NAVY MEN GOSSIP OVER CHANGES AT MARE ISLAND YARD

Appointment of Admiral to Job of Commandant Interpreted Various Ways.

Until further announcement is made in Washington navy circles on the Pacific will continue to be stirred by many angles of possible significance in the appointment of Rear Admiral J. S. McKean as commandant of the Mare Island navy yard.

The sudden shift in commandants at the yards came without a word of warning and removed Captain E. L. Beach, who has served there since January 22, 1919. The questions that arise are: Is McKean being promoted or demoted, and what is to be done to Captain Beach.

According to the well defined story, Admiral McKean will command both Mare Island and the Twelfth Naval District and Rear Admiral A. S. Halstead will be given the command McKean has just vacated, as head of the sixth division of the Pacific fleet This would be one of the most responsible positions ever given to a naval officer on the Pacific and would indicate McKean's standing in the service. It is pointed out that Admiral McKean was a member of the commission that discovered the Alameda naval base site, that he was an important witness before Congress in the preparedness investigation, and that he has been an outspoken champion of adequate naval strength.

PROMOTION FOR BEACH?

Concerning the removal of Captain Beach, it is yet to be learned whether or not the change is as a reward or reprimand. It has been intimated that he drew some disfavor at Washington by his ardent participation in the naval base controversy and that the higher officials in the navy considered that he had appeared as a partisan before the naval board and elsewhere. On the other hand it is said that his record in the World war, where he received the distinguished service cross while in command of the Newport, R. I. torpedo station and while in command of the battleship New York, which saw service in the North Sea, may have resulted in a promotion.

Captain Beach was in command of the armored cruiser Memphis when it was destroyed by a tidal wave in August, 1916. He was tried by court martial and reduced five ranks by the secretary of the navy, but was later restored to the rank of captain.

NAVY BASE DEVELOPMENT.

Admiral McKean will be the first admiral ever placed in command of the navy yards and this departure is taken to mean extensive development of facilities in San Francisco bay as the home of the Pacific fleet. Admiral McKean was born in Ohio in 1864 and was commissioned as a naval officer in 1879. Since 1913, when he was commissioned a captain, he has taken prominent part in naval affairs. In 1919 he was named assistant chief of naval operations and transferred to the staff of Admiral E. W. Eberle, commander of the Pacific fleet, in July of this year.

The first news of the change in commandants at Mare Island came in a letter from Congressman Charles Curry. At Mare Island and Vallejo the news was received as meaning that San Francisco bay is to be the center of fleet activities and that the yard is to be developed and made increasingly important. Plans are being considered for a farewell testimonial to Captain Beach.

CLEARING OF BAY OF ROCKS URGED

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2. — In order to retain the headquarters of the Pacific fleet in San Francisco, it will be necessary to clear the bay of projecting rocks in the channel.

That was the statement of Admiral E. W. Eberle, commander of the Pacific division of the United States Navy, when he spoke yesterday before the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce at a special luncheon given in honor of the officers of the Pacific fleet now riding anchor in man o' war row.

Eberle urged that the people of San Francisco get busy and bring about the blasting out of the rock obstacles which he declared are dangerous to battleships entering and leaving the bay. He suggested that the work might be done by Army engineers. He advocated the blowing out of Blossom rock, which lies midway between Alcatraz and Goat island. He said that this rock would tend to hinder development of the harbor in case it is decided definitely that a great naval operating base is to be undertaken here.

$40,000 Securities Lost On Stage Ride

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 2. — Authorities of two counties today were enlisted in a search for negotiable securities worth between $30,000 and $40,000 which were lost by D. H. Seinn last night while a passenger on an auto stage between here and Lodi. Seinn has no idea as to how the papers were taken.

Merit Awards Distributed Among Piedmont Boy Scouts

About 350 fathers, sons and others interested in the Boy Scout movement attended the fall rally, dinner and reunion of the Piedmont council last night at the Interdenominational church, in Piedmont. Practically every member of the five troops forming the Piedmont council, which is the smallest first-class council of Boy Scouts in America, and their fathers attended.

Former Governor James N. Gillett of California addressed the Scouts, following dinner served by mothers of members of the five troops. Gillett's address was a heart-to-heart talk with the boys and their fathers. His subject was "My Impressions of Scouting."

The ideals that a boy must strive to attain in order that he succeed in reaching the goal that every red-blooded boy has in mind—that of doing some one thing a little better than anyone else—were expressed by Gillett.

BOYS ON RIGHT ROAD.

"Give me the American boy of today, the boy who is endeavoring to get the very best out of life, and give me many of them and I'll promise that in the future generation this country will stand safe and sound against any dangers that might venture our way," said Gillett, who appealed to the boys to stand firm for patriotism and for all that is right. He said that with the present generation of boys, the majority of whom are starting right, that our country in the future will see a marked advancement. The troubles within our borders today, he said, are due to the failure of this country to provide the proper organizations for the training of the boys of yesterday, who are the men of today."

The rally was opened with an invocation delivered by the Rev. Charles D. Milliken, pastor of the church. Wallace M. Alexander, president of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, and president of the Piedmont Boy Scouts, acted as toastmaster at the dinner. Alexander and former Governor Gillett came to California the same year in the early nineties, and last night's meeting also served as a reunion of the two old friends.

Others who spoke were Scout Commissioner W. J. Barrett, Charles N. Miller, regional field executive, and George E. Kenelpp, Scout executive for the council.

AWARDS PRESENTED.

A feature of the rally and dinner was the presentation of awards won by the different Scouts at Camp Redwood, the summer camp of the Piedmont troops, conducted at Camp Meeker in Sonoma county, and the reading of a letter from the state board of forestry, highly commending the troop for its activities in fighting a forest fire near Camp Meeker, on July 4, last.

Those receiving the awards won in camp, which were presented by W. W. Saint, chairman of the camp committee, were as follows:

Eagle Scout badges (highest rank in scouting), Joe G. Moore, Troop 2; Clarence Chichester, Troop 2; James Tyson Jr., Troop 1. Star Scout badges (second highest rank), presented to Fred Anderson, Harleigh O'Brien, both of Troop 2, and Sterling Rounthwaite of Troop 3. A Waltham wrist watch was presented to Eagle Scout James Tyson by Horace H. Miller, vice-president of the Piedmont Council, for obtaining more merits at camp than any other Scout.

FRENCH TENOR IS RECITAL FEATURE

By ROY HARRISON DANFORTH.

The University of California musical season opened pleasantly with a recital last evening at Wheeler hall by M. Antoine de Vally, a French tenor, with the assistance of Mlle. Jeanne Feront. Ordinarily one does not say that a recitalist is of this or that nationality, but mentioning it this time is quite apropos. The program was entirely French, the singer equally so, in his mien, his tongue, his bearing, his method.

For M. de Vally is a polished singer, and that is the first thing one expects a Frenchman to be. Thereafter he should be suave, graceful, assured; armed with limitless finesse. All of these is M. de Vally. He has, too, a feeling for emotional qualities which comports well with his other Gallicisms and stood him in particularly good stead in several of his songs.

These began with Gluck and followed French singing chronologically through Gretry and Weber to two modern groups. A recitative and aria from "Iphigenie en Tauride," the prayer and succeeding aria from "Oberon," the irresistible "Dream Song" from "Manon" and Don Jose's "Flower Song" were of a kind, lent themselves admirably to the half-voice to which M. de Vally shows a leaning, and which is almost always pleasing. "Le Reve" I have seldom heard sung as exquisitely.

M. de Vally started the program with some trepidation, but this quickly disappeared. Beyond an occasional unsteadiness on some of the higher notes and a somewhat blurred attack in one or two places, his singing was all praiseworthy. It was singing that meant something—which is one of the surest tests of quality after all.

Mlle. Feront made an evident and deserved impression upon her auditors. The Chopin Berceuse was played in an unusually steady tempo, but with much delicacy. A greater chance to display technical abilities was afforded her in a valse caprice by Saint-Saens, which was deftly and potently played. Mlle. Feront offers a solid pianism, upon which she may be expected to build with equal soundness.

The Russians have been increasing faster than any other race.

RAT ARMY GIVEN DEATH BLOWS ON WESTERN FLANK

Poisoned Edibles Spread Over Waterfront Garbage Dumps Rapidly Consumed.

Casualties on the western waterfront amounted to 75 yesterday with indications for a better figure today, according to a report tendered early yesterday afternoon to the health department as a result of the rat-poisoning campaign.

More than 1000 toothsome edibles flavored with phosphorus and other poisons have been spread over the waterfront garbage dump in the last two days and indications are that these delicacies are meeting with a good reception by the rat population. Dead rats are now beginning to appear all over the garbage dump.

A survey by the health department estimates that there are 10,000 rats at or near the dump, and it is believed that the colony can be exterminated before the dredging operations drive them toward the city.

FEES FOR CIRCUS PARADES REDUCED BY CITY COUNCIL

Old Prohibitory Rate of $200 Reduced to $25 and Up, According to Size.

An old "spite ordinance" against out of town circuses was amended today by the city council, which reduced the license for parades from the old $200 figure to anything from $25 to $150, depending on the seating capacity of the show.

The original ordinance, according to City Attorney Leon Gray, was put in effect when a circus moved into Emeryville. The $200 license was intended to prevent the offending circus from parading here. A coming circus, which arrives October 3, alleged injustice and said it should have the privilege of parading into Oakland without paying an extortionate rate.

Circuses which show in Oakland will also pay from $25 to $150 hereafter, and its parades will be free. The coming circus, at Emeryville, will pay $50 for its 5000 seating capacity, irrespective of the Emeryville charge.

By motion of Commissioner Colbourn an ordinance was passed to print raising the penalty for license violations from $100 to $500 as the maximum, or 250 days in jail. Colbourn said there has been some trouble about evasions of the license law and he desired something which has "teeth." The new ordinance, which must yet be given final passage, allows minimum sentences as low as $1. The present maximum is $100.
